North Belfast Images Of Ireland:

North and South Christine DeVine, Mary Ann Wilson, 2014-07-24 North and South is a multi dimensional look at a prevailing theme in current discourse on the concept of borders This collection of essays invites us to cross historical regional and disciplinary boundaries The contributors consider a range of primary texts use a number of critical approaches and make some surprising connections The borders created by the concepts of north and south provoke us to ask if the terms continue to represent real divisions or if usage and habit have drained them of any real meaning And how have literary texts sought to represent and elucidate the divisions and to complicate and undermine such rigid categories This collection of essays considers such questions and offers some tentative and original answers The essays in North and South treat a wide variety of topics generically and geographically chronologically and creatively They interrogate the elusive topic of boundaries symbolic and literal boundaries as means of communication rather than division boundaries that create borderlands boundaries that invite transgression boundaries that resist erasure Across and within these boundaries the theme of identity emerges international national regional gendered racial ethnic

The A to Z of the Northern Ireland Conflict Gordon Gillespie, 2009-09-24 For nearly four decades the conflict in Ireland has embittered relations between the communities living there and spoiled relations between the Republic of Ireland and Great Britain For three decades it escalated punctuated by periodic bloody clashes followed by somewhat calmer periods of tension during which violence of all sorts robberies kidnappings serious injuries and deaths were all too common During the past decade fortunately all sides have realized that armed solutions were unlikely to bring a solution to anyone's problems and that peace should be given a chance Fortunately with the establishment of a new Northern Ireland Executive there is a general acceptance that the conflict is now part of the past The A to Z of the Northern Ireland Conflict covers the history of the Troubles through a chronology covering the Northern Ireland conflict and peace process from 1968 until the formation of the new Northern Ireland Executive in May 2007 an introductory essay a bibliography and several hundred cross referenced dictionary entries on main events individuals and organizations Researchers with an interest in the Northern Ireland conflict will find this book to be an essential addition to their collection of reference books on the subject

North Belfast Peggy Weir, 2007 Since 1603 when Sir Arthur Chichester was given the Castle of Belfast the harbour and its trade has contributed to the growth of that part of the city on the north bank of the River Lagan Many of the merchants and industrialists built their fine houses in what is now north Belfast There too they built the Poor House now Clifton House the new parish church of St Anne shipyards cotton and linen mills a tobacco factory and the oldest grammar school in the city the Belfast Royal Academy This fascinating collection of over 200 photographs reflects these developments and charts the history character and life of North Belfast over the last one hundred years Chapters showing the churches schools and harbour are complemented by sections dealing with the everyday life of the people of North Belfast from leisure and social events to some notable local residents This

When God Took Sides, 2009-09-24 The struggle between Catholic and Protestant has shaped Irish history since the Reformation with tragic consequences up to the present day But how do Catholics and Protestants in Ireland see each other And how do they view their own communities and what these communities stand for Tracing the history of religious identities in Ireland over the last three centuries Marianne Elliott argues that these two questions are inextricably linked and that the identity of both Catholics and Protestants is shaped by the way that each community views the other Cutting through the layers of myths lies and half truths that make up the vision that Catholics and Protestants have of each other she looks at how mutual religious stereotypes were developed over the centuries how they were perpetuated and entrenched and how they have defined modern identities and shaped Ireland's historical destiny from the independence struggle and partition to the Troubles of the last four decades

Image and Power Sarah Sceats, Gail Cunningham, 2014-09-11 Image and Power is an important work of literary and cultural criticism This collection of essays focuses on some of the major issues addressed by women's writing in the twentieth century concerning genre subjectivity and social and cultural expectations issues which in the past have been regarded from an essentially male perspective The text introduces women writers whose novels have been widely read and provides an important contribution to the debate about women in literature

Wounded Cities Jane Schneider, Ida Susser, 2020-06-29 Although the seemingly apocalyptic scale of the World Trade Center disaster continues to haunt people across the globe it is only the most recent example of a city tragically wounded Cities are in fact perpetually caught up in cycles of degeneration and renewal As with the WTC from time to time these cycles are severely ruptured by a sudden unpredictable event In the wake of recent terrorist activities this timely book explores how urban populations are affected by wounds inflicted through violence civil wars overbuilding drug trafficking and the collapse of infrastructures as well as natural disasters such as earthquakes Mexico City New York Beirut Belfast Bangkok and Baghdad are just a few examples of cities riddled with problems that undermine on a daily basis the quality of urban life What does it mean for urban dwellers when the infrastructure of a city collapses transport communication grids heat light roads water and sanitation What are the effects of foreign investment and huge construction projects on urban populations and how does this change the look and character of a city How does drug trafficking intersect with class race and gender and what impact does it have on vulnerable urban communities How do political corruption and mafia networks distort the built environment Drawing on in depth case studies from across the globe this book answers these intriguing questions through its rigorous consideration of changing global and national contexts social movements and corrosive urban events Adopting a grass roots up approach it places emphasis on peoples experiences of uneven development and inequality their engagement with memory in the face of continual change and the relevance of political activism to bettering their lives It is especially attentive to the historical interaction of particular cities with wider political and economic forces as these interactions have shaped local governance over time

Music, the Moving Image and Ireland, 1897-2017 John O'Flynn, 2021-12-30 Music the Moving Image and Ireland 1897 2017 constitutes the first comprehensive study of music for screen productions from or relating to the island It identifies and interprets tendencies over the first 120 years of a field comprising the relatively distinct yet often overlapping areas of Irish themed and Irish produced film Dividing into three parts the book first explores accompaniments and scores for 20th century Irish themed narrative features that resulted in significant contributions by many Hollywood British continental European and to a lesser extent Irish composers along with the input of many orchestras and other musicians Its second part is framed by a consideration of various cultural political and economic developments in both the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland from the 1920s including the Troubles of 1968 1998 Focusing on scoring and other aspects of soundtrack production for domestic newsreel documentary film and TV programming it interprets the substantial output of many Irish composers within this milieu particularly from the 1960s to the 1990s Also referring to broader cultural and historical themes the book s third and final part charts approaches to and developments in music and sound design over various waves of Irish cinema from its relatively late emergence in the 1970s to an exponential growth and increasingly transnational orientation in the early decades of the 21st century

Literature and Culture in Northern Ireland Since 1965 Richard Kirkland, 2016-07-01 This study considers writing within the cultural context of Northern Ireland and discusses how writing creates a sense of community and the different forms this takes when written from loyalist or republican perspectives The book takes its major theoretical energy from readings of Antonio Gramsci's concept of hegemony and Walter Benjamin's work on historiography these are applied to major writers such as Seamus Heaney Tom Paulin Paul Muldoon and Edna Longley and to institutions such as the Ulster Folk and Transport Museum Snapshot Stories Erika Hanna,2020 Photographers often depict Ireland with bucolic rural landscapes but during the twentieth century men and women across Ireland picked up cameras to create and curate photographs revealing more complex and diverse images of Ireland Snapshot Stories Uses diverse photographic archives both professional and personal to explore these stories Loyalist Murals of Northern Ireland Kevin Traynor,2008-01-30 Pictures and images showing Murals from different areas in Protestant Northern Ireland showing historical events and depicting the images and actions of Protestant paramilitaries and the protestant faith

Fodor's See It Ireland Fodor's Travel Publications, Inc.,2011 The colorful guide that brings Ireland to life PHOTOS by the hundred 30 pages of COLOR MAPS REVIEWS of sights restaurants hotels and shops grouped by region for easy navigation PRACTICAL INFORMATION in every listing WALKING and DRIVING tours Cool INSIDER TIPS BEST OF lists that make itinerary planning a snap Northern Ireland and the politics of boredom George Legg,2018-09-10 This book provides a new interpretation of the Northern Irish Troubles From internment to urban planning the hunger strikes to post conflict tourism it asserts that concepts of capitalism have been consistently deployed to alleviate and exacerbate violence in the North Through a detailed analysis of the diverse cultural texts Legg traces the affective energies produced by capitalism's persistent attempt to resolve Northern Ireland's ethnic national divisions a process he calls the politics of boredom Such an approach warrants a reconceptualization of boredom as much as cultural production In close readings of Derek Mahon's poetry the photography of Willie Doherty and the female experience of incarceration Legg argues that cultural texts can delineate a more democratic less philosophical conception of ennui Critics of the Northern Irish Peace Process have begun to apprehend some of these tensions But an analysis of the post conflict condition cannot account for capitalism's protracted and enervating impact in Northern Ireland Consequently Legg returns to the origins of the Troubles and uses influential theories of capital accumulation to examine how a politicised sense of boredom persists throughout and after the years of conflict Like Left critique Legg's attention to the politics of boredom interrogates the depleted sense of humanity capitalism can create What Legg's approach proposes is as unsettling as it is radically new By attending to Northern Ireland's long standing experience of ennui this book ultimately isolates boredom as a source of optimism as well as a means of oppression

Digital contention in a divided society Paul Reilly,2021-02-02 How are platforms such as Facebook and Twitter used by citizens to frame contentious parades and protests in post conflict Northern Ireland What do these contentious episodes tell us about the potential of information and communication technologies to promote positive intergroup contact in the deeply divided society These issues are addressed in what is the first in depth qualitative exploration of how social media were used during the union flag protests December 2012 March 2013 and the Ardoyne parade disputes July 2014 and 2015

The book focuses on the extent to which affective publics mobilised and connected via expressions of solidarity on social media appear to escalate or de escalate sectarian tensions caused by these hybrid media events It also explores whether citizen activity on these online platforms has the potential to contribute to peacebuilding in Northern Ireland Nation and Gender in Contemporary Europe Vera Tolz,Stephenie Booth,2005 Building on the growing body of theoretical literature on the gendered nature of nationalism this book offers a systematic examination of similarities and differences in the construction of gender and national identities in post communist societies of Eastern and East Central Europe as well as established and the more stable democracies of Western Europe It points to some of the key sources of inevitable tensions in the future united Europe which stem from different perceptions of national and gender roles in different parts of the continent
