Lost Utopias:

Lost Utopias Harriet Ellen O'Brien, 1929      AntiFascism and Memory in East Germany Josie McLellan, 2004-10-07

AntiFascism and Memory in East Germany is a book about remembering and about forgetting about war and about the peace which eventually followed In the unlikely setting of the German Democratic Republic GDR the Spanish Civil War became the subject of a debate which both predated and outlasted the Cold War involving historians veterans politicians censors artists writers and Church activists Examining these multiple memories and interpretations of Spain casts new and unexpected light on the legacy of the Spanish Civil War and the relationship between history and memory under state socialism The ruling Socialist Unity Party made full use of the antifascist legacy as legitimation for a non democratic state But despite dogged attempts at control and censorship the state was unable to silence competing voices All over East Germany International Brigade veterans preserved their version of events in letters to each other in communications with the party in discussions with friends and family around the kitchen table and in memoirs written for the desk drawer For younger East Germans the war retained an undeniably romantic aura From their perspective Spain was a far away land to which they were forbidden to travel the stuff of camp fire singalongs and fantasies of adventure This book dissects the relationship between state sponsored history the lobbying of veterans cultural interpretations of war and the memory traces left behind by marginalised or politically oppositional groups and individuals It is a cultural history of memory under state socialism a social history of veteran groups and their relationship with the state and a political history of communist culture Above all it is the story of how post war Europeans came to terms with the heavy burden of their pre war past      Lost Utopias Richard Pare, Jennifer Minner, 2016 The pictures in this book bring the argument about reuse and preservation into focus What is worthy of retaining and what is dispensable What are the criteria for considering whether a structure should be retained or demolished How do you define the parameters of taste and utility in making decisions to preserve or destroy How will future generations regard the destruction of certain structures will we be considered cultural vandals for not having retained more of the structures that seemed irrelevant at the time The preservation argument is heightened in the case of the exhibitions sites as by definition an exhibition is considered a temporary event Page 9      Milton Re-viewed Edward Le Comte, 2019-01-03 First published in 1991 These ten essays by the distinguished Milton scholar Edward Le Comte examines the various themes context and structure of Milton's poetry and prose including particular focus on both Paradise Lost and Paradise Regained This title will be of great interest to students of John Milton and English Literature      Im Kwon-Taek David E. James, 2001-12-01 Korean cinema was virtually unavailable to the West during the Japanese colonial period 1910-1945 and no film made before 1943 has been recovered even though Korea had an active film making industry that produced at least 240 films For a period of forty years after Korea was liberated from colonialism a time where Western imports were scarce Korean cinema became an innovative force reflecting a society whose social and cultural norms were becoming less conservative Im Kwon Taek The Making of a Korean National Cinema is a collection of essays written about Im Kwon Taek better known as the father of New Korean Cinema that takes a critical look at the situations of filmmakers in South Korea. Written by leading Koreanists and scholars of Korean film in the United States, Im Kwon Taek is the first scholarly treatment of Korean cinema. It establishes Im Kwon Taek as the only major Korean director whose life's work covers the entire history of South Korea's military rule, 1961-1992. It demonstrates Im's struggles with Korean cinema's historical contradictions and also shows how Im rose above political discord. The book includes an interview with Im, a chronology of Korean cinema and Korean history showing major dynastic periods and historical and political events, and a complete filmography. Im Kwon Taek is timely and makes a significant contribution to our understanding of Korean cinema. These essays situate Im Kwon Taek within Korean filmmaking, placing him in industrial, creative, and social contexts, and closely examine some of his finest films. Im Kwon Taek will interest students and scholars of film studies, Korean studies, religious studies, postcolonial studies, and Asian studies.

Ahab Agonistes Lester L. Grabbe, 2007-04-28 The European Seminar in Historical Methodology is committed to debating issues surrounding the history of ancient Israel and Judah, with the aim of developing methodological principles for writing a history of the period. In this particular session, the topic chosen was the Omride dynasty, its rise and fall, and the subsequent Jehu dynasty down to the fall of Samaria to the Assyrians. Participants discuss such topics as the dating of prophetic texts, the house of Ahab in Chronicles, the Tel Dan inscription, the Mesha inscription, the Jezebel tradition, the archaeology of Iron IIB, the relationship between the biblical text and contemporary sources, and the nature of the Omride state. The volume incidentally gives a reasonably comprehensive treatment of the main sources, issues, debates, and secondary literature on this period of Israel's history. An introductory chapter summarizes the individual papers, and also the relevant section of Mario Liverani's recent history of the period. A concluding Reflections on the Debate summarizes the issues raised in the papers and provides a perspective on the discussion. LHB OTS volume 421 ESHM volume 6
