Martin Travers, 2006-06-15 European Literature from Romanticism to Postmodernism is an anthology of key theoretical writings by the major representatives of the schools and movements of recent European literature Each chapter is devoted to one particular school of movement from within the broad body of literature from romanticism realism and modernism though to the literature of political engagement of the 1920s and 1930s and the more recent initiative of postmodernism These texts are approached both on their own terms as individual formulations of the goals and procedures literary aesthetic and political that characterized the work of these writers and as key documents of the literary school or movement to which these writers belonged Les cloches de Bâle Louis Aragon, 1972 Marvelous Encounters Willard Bohn, 2005 The concept of poésie critique poetry that possesses both a poetic and a critical function has an extensive history in modern literature Written in response to another work of art be it a painting a film a poem or a piece of music the critical poem comments on the latter in various ways but refuses to abandon its poetic mission Marvelous Encounters examines surrealist poets writing in French Spanish and Catalan who experimented with this intriguing genre The first three chapters are concerned with the French surrealists who began to cultivate critical poetry toward the end of World War I Chapter 2 considers how Louis Aragon and Philippe Soupault appropriated the critical poem as they reviewed books of poetry and films starring Charlie Chaplin Chapter 3 which examines how Benjamin Peret and Paul Eluard conceived of critical poetry analyzes their response to poems by Tristan Tzara and paintings by Giorgio de Chirico and Joan Miro Chapter 4 is devoted entirely to André Breton cinema Memory and Politics Angela Kimyongür, 2007 On the one hand Louis Aragon 1897 1982 was iconoclastic a founding member of the Surrealist movement the son of a man who was masqueraded as his godfather for the first nineteen years of his life and a bisexual who came out following the death of his wife On the other hand like so many other writers who as young men witnessed the slaughter of World War I at close quarters Aragon was profoundly marked by the experience Within his multifaceted oeuvre the overarching theme of war is one permanent and unchangeable facet of this work and while many books have been published on Aragon none go beyond the figure of the Resistance poet to explore the subject of war throughout his career Memory and Politics does just that tracing two strands of Aragon's critique of war an ideological strand which voices the policies of the Communist Party and a personal strand which voices memory and loss French Women's Writing 1848-1994 Diana Holmes,2000-01-12 A wide range of French women writers are surveyed including Sand Colette Beauvoir and Duras among the canonized and many marginalized or forgotten and contemporary names not yet widely known outside France These writers are seen within the political economic and cultural context of women's lives and how these have changed across a century and a half Underpinning the whole account is the relationship between gender and language between politics sexual and textual Surrealist Collage in Text and Image Elza Adamowicz,1998-05-28 A new analysis of Surrealist collage in France leading to a radical reassessment of Surrealism Investigating Sex Jose Pierre,2012-01-16 Are women's orgasms more intense than men's What did Andr Breton think of homosexuality Can love be separated from physical desire In 1928 a group of surrealist writers and artists held twelve round table discussions to address these questions Calling them researches into sexuality their bizarre and humorous conversations are now made available in this new edition in all their surreal and salacious detail Their research spanned the most critical period for surrealism a time of bitter political disputes echoed in the intensity of these meetings and in the range of participants including Andr Breton Paul Eluard Yves Tanguy Benjamin Perret and Pierre Naville Well before the so called sexual revolution their erotic exchanges broke sexual taboos and encouraged surrealists to openly share the libidinal themes they explored in their writing and art In doing so JoAnn Wypijewski writes in the new introduction they are revealed as lovers and prigs fantasists and humanists adventurers in mind if not always in flesh flawed foolish brilliant clangingly sexual human beings

Louis Aragon Louis Aragon,2002 Etude sur Louis Aragon son oeuvre poetique avec une selection de ses principaux poemes et une chronologie The Beribboned Bomb Robert James Belton,1995 Surrealism was ostensibly directed at the emancipation of the human spirit but it represented only male aspirations and fantasies until a number of women artists began to redefine its agenda in the later 1930s This book addresses the former using a thick description of the historically specific circumstances which required the male Surrealists to manufacture a sexual reputation of narcissism and misogyny These circumstances were determined by hegemonic masculinity an ideological construct which had little to do with individual masculinities In male Surrealism the beribboned bomb signified something both attractive and volatile a specific instance of the Surrealist principle of convulsive beauty In hegemonic masculinity similar devices served as metaphors of the sexuality all men were supposed to possess The intersection of these two axes produced an imagery of unrepentant violence

Surrealism and the Art of Crime Jonathan Paul Eburne,2008 Corpses mark surrealism's path through the twentieth century providing material evidence of the violence in modern life Though the shifting group of poets artists and critics who made up the surrealist movement were witness to total war revolutionary violence and mass killing it was the tawdry reality of everyday crime that fascinated them Jonathan P Eburne shows us how this focus reveals the relationship between aesthetics and politics in the thought and artwork of the surrealists and establishes their movement as a useful platform for addressing the contemporary problem of violence both individual and political In a book strikingly illustrated with surrealist artworks and their sometimes gruesome source material Eburne addresses key individual works by both better known surrealist writers and artists including Andr Breton Louis Aragon Aim C saire Jacques Lacan Georges Bataille Max Ernst and Salvador Dal and lesser known figures such as Ren Crevel Simone Breton Leonora Carrington Benjamin P ret and Jules Monnerot For Eburne the art of crime denotes an array of cultural production including sensationalist journalism detective mysteries police blotters crime scene photos and documents of medical and legal opinion as well as the roman noir in particular the first crime novel of the American Chester Himes The surrealists collected and scrutinized such materials using them as the inspiration for the outpouring of political tracts pamphlets and artworks through which they sought to expose the forms of violence perpetrated in the name of the state its courts and respectable bourgeois values Concluding with the surrealists quarrel with the existentialists and their bitter condemnation of France s anticolonial wars Surrealism and the Art of Crime establishes surrealism as a vital element in the intellectual political and artistic history of the twentieth century

The Facts on File Companion to World Poetry R. Victoria Arana, 2008 The Facts On File Companion to World Poetry 1900 to the Present is a comprehensive introduction to 20th and 21st century world poets and their most famous most distinctive and most influential poems

French Film Theory and Criticism: 1907-1929 Richard Abel, 1993-09-12 These two volumes examine a significant but previously neglected moment in French cultural history the emergence of French film theory and criticism before the essays of Andr Bazin Richard Abel has devised an organizational scheme of six nearly symmetrical periods that serve to bite into the discursive flow of early French writing on the cinema. Each of the periods is discussed in a separate and extensive historical introduction with convincing explications of the various concepts current at the time. In each instance Abel goes on to provide a complementary anthology of selected texts in translation. Amounting to a portable archive, these anthologies make available a rich selection of nearly one hundred and fifty important texts, most of them never before published in English.

A History of the Surrealist Novel Anna Watz, 2023-02-16

A History of the Surrealist Novel offers a rich, long and elastic historiography of the surrealist novel, taking into consideration an abundance of texts previously left out of critical accounts. Its twenty thematically organized chapters examine surrealist prose texts written in French, English, Spanish, German, Greek, and Japanese from the emergence of the surrealist movement in the 1920s and 1930s through the post-war and postmodern periods and up to the contemporary moment. This approach extends received narratives regarding surrealism's geographical locations and considers its transnational movement and modes of circulation. Moreover, it challenges critical biases that have defined surrealism in predominantly masculine terms and which tie the movement to the interwar or early post-war years. This book will appeal both to scholars and students of surrealism and its legacies, modernist literature, and the history of the novel.
