Loss Of A Life Partner Narratives Of The Bereaved:

The Loss of a Life Partner Carolyn Ambler Walter, 2003-03-05 Although there is extensive research on the loss of a spouse predominantly focusing on the experiences of widows much less attention is paid to bereaved partners not married to their significant other whether or not the partners are of the same sex This first of its kind work explores both socially sanctioned and disenfranchised grief highlighting similarities and differences Combining a discussion of various theories of grief with personal narratives of grieving men and women drawn from numerous interviews and detailed case study analysis Carolyn Ambler Walter has produced a penetrating examination of the bereavement experiences of partners in varying types of relationships She views narratives of widows widowers and bereaved domestic gay and lesbian partners from a postmodern perspective that breaks away from the traditional belief that the living must detach themselves from the dead in order to move on with their lives Instead building on the works of postmodern grief theorists such as Klass Silverman and Nickman Walter views ongoing bonds with the dead as a resource for enriching functionality in the present and as a key to looking to the future

The Loss of a Life Partner Carolyn Ambler Walter, 2003 Through discussions of various theories of grief narratives of the bereaved obtained in interviews with 22 men and women case study analysis and chapter summaries this text integrates the literature about and the bereavement experiences of partners in varying types of relationships

The Therapist in Mourning Anne Adelman, Kerry Malawista, 2013-06-04 The unexpected loss of a client can be a lonely and isolating experience for therapists While family and friends can ritually mourn the deceased the nature of the therapeutic relationship prohibits therapists from engaging in such activities Practitioners can only share memories of a client in circumscribed ways while respecting the patient's confidentiality Therefore they may find it difficult to discuss the things that made the therapeutic relationship meaningful Similarly when a therapist loses someone in their private lives they are expected to isolate themselves from grief since allowing one's personal life to enter the working relationship can interfere with a client's self discovery and healing For therapists caught between their grief and the empathy they provide for their clients this collection explores the complexity of bereavement within the practice setting It also examines the professional and personal ramifications of death and loss for the practicing clinician Featuring original essays from longstanding practitioners the collection demonstrates the universal experience of bereavement while outlining a theoretical framework for the position of the bereft therapist Essays cover the unexpected death of clients and patient suicide personal loss in a therapist's life the grief of clients who lose a therapist disastrous loss within a community and the grief resulting from professional losses and disruptions The first of its kind this volume gives voice to long suppressed thoughts and emotions enabling psychologists psychiatrists counselors and other mental health specialists to achieve the connection and healing they bring to their own work

Living, Loving and Loss Brad DeFord, Richard Gilbert, 2016-12-05 One of the unspoken aspects of mourning concerns the ways that loss affects our intimate relationships and our sexual expressiveness This text

opens these subjects for conversation with the aim of promoting the trust care and respect that enable us to be vulnerable It purposefully covers a range of topics including 1 the meaning of intimacy and the significance of sexuality providing a basis for the use of these terms throughout the book 2 death grief and differences in sexual orientation including death and intimacy in the lesbian gay bisexual and transgender LGBT community and the losses endured by young people due to gender issues 3 loss of relationship and restoration of intimacy in families including pharmacological effects on the grief processes of widowers grieving a not so loved parent the layered losses of infertility and intimacy and the tolls of war intimacy and sexuality challenges for soldiers and their families 4 adjusting to life s losses associated with aging or illness or infirmity including Alzheimer s and dementia related illnesses physical health losses after 50 and intimacy sex and hospice self determination and dignity at the end of life and 5 religious bases that have shaped our perspectives for understanding intimacy sexuality and healing after loss and which give us hope including the spiritual reflections of a rabbi and a Christian voice in defining what is right Set in a framework that is both psychological and spiritual the well researched contributions are intended to acknowledge these experiences both professionally and personally The book concludes with an extensive bibliography valuable for research and reference This book will be of value in undergraduate and graduate courses on thanatology as well as for anyone interested in knowing more about grief both those currently bereaved and those who wish to support others in mourning The contributors appreciate both the importance of our capacities for intimacy and sexuality and our inhibitions and hesitations in giving voice to our needs and concerns perhaps especially when we are grieving The information and compassionate understanding they provide encourage us to bridge the gap between the secret and the private and to share what is close to our hearts

Living Through Loss Nancy R. Hooyman, Betty J. Kramer, Sara Sanders, 2021-08-31 Living Through Loss provides a foundational identification of the many ways in which people experience loss over the life course from childhood to old age It examines the interventions most effective at each phase of life combining theory sound clinical practice and empirical research with insights emerging from powerful accounts of personal experience The authors emphasize that loss and grief are universal yet highly individualized Loss comes in many forms and can include not only a loved one s death but also divorce adoption living with chronic illness caregiving retirement and relocation or being abused assaulted or otherwise traumatized They approach the topic from the perspective of the resilience model which acknowledges people s capacity to find meaning in their losses and integrate grief into their lives The book explores the varying roles of age race culture sexual orientation gender and spirituality in responses to loss Presenting a variety of models approaches and resources Living Through Loss offers invaluable lessons that can be applied in any practice setting by a wide range of human service and health care professionals This second edition features new and expanded content on diversity and trauma including discussions of gun violence police brutality suicide and an added focus on systemic racism

Trauma Counseling Lisa Lopez Levers, 2012-03-15 A worthy addition to a graduate training bookshelf I was a bit daunted by the large almost 600 page book that landed on my desk but once I started reading it I had a hard time putting it down

Melanie D Hetzel Riggins PhD Penn State Journal of Trauma and Dissociation This book is heavy in weight and heavy in substance It may be that you will not read this book from cover to cover but it is likely that you will jump in and out and often

Illness Crisis and Loss Lisa Lopez Levens work delivers an important contribution to enable beginning professionals to be familiarised with the basics of trauma and to provide specialists with her hidden gems of insight Her decision to cover trauma in its broadest sense allows her textbook to provide innovative insights into real world concepts such as hate racism oppression and evil in respect to trauma

Intervention Trauma Counseling is a comprehensive multidisciplinary guide to the theory and treatment of survivors of a broad spectrum of traumatic events including interpersonal violence hate crimes school violence community violence natural disasters and war and terrorism It is written by a Fulbright scholar who is internationally recognized for her work with traumatized populations in Rwanda several southern African countries Russia and the United States It also includes the contributions of researchers from the United States Australia Africa and Europe

The book discusses evidence based trauma assessment and intervention techniques and integrates the latest findings from neuropsychology and psychopharmacology It focuses on issues of loss and grief survivorship and disability genocide natural disasters the impact of war on civilians and veterans and the distinct effects of trauma in early childhood childhood and adolescence Also addressed are ethical perspectives and methods of self care for counselors who work with this population

The text will be of value to graduate counseling students and professional counselors as well as social workers psychologists psychiatric nurses and other human service providers who will be able to attend to trauma survivors with a depth of knowledge and confidence

The contents of Trauma Counseling not only fulfill but exceed the requirements of The Council of Accreditation and Counseling and Related Educational Program CACREP standards

Key Features Addresses the theory and treatment of trauma survivors of interpersonal violence hate crimes school violence community violence natural disasters and war and terrorism Provides a multidisciplinary approach to treatment that integrates findings from neuropsychology and psychopharmacology Includes evidence based counseling techniques Illuminates the intersections of trauma crisis and disaster issues exceeding related requirements of CACREP standards Examines ethical dimensions and the need for self care among trauma counselors Emphasizes the relevance of clinical supervision in trauma care Offers topic relevant resources at the end of each chapter

Living Beyond Loss Froma Walsh, Monica McGoldrick, 2004 Walsh and McGoldrick have fully revised and expanded this landmark work on the impact of death on the family system

Perspectives on Death and Dying June L. Leishman, 2009 In the past most people encountered death at a relatively young age Dying relatives were cared for at home and mortality rates were higher Today there is much less familiarity with death which increasingly takes place in hospitals hospices and nursing homes This wide ranging and enlightening book offers an exploration of death and dying as human conditions that impact on the individual their significant others and those involved with their care and well being It is aimed at medical and healthcare staff social workers and counsellors as well as social sciences and health psychology students professional health and social care educationalists and anyone with an interest in this topic Drawing on aspects of social anthropology history and the social and behavioural sciences the book examines the customs attitudes and beliefs surrounding death and dying Emphasis is placed on the unique experience of death for each individual and the book highlights the challenges faced by those who work with people who are dying or those who have experienced loss through death In addition each chapter ends with some reflective questions that allow the reader to consider certain issues at a more personal level

Counting Our Losses Darcy L. Harris, 2011-01-19 This text is a valuable resource for clinicians who work with clients dealing with non death nonfinite and ambiguous losses in their lives It explores adjustment to change transition and loss from the perspective of the latest thinking in bereavement theory and research The specific and unique aspects of different types of loss are discussed such as infertility aging chronic illnesses and degenerative conditions divorce and separation immigration adoption loss of beliefs and loss of employment Harris and the contributing authors consider these from an experiential perspective rather than a developmental one in order to focus on the key elements of each loss as it may be experienced at any point in the lifespan Concepts related to adaptation and coping with loss such as resilience hardiness meaning making and the assumptive world transcendence and post traumatic growth are considered as part of the integration of loss into everyday life experience

Handbook of the Sociology of Emotions Jan Stets, Jonathan H. Turner, 2007-02-25 For almost thirty years sociologists have increasingly theorized about and conducted research on human emotions Surprisingly it was not until the 1970s that the sociology of emotions emerged as a coherent field of inquiry What makes this late date surprising is that it is now obvious that human behavior interaction and organization are driven by emotions It was an immense oversight for emotions to be de emphasized in sociological theorizing and research for most of its 175 year history Since the 1970s however the study of emotions has accelerated and is now at the forefront of sociological analysis This book is designed to bring the reader up to date on the theory and research traditions that have proliferated in the analysis of human emotions Key figures who have carried the sociology of emotions to its current level of prominence review their own work and the work of others who have made contributions to a particular approach to the study of emotions The outcome is a comprehensive book that serves as a primer on the cutting edge of sociological work in what is obviously a key dynamic in human affairs The first section of the book addresses the range of emotions and how they can be classified the neurological underpinnings of emotions and the effect of gender on emotions The second section reviews the prominent sociological theories of emotions including theories emphasizing power and status rituals identity and self psychoanalytic dynamics exchange expectation states and evolution While there is little integration among these theories this state of affairs will not last forever The third section addresses theory and research on specific emotions such as love jealousy and envy empathy sympathy anger grief and the moral emotions While this list does not exhaust the range of human feeling they are central emotions that drive human behavior interaction and social organization The last section explores how the study of emotions has added new insight into other subfields within sociology such as the study of the workplace health and social movements These chapters illustrate how the sociology of emotions can provide new research and theory for the large numbers of specialties within sociology Although no book can completely cover a field even a relatively new one like the sociology of emotions this Handbook of the Sociology of Emotions comes close to being comprehensive The reader will come away with a greater appreciation for how far the sociology of emotions has developed and prospered over the last thirty years

The New Senior Man Thelma Reese, Barbara M. Fleisher, 2017-10-06 The New Senior Man Exploring New Horizons New Opportunities fills a gap that is already huge and growing Where do men fit into the astonishing changes in both life expectancy and visibility of the aging boomers among us Unlike women who move into retirement years with a network of friends and intimates cultivated over decades men for the most part do it alone Changes in women's lives and in the culture have brought changes for men who were told to man up since they were toddlers Having faced that challenge throughout their lives it's time now to do it again to see changes in the world around them as opportunities to discover new strengths and passions to make the most of the gift of time With perhaps a third of productive life ahead retirement requires redefinition Where are the role models among the men who at this critical turning point in their lives continue to redefine and reinvent their lives past the time of the proverbial gold watch and a set of golf clubs As pioneers in this rapidly emerging new world the men whose narratives appear in this book are role models for each other and those who follow They seek more than advice about investments and improving their golf strokes Men from all walks of life tell us in their own words how they see the challenges and chances that lie ahead and within themselves and how they are taking full advantage of opportunities that re start living Each chapter presents a topic relevant to this later stage of life memory family dynamics sexual intimacy loss and independence among others Like a conversation among friends the book introduces readers to new ways of looking at the present and the future so that men may cultivate a lifestyle that not only suits them but supports a healthy rewarding and enjoyable reframing of life

Aging in the Family George Dickinson, Brenda Sanders, 2018-10-31 With a rapidly aging population throughout the world the issue of larger percentages of older adults has repercussions for both policy and the job market Whether a university student about to seek a full time job or a caregiver for an older person Aging in the Family should enhance the reader's knowledge and skills The main topics covered in this volume include marital status of older adults support systems within families crises with older adults within families the resilience of older adults entering the latter stages of life practical information involving caregiving aging in place and various social services for an aging population The reader will be made aware of intergenerational interactions between older adults and other family members in various cultures The role of ethnicity and socio economic status in health issues of older adults will be discussed as will the application of technology to an aging population Though problems certainly exist as one ages the overall thrust of the book is toward the positive aspects of growing old Numerous theories exist to probe research and understanding of older adults in families The relation between theory and research will be helpful to many students of aging in the family Older adults are generally married yet cohabitation and other options are alive and well too Ageism death and abuse unfortunately are issues affecting aging Yet most older adults in the US and Western Europe report living independently and being satisfied with their lives Aging in the Family will be an interesting read for anyone wanting to learn about older adults and family relationships as it exhibits a blend of both theoretical and practical matters
