Prison Life Writing Simon Rolston, 2021-06-30 Prison Life Writing is the first full length study of one of the most controversial genres in American literature By exploring the complicated relationship between life writing and institutional power this book reveals the overlooked aesthetic innovations of incarcerated people and the surprising literary roots of the U S prison system Simon Rolston observes that the autobiographical work of incarcerated people is based on a conversion narrative a story arc that underpins the concept of prison rehabilitation and that sometimes serves the interests of the prison system rather than those on the inside Yet many imprisoned people rework the conversion narrative the way they repurpose other objects in prison Like a radio motor retooled into a tattoo gun the conversion narrative has been redefined by some authors for subversive purposes including questioning the ostensible emancipatory role of prison writing critiquing white supremacy and broadly reimagining autobiographical discourse An interdisciplinary work that brings life writing scholarship into conversation with prison studies and law and literature studies Prison Life

Writing theorizes how life writing works in prison explains literature's complicated entanglements with institutional power and demonstrates the political and aesthetic innovations of one of America's most fascinating literary genres

The Curtain Henry G. Schogt, 2011-04-07 Henry Schogt met his wife Corrie in 1954 in Amsterdam. Each knew the other had grown up in the Netherlands during World War II but for years they barely spoke of their experiences. This was true for many people; the memories were just too painful. Years later Henry and Corrie began to piece their memories together to untangle reality from dreams. Their intent was to help others understand what had happened then and how it influenced and affected not only their lives but those of all who survived. The seven stories in The Curtain reveal how two families, one Jewish, one non-Jewish, fared in the Netherlands during the German occupation in World War II. Each vignette highlights a specific aspect of life; all show how life changed for everyone and forever. Four stories are based on the author's memories of his own non-Jewish family: Henry's friendship with a Jewish teenager, the conflict of personal antipathy with the realization that help must be provided, the Schogt parents' determination to do the right thing, the difficulties of coping with an aunt with Nazi sympathies. These are stories about the randomness of survival and the elusive nature of memory. For the Jewish family, three stories drawn from the memories of the author's wife and family demonstrate the bewildering situation of trying to make impossible life-determining decisions when faced with confusing and deceitful decrees. The family must struggle with the luck or absence thereof of finding refuge when forced from their homes and with the perplexing inconsistencies of the collaboration of Dutch authorities and police with the Nazis. The Curtain emphasizes the difference between the options that were open to non-Jews and Jews in the Netherlands. Non-Jews could freely choose whether to actively resist the Germans, collaborate with the Nazis, or just to do nothing and try to live a normal life in spite of wartime restrictions. Dutch Jews, on the other hand, did not have a choice; whatever they did, whatever decisions they made, they were doomed, and it often seemed when someone survived, just simple luck. A short introduction about the war years and an appendix with a chronology of decrees, events, and statistics provide background information for this haunting memoir of those disturbing years during the German Occupation in the Netherlands.

Where I Come From Vijay Agnew, 2006-01-01 Where do you come from? When Vijay Agnew first immigrated to Canada, people would often ask her, "Where do you come from?" She thought it a simple, straightforward question and would answer in the same simple, straightforward manner by telling them where she had been born and where she grew up. But over the years she learned that many so-called third-world people resent being asked this question because it implies that having a different skin colour, which is what usually prompts the question, makes a person an outsider and not really Canadian. This realization inspired her to look more closely at the question and the answer. The result is this book. Where I Come From is a reflective memoir of an immigrant professor's life in a Canadian university. It covers the period from 1967, when Canada was opened up to third-world immigrants, to the present. The book illustrates the ways in which identity is socially constructed by tracing some of the labels that were applied to the author at various stages during her thirty years in Canada foreign student Indian woman immigrant Indian feminist and third world woman She shows how each of these names has affected her relationships with other people and contributed to making her the woman she is now perceived to be a feminist anti racist activist professor This multilayered story reveals the complex ways in which race class and gender intersect in an immigrant woman s life and engages readers in a conversation that narrows the distance between them showing not only what is different but what is shared

The Water Lily Pond Han Z. Li, 2009-10-22 This evocative narrative draws us into the inner life of a young Chinese peasant girl May ping and her first glimmerings of youthful love and idealism under the Maoist regime in China As she grows into a mature woman she becomes increasingly aware of the strife around her An intelligent girl born into a Poor Class family in a small village in rural China she is because of the Maoist policy towards such families able to pursue her dream of going to university To her surprise urban snobbery and student thought spying at university make it essential for her to hide her real thoughts Such self protection becomes especially necessary once her idealistic boyfriend Dan a secret boyfriend because young people were forbidden to be romantically involved is sent to a labour camp for his outspoken ways In her village she learns that everything has value except the lives of girls and women One of her childhood friends a landowner s daughter who because of her family s Landlord Class is not allowed to go to university drowns herself when forced to face an arranged marriage Hua Hua a shy and gentle neighbour hangs herself after her husband beats her brutally for not bearing him a son May ping manages to survive the Cultural Revolution as a member of the Communist party who feels outside the system and keeps her inner self intact Her story reveals how political change during the Maoist regime left its mark on ordinary people Employing stories within stories the narrator carries the reader to a mythological realm to images of the resilient water lilies and the nurturing lily pond history Dead Woman Pickney Yvonne Shorter Brown, 2022-04-01 Dead Woman Pickney chronicles Yvonne Shorter Brown's life growing up in Jamaica between 1943 and 1965 and teaching in Canada from 1969 Told with stridency and humour the stories include both personal experience and history Taking up the haunting memories of childhood along with persistent racial marginalization of Black people both globally and in Canada the author sets out to construct a narrative that at once explains her own origins in the former slave society of Jamaica and traces the outsider status of Africa and its peoples The author's quest to understand the absence of her mother and her mother's people from her life is at the heart of the narrative The author struggles through life to discover the identity of her mother in the face of silence from her father's brutal family In this updated edition she adds a coda finding mother constructed from archives genealogy letters and journals Initially published in 2010 this second edition includes expanded text and a foreword by Sonja Boon author of What the Oceans Remember

Not the Whole Story Lea Caragata, Judit Alcalde, 2014-04-18 Not the Whole Story is a compilation of sixteen stories narrated by single mothers in their own way and about their own lives Each story is unique but the same issues appear again and again Abuse parenting as single mothers challenges in the labour market mental health and addictions issues a scarcity of quality childcare immigration and status vulnerability struggles with custody and poverty these factors combined with a lack of support contribute to their continued struggles The themes that recur across stories illustrate that the issues the women face are not just about individual struggle they demonstrate that major issues in Canada's social system have been neglected in public policy In order for these issues to be addressed we need to challenge the flawed public policies and the negative discourse that continue to marginalize single mothers in terms of the opportunities in their own lives and in terms of how they are understood by other Canadians The first person narratives of the struggles and issues faced by low income single mothers provide narrative richness and are augmented by introductory and concluding chapters that draw the narrative themes together and offer overarching discussion and analysis

Street Angel Magie Dominic, 2014-07-24 Magie Dominic's first memoir The Queen of Peace Room was shortlisted for the Canadian Women's Studies Award ForeWord magazine's Book of the Year Award and the Judy Grahn Award Told over an eight day period the book captured a lifetime of turbulent memories documenting with skill Dominic's experiences of violence incest and rape But her story wasn't finished Street Angel opens to the voice of an eleven year old Dominic She's growing up in Newfoundland Her mother suffers from terrifying nighttime hallucinations Her father's business is about to collapse She layers the world she hears on radio and television onto her family speaking in paratactic prose with a point blank delivery She finds relief only in the glamour of Hollywood films and the majesty of Newfoundland's wilderness Revealing her life through flashbacks humour and her signature self confidence Dominic takes readers from 1950s Newfoundland to 1960s Pittsburgh 1970s New York and the end of the millennium in Toronto Capturing the long days of childhood this book questions how important those days are in shaping who we become as we age and time seems to speed up With quick brush stroke chapters Dominic

chronicles sixty years of a complex secretive family in this story about violence adolescence families and forgiveness In the Unlikeliest of Places Annette Libeskind Berkovits, 2014-09-15 I was born in 1909 in Lodz but my passport says Przedborz He stopped suddenly and searched for a button Ach I forgot to explain this he said utterly frustrated then pushed the wrong button and erased what he had just recorded Shayze An uncharacteristic curse escaped his lips He took off his glasses and said I think it s time to prepare lunch Annette Libeskind Berkovits thought her attempt to have her father record his life s story failed But in 2004 three years after her father s death she was going through his things and found a box of tapes several years worth with his spectacular life triumphs and tragedies told one last time in his baritone voice Nachman Libeskind s remarkable story is an odyssey through crucial events of the twentieth century With an unshakable will and a few drops of luck he survives a pre war Polish prison witnesses the 1939 Nazi invasion of Lodz and narrowly escapes is imprisoned in a brutal Soviet gulag where he helps his fellow inmates survive and upon regaining his freedom treks to the foothills of the Himalayas where he finds and nearly loses the love of his life Later the crushing communist regime and a lingering postwar anti Semitism in Poland drive Nachman and his young family to Israel where he faces a new form of discrimination Then defiantly Nachman turns a pocketful of change into a new life in New York City where a heartbreaking promise leads to his unlikely success as a modernist painter that inspires others to pursue their dreams With just a box of tapes Annette Libeskind Berkovits tells more than her father s story she builds an uncommon family saga and reimagines a turbulent past In the process she uncovers a stubborn optimism that flourished in the unlikeliest of places Through the Hitler Line Laurence F. Wilmot, MC, 2006-01-01 Laurence Wilmot s Second World War memoir is a rare thing a first hand account of front line battle by an army officer who is a resolute non combatant And it is paradoxes such as this that also make Wilmot s book a unique and compelling document Wilmot as an Anglican chaplain is a priest dressed as a warrior a man of peace in battle fatigues He is an incongruous figure in a theatre of war always vigilant for opportunities to partake of silent meditation and prayer never failing to lose sight of the larger moral issues of the war His compassion is boundless his sensitivity acute and one senses his mounting emotional and spiritual enervation as the death toll of his fellow serving men steadily mounts At the centre of the book is Wilmot s witness of the murderous battle at the Arielli Wilmot s compassion for the fighting men compels him to leave the safety of his ministry and join them at the front at great personal risk There as an unarmed stretcher bearer he is kept busy transporting the wounded under enemy fire In this crucible of battle we see the qualities that attest to Wilmot s character and contribute to his memoir s importance an indefatigable devotion to his duty to save and comfort the wounded and a resolve to resist despair in spite of the terrible carnage all around In short a singular triumph of the decency of one man in the midst of total war
