He greeted me with effusive shouts Wouldn't hear of my standing the racket Insisted on being host When we had finished he fumbled in his pockets looked pained and surprised and drew me aside Look here Licky old horse he said you know I never borrow money It's against my principles But I must have a couple of bob Can you my dear good fellow oblige me with a couple of bob till next Tuesday I'll tell you what I'll do In a voice full of emotion I'll let you have this producing a beastly little threepenny bit with a hole in it which he had probably picked up in the street until I can pay you back This is of more value to me than I can well express Licky my boy A very very dear friend gave it to me when we parted years ago It's a wrench Still no no You must take it you must take it Licky old man shake hands old horse Shake hands my boy He then tottered to the bar deeply moved and paid up out of the five shillings which he had made it as an after thought He asked after you and said you were one of the noblest men on earth I gave him your address not being able to get out of it but if I were you I should fly while there is yet time Love Among the Chickens P. Love Among the Chickens: A Story of the Haps and Mishaps on an English Chicken Farm Sir Pelham Grenville Wodehouse, 1908-01-01 Mr Jeremy Garnet stood with his back to the empty grate for the time was summer watching with a jaundiced eye the removal of his breakfast things Mrs Medley he said Sir Would it bore you if I became auto biographical Sir Never mind I merely wish to sketch for your benefit a portion of my life s history At eleven o clock last night I went to bed and at once sank into a dreamless sleep About four hours later there was a clattering on the stairs which shook the house like a jelly It was the gentleman in the top room I forget his name returning to roost He was humming a patriotic song A little while later there were a couple of loud crashes He had removed his boots All this while snatches of the patriotic song came to me through the ceiling of my bedroom At about four thirty there was a lull and I managed to get to sleep again I wish when you see that gentleman Mrs Medley you would give him my compliments and ask him if he could shorten his program another night He might cut out the song for a start He s a very young gentleman sir said Mrs Medley in vague defense of her top room And it s highly improbable said Garnet that he will ever grow old if he repeats his last night s performance I have no wish to shed blood wantonly but there are moments when one must lay aside one's personal prejudices and act for the good of the race. A man who hums patriotic songs at four o'clock in the morning doesn't seem to me to fit into the scheme of universal happiness. So you will mention it to him won't you? Very well, sir, said Mrs Medley placidly. On the strength of the fact that he wrote for the newspapers and had published two novels, Mrs Medley regarded Mr Garnet as an eccentric individual who had to be humored. Whatever he did or said filled her with a mild amusement. She received his daily harangues in the same spirit as that in which a nurse listens to the outpourings of the family baby. She was surprised when he said anything sensible enough for her to understand. His table being clear of breakfast and his room free from disturbing influences, the exhilaration caused by his chat with his landlady left Mr Garnet. Life seemed very gray to him. He was a conscientious young man and he knew that he ought to sit down and do some work. On the other hand, his brain felt like a cauliflower and he could not think what to write about. This is one of the things which sour the young author even more than do those long envelopes which so tastefully decorate his table of a morning. He felt particularly unfitted for writing at that moment. The morning is not the time for inventive work. An article may be polished then or a half-finished story completed, but 11 A.M. is not the hour at which to invent. Jerry Garnet wandered restlessly about his sitting room. Rarely had it seemed so dull and depressing to him as it did then. The photographs on the mantelpiece irritated him. There was no change in them. They struck him as the concrete expression of monotony. His eye was caught by a picture hanging out of the straight. He jerked it to one side and the effect became worse. He jerked it back again and the thing looked as if it had been hung in a dim light by an astigmatic drunkard. Five minutes pulling and hauling brought it back to a position only a shade less crooked than that in which he had found it, and by that time his restlessness had grown like a mushroom.

Love Among the Chickens Sir Pelham Grenville Wodehouse, 2017-04-23 Love Among the Chickens is a novel by P. G. Wodehouse first published as a book in the United Kingdom in June 1906 by George Newnes London and in the United States by Circle Publishing New York on 11 May 1909. It had already appeared there as a serial in Circle magazine between September 1908 and March 1909. The English edition was dedicated to Sir Bargrave and Lady Deane, the Rt Hon Sir Henry Bargrave Deane QC, was a High Court judge and a cousin of Wodehouse's mother. In 1921 Wodehouse revised the book. In the 1906 version the first five chapters were narrated in the third person before shifting to the first person. The new version was narrated entirely in the first person and had a slightly different ending. The new edition was published in May 1921 by Herbert Jenkins and carried an extended dedication to Wodehouse's old school friend Bill Townend in which Wodehouse thanked his friend for the original idea for the story and commented that I have practically re-written the book. There was some pretty bad work in it. This is the only novel to feature the recurring character Stanley Featherstonehaugh Ukridge whose appearances are otherwise confined to short stories. This was the first book by Wodehouse to be published separately in the U.S. The four books that had appeared there before had been all printed from imported plates of the UK edition.
