Love Of A Good Woman Stories:

The Love of a Good Woman Alice Munro, 1999 Eight new stories about what people will do for love and the unexpected routes their passion will force them to take A prim old landlady in Vancouver with a crime of passion lurking in her past A young mother with a secret life who abandons her children to be with her lover A country doctor in the 1960s discovered by his daughter to be helping desperate women his special patients These and other fascinating characters weave their way through stories that track the changes that time brings to families lovers and even to friends who share old intimate secrets about the prostration of love in a collection that is clear eyed about the clutter of our emotional lives The rich layering that gives Alice Munro's work such a strong sense of life is particularly apparent in the title story in which the death of a local optometrist brings an entire community into focus from the preadolescent boys who find his body to the man who probably killed him to the woman who must decide what to do about what she might know Large moving profound these are stories that extend the limits of fiction

The Love of a Good Woman Alice Munro, 2011-06-22 In eight stories a master of the form extends and magnifies her great themes the vagaries of love the passion that leads down unexpected paths the chaos hovering just under the surface of things and the strange often comical desires of the human heart Time stretches out in some of the stories a man and a woman look back forty years to the summer they met the summer as it turns out that the true nature of their lives was revealed In others time is telescoped a young girl finds in the course of an evening that the mother she adores and whose fluttery sexuality she hopes to emulate will not sustain her she must count on herself Some choices are made in a will in a decision to leave home with irrevocable and surprising consequences At other times disaster is courted or barely skirted when a mother has a startling dream about her baby when a woman driving her grandchildren to visit the lakeside haunts of her youth starts a game that could have dangerous consequences The rich layering that gives Alice Munro's work so strong a sense of life is particularly apparent in the title story in which the death of a local optometrist brings an entire town into focus from the preadolescent boys who find his body to the man who probably killed him to the woman who must decide what to do about what she might know Large moving profound these are stories that extend the limits of fiction

Alice Munro's Narrative Art I. Duncan, 2011-11-21 Among the first critical works on Alice Munro's writing this study of her short fiction is informed by the disciplines of narratology and literary linguistics Through examining Munro's narrative art Isla Duncan demonstrates a rich understanding of the complex densely layered often unsettling stories

The Fiction of Alice Munro Brad Hooper, 2008-06-30 As a short story writer Alice Munro has achieved high critical and popular regard in both her native Canada and in the United States Indeed Munro has been adopted by the entire English speaking world as one of its own and her work has received many awards and honors In the U S she is roundly regarded as one of the best if not the best contemporary writers of the short story and one of the greatest living fiction writers Here Brad Hooper takes readers through her fiction work by work discussing the themes forms techniques and styles she employs to make her work come alive Munro has founded her own brand of the short story longer than traditionally practiced in the short story form and encompassing broader time frames Her stories are primarily character studies that explore the impact of physical and mental isolation in adolescence middle age and into elder years Hooper traces Munro s evolving definition of the short story form and surveys the fiction in an effort to elucidate the works for newcomers and enthusiasts alike Narrative Progression in the Short Story Michael J. Toolan,2009 One of our most valuable capacities is our ability partly to predict what will come next in a text But linguistic understanding of this remains very limited especially in genres such as the short story where there is a staging of the clash between predictability and unpredictability This book proposes that a matrix of narrativity furthering textual features is crucial to the reader s forming of expectations about how a literary story will continue to its close Toolan uses corpus linguistic software and methods and stylistic and narratological theory in the course of delineating the matrix of eight parameters that he sees as crucial to creating narrative progression and expectation The book will be of interest to stylisticians narratologists corpus linguists and short story scholars Alice Munro: Writing Her Lives Robert Thacker,2011-05-03 This is the book about one of the world s great authors Alice Munro which shows how her life and her stories intertwine For almost thirty years Robert Thacker has been researching this book steeping himself in Alice Munro s life and work working with her co operation to make it complete The result is a feast of information for Alice Munro s admirers everywhere By following the parallel tracks of Alice Munro s life and Alice Munro s texts he gives a thorough and revealing account of both her life and work There is always a starting point in reality she once said of her stories and this book reveals just how often her stories spring from her life The book is chronological starting with her pioneer ancestors but with special attention paid to her parents and to her early days growing up poor in Wingham Then all of her life stages the marriage to Jim Munro the move to Vancouver then to Victoria to start the bookstore the three daughters the divorce the return to Huron County and the new life with Gerry Fremlin leading to the triumphs as story by story book by book she gains fame around the world until rumours of a Nobel Prize circulate The Routledge Introduction to the Canadian Short Story Maria Löschnigg,2022-12-30 This volume aims to introduce undergraduates graduates and general readers to the diversity and richness of Canadian short story writing and to the narrative potential of short fiction in general Addressing a wide spectrum of forms and themes the book will familiarise readers with the development and cultural significance of Canadian short fiction from the early 19th century to the present A strong focus will be on the rich reservoir of short fiction produced in the past four decades and the way in which it has responded to the anxieties and crises of our time Drawing on current critical debates each chapter will highlight the interrelations between Canadian short fiction and historical and socio cultural developments Case studies will zoom in on specific thematic or aesthetic issues in an exemplary manner The Routledge Introduction to the Canadian Short Story will provide an accessible and comprehensive overview ideal for students and general readers interested in the multifaceted and thriving medium of the short story in Canada Reading Alice Munro's Breakthrough Books J.R. (Tim) Struthers, Ailsa Cox, Corinne Bigot, Catherine Sheldrick Ross, What in terms of Alice Munro's creative artistry and creative power allowed her to become the first and only short story writer the first and only Canadian and just the thirteenth woman in history to win the Nobel Prize in Literature And exactly when during Munro's career did her artistry and power advance to ensure that she would earn such world wide renown The answers lie in studying the boldly innovative yet greatly under examined group of her four mid career breakthrough books Our volume therefore provides a carefully orchestrated analysis of Munro's subtle yet potent handling of form technique and style both within individual stories and across these special collections Reading Alice Munro's Breakthrough Books A Suite in Four Voices not only addresses a significant vacancy in Munro criticism and by extension in all short story criticism but equally importantly offers an exciting new model for how criticism can be collectively written

The English Short Story in Canada Reingard M. Nischik, 2017-04-20 In 2013 the Nobel Prize for Literature was for the first time awarded to a short story writer and to a Canadian Alice Munro The award focused international attention on a genre that had long been thriving in Canada particularly since the 1960s This book traces the development and highlights of the English language Canadian short story from the late 19th century up to the present The history as well as the theoretical approaches to the genre are covered with in depth examination of exemplary stories by prominent writers such as Margaret Atwood and Alice Munro

Theorizing Narrativity John Pier, José Angel Garcia Landa, 2011-09-20 Theorizing Narrativity is a collective work by an international array of leading specialists in narrative theory It provides new perspectives on the nature of narrative genre theory narrative semiotics and communication theory Most contributions center on the specificity of literary fiction but each chapter investigates a different dimension of narrativity with many issues dealt with in innovative ways including oral storytelling the law video games causality intertextuality and the theory of reading There are chapters by Gerald Prince on narrativehood and narrativity Meir Sternberg on the narrativity of the law code Werner Wolf on chance and Peter Hahn on eventfulness in fiction Jukka Tyrkkö on kaleidoscope narratives Marie Laure Ryan on transfictionality and computer games Ansgar Nünning and Roy Sommer as well as Monika Fludernik on the narrativity of drama Beatriz Penas on non standard narrativities David Rudrum on narrativity and performativity Michael Toolan on textual guidance John Pier on causality and retrospection and José Angel García Landa on retelling and represented narrations
