The Artifice of Love Fiona Black,2009-02-19 The lovers expressions of mutual affection and desire in the Song of Songs include intimate and detailed poetic descriptions of the body These are challenging to interpret because the imagery used is cryptic drawing on seemingly incongruous aspects of nature architecture and war Biblical scholarship frequently expresses some discomfort or embarrassment over this language yet largely maintains the view that it should be interpreted positively as a complimentary and loving description of the body If read without this hermeneutic however the imagery appears to construct nonsensical and ridiculous pictures of the human form which raise interesting questions and pose definite challenges for the Song s readers Fiona Black addresses the problematic nature of the Song s body imagery by using the artistic and literary construct of the grotesque body as a heuristic The resulting reading investigates some issues for the Song that are often left to the margins namely the Song s presentation of desire its politics of gender and the affect of the text The book concludes with the identification of some implications of this reading including the creation of a new framework in which to understand the relevance of the Song s imagery for its presentation of love This is volume 12 in the Gender Culture Theory subseries and volume 392 in the Journal for the Study of the Old Testament Supplement series
