Lost In Space Probing Feminist Science Fiction And Beyond:

Lost in Space Marleen S. Barr, 2017-11-01 Archaeologists and anthropologists discover other civilizations science fiction writers invent them In this collection of her major essays Marleen Barr argues that feminist science fiction writers contribute to postmodern literary canons with radical alternatives to mainstream patriarchal society Because feminist science fiction challenges male centered social imperatives it has been marginalized and dismissed from the canon thus lost in space Moving beyond feminist science fiction itself Barr goes on to examine other literary genres from the perspective of feminist fabulation a term she has coined to encompass science fiction fantasy utopian literature and mainstream literature that critiques patriarchal fictions Discussing the works of such writers as Margaret Atwood Joanna Russ Salman Rushdie Paul Theroux Ursula Le Guin Herman Melville Saul Bellow Edgar Allan Poe and Marge Piercy Barr illuminates feminist science fiction's connections to other literary traditions and contemporary canons Her critical analysis yields a new and expanded understanding of feminist creativity Blast, Corrupt, Dismantle, Erase Brett Josef Grubisic, Gisèle M. Baxter, Tara

Lee, 2014-06-16 What do literary dystopias reflect about the times In Blast Corrupt Dismantle Erase contributors address this amorphous but pervasive genre using diverse critical methodologies to examine how North America is conveyed or portrayed in a perceived age of crisis accelerated uncertainty and political volatility Drawing from contemporary novels such as Cormac McCarthy's The Road Neil Gaiman's American Gods and the work of Margaret Atwood and William Gibson to name a few this book examines dystopian literature produced by North American authors between the signing of NAFTA 1994 and the tenth anniversary of 9 11 2011 As the texts illustrate awareness of and deep concern about perceived vulnerabilities ends of water oil food capitalism empires stable climates ways of life non human species and entire human civilizations have become central to public discourse over the same period By asking questions such as What are the distinctive qualities of post NAFTA North American dystopian literature and What does this literature reflect about the tensions and contradictions of the inchoate continental community of North America Blast Corrupt Dismantle Erase serves to resituate dystopian writing within a particular geo social setting and introduce a productive means to understand both North American dystopian writing and its relevant engagements with a restricted mapped reality The Woman Fantastic in Contemporary American Media Culture Elyce Rae Helford, Shiloh Carroll, Sarah Gray, Michael R. Shiloh Carroll Sarah Gray Elyce Rae Helford Michael R Howard II Ewan Kirkland Nicola Mann Megan McDonough Alex Naylor Rhonda Nicol Joan Ormrod J Richard Stevens Tosha Taylor Katherine A Wagner and Rhonda V Wilcox Although the last three decades have offered a growing body of scholarship on images of fantastic women in popular culture these studies either tend to focus on one particular variety of fantastic female the action or sci fi heroine or on her role in a specific genre villain hero temptress This edited collection strives to define the Woman Fantastic more fully The Woman Fantastic may appear in speculative or realist settings but her presence is always recognizable Through futuristic contexts fantasy worlds

alternate histories or the display of superpowers these insuperable women challenge the laws of physics chemistry and or biology In chapters devoted to certain television programs adult and young adult literature and comics contributors discuss feminist negotiation of today s economic and social realities Senior scholars and rising academic stars offer compelling analyses of fantastic women from Wonder Woman and She Hulk to Talia Al Ghul and Martha Washington from Carrie Vaughn s Kitty Norville series to Cinda Williams Chima s The Seven Realms series and from Battlestar Gallactica s female Starbuck to Game of Thrones s Sansa and even Elaine Barrish Hammond of USA s Political Animals This volume furnishes an important contribution to ongoing discussions of gender and feminism in popular culture

Reader's Guide to Women's Studies

Eleanor Amico,1998-03-20 The Reader s Guide to Women s Studies is a searching and analytical description of the most prominent and influential works written in the now universal field of women s studies Some 200 scholars have contributed to the project which adopts a multi layered approach allowing for comprehensive treatment of its subject matter Entries range from very broad themes such as Health General Works to entries on specific individuals or more focused topics such as Doctors Worlds Apart? Dunja M. Mohr,2005-06-15 Literary critics and scholars have written extensively on the demise of the utopian spirit in the modern novel What has often been overlooked is the emergence of a new hybrid subgenre particularly in science fiction and fantasy which incorporates utopian strategies within the dystopian narrative particularly in the feminist dystopias of the 1980s and 1990s The author names this new subgenre transgressive utopian dystopias Suzette Haden Elgin s Native Tongue trilogy Suzy McKee Charna s Holdfast series and Margaret Atwood s The Handmaid s Tale are thoroughly analyzed within the context of this this new subgenre of transgressive utopian dystopias Analysis focuses particularly on how these works cover the interrelated categories of gender race and class along with their relationship to classic literary dualism and the dystopian narrative Without completely dissolving the dualistic order the feminist dystopias studied here contest the notions of unambiguity and authenticity that are generally part of the canon

Populating the Future Britt Johanne Farstad, 2023-07-19 Speculative fiction opens doors for imagining beyond what is possible conventional or acceptable Speculative fiction has an acute ear for the social the scientific and for political developments and change all of which are prominent topics Reproduction and parenthood are pertinent social questions that are constantly renegotiated in various arenas By investigating representations of family making and reproduction in speculative fiction the research presented in Populating the Future Families and Reproduction in Speculative Fiction not only adds to the field of speculative fiction scholarship but also contributes to the more general discussion about reproduction and parenting Speculative fiction operates as thought laboratories that make connections between discourses visible It highlights power structures that can be difficult to detach and represents difficult and abstract issues more concretely As such speculative fiction demonstrates the complex entanglement of reproduction with issues of gender power and agency By facilitating thought experiments and illustrating alternatives speculative fiction also enables the representation of new family structures and reproductive technologies thus paving the way for discussions about various practices and their possible consequences Due to its multidisciplinary approach this book will be of value to scholars and students of various disciplines such as literature studies philosophy ethics political science the social sciences and gender studies It will also be a useful resource in teacher training programmes as well as to a more general audience interested in speculative literature politics society gender and ethics

Yesterday's Tomorrows Pere Gallardo, Elizabeth Russell, 2014-03-26 2012 was a year of financial crises and ecological disasters of endings and forebodings The world did not end on December 21st as the Mayan calendar predicted but became the stage for new beginnings utopian communities protest groups and solidarity movements The essays in this book form an intertextual space for negotiating meaningful facts and fictions with an aim to understanding the present Discussions focus on utopia and dystopia from literature and film not only within the framework of science fiction but also critical theory gender politics and social sciences The authors of these essays are international academics whose interest lies in utopian studies and who attended the 13th International Conference of Utopian Studies The Shape of Things to Come held in Tarragona Spain in 2012

Frankenstein's Daughters Jane L. Donawerth, 1997-04-01 Women Science fiction authors past and present are united by the problems they face in attempting to write in this genre an overwhelmingly male dominated field Science fiction has been defined by male centered scientific discourse that describes women as alien others rather than rational beings This perspective has defined the boundaries of science fiction resulting in women writers being excluded as equal participants in the genre Frankenstein's Daughters explores the different strategies women have used to negotiate the minefields of their chosen career they have created a unique utopian science formulated by and for women with women characters taking center stage and actively confronting oppressors This type of depiction is a radical departure from the condition where women are relegated to marginal roles within the narratives Donawerth takes a comprehensive look at the field and explores the works of authors such as Mary Shelley Marion Zimmer Bradley Ursula K Le Guin and Anne McCaffrey

Popular Culture Primer John A. Weaver, 2009 This revised edition of the Popular Culture Primer is an introductory text that traces the history of popular culture and cultural studies Besides covering the traditional subjects such as the influence of the Frankfurt School and the Centre for Contemporary Cultural Studies this book covers the cultural studies of science and technology the biosciences drugs and sports as well as other often ignored topics such as science fiction fan cultures and childhood studies It looks at the impact these topics have on our understanding of education and popular culture The Popular Culture Primer is an essential text for any class devoted to teaching the history and importance of the subject

Brave new words Jeff Prucher, Teaching Toward the 24th Century Karen Anijar, 2004-11-23 Trekkie popular culture sees Star Trek as a unifying myth Dr Anijar explores this phenomenon in light of the influences of television in children's lives and the effects of utopian interpretations of Star Trek on teaching practice

New Materialisms and Environmental Education David A. G. Clarke, Jamie McPhie, 2023-07-24 New materialisms refers to a broad contemporary and significant movement of thought across the social sciences and cultural studies which attempts to return to renew or create alternative philosophies of matter. Such philosophies spring from multiple sources but are in general an attempt to bring the indissolubility of the social and environmental more forcefully into our analytical frames and modes of inquiry and tackle a perceived over-reliance on discourse and language in the so-called post-modern era of philosophy and social science. This movement in thought is underlaid by and meets up with the climate and biodiversity crises and the nature of the human condition and modes of learning or becoming within the field of environmental education. This volume brings together academics working at differing intersections of environmental education and new materialisms highlighting tensions, knots and lines of flight across and for research practice and theory. As such, this collection draws on multiple interpretations and streams of thought within new materialisms and demonstrates their significance for those engaging with environmental education policy practice and research. This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal Environmental Education Research.

Feminism and Its Fictions Lisa Maria Hogeland, 2016-11-11 During the 1970s thousands of American women met regularly in small groups to talk about the injustices they experienced in their private lives and how those personal injustices related to the broad-based political oppression of women. They called this cultural work consciousness-raising. Women's and feminist fiction of the 1970s was dominated by a new kind of novel whose content and form were shaped by the practice of consciousness-raising. Lisa Maria Hogeland contends that consciousness-raising novels both reflected and furthered the Women's Liberation Movement's analyses of sexuality, gender, race and political responsibility and that through their narrative structure the novels actually engaged in consciousness-raising with their readers. Using a broad range of fiction including works by Erica Jong, Marilyn French, Marge Piercy, Alix Kates Shulman, Alison Lurie, Joanna Russ and Joan Didion, Hogeland explores the ways in which consciousness-raising novels addressed some of the most important questions raised by second-wave feminism.
