Publisher description Emotional Alterity in the Medieval North Sea World Erin Sebo, Matthew Firth, Daniel Anlezark, 2023-08-24 This book addresses a little considered aspect of the study of the history of emotions in medieval literature the depiction of perplexing emotional reactions Medieval literature often confronts audiences with displays of emotion that are improbable physiologically impossible or simply unfathomable in modern social contexts The intent of such episodes is not always clear medieval texts rarely explain emotional responses or their motivations The implication is that the meanings communicated by such emotional display were so obvious to their intended audience that no explanation was required This raises the question of whether such meanings can be recovered This is the task to which the contributors to this book have put themselves In approaching this question this book does not set out to be a collection of literary studies that treat portrayals of emotion as simple tropes or motifs isolated within their corpora Rather it seeks to uncover how such manifestations of feeling may reflect cultural and social dynamics underlying vernacular literatures from across the medieval North Sea world

The Texts and Contexts of Oxford, Bodleian Library, MS Laud Misc. 108 Kimberly Bell, Julie Nelson Couch, 2010-12-17 This book serves as the essential companion to the late thirteenth century Middle English manuscript Oxford Bodleian Library MS Laud Misc 108 It marks a collaborative effort by scholars who investigate the codicological and contextual features of this manuscript s vernacular poems

Saga emotions Gareth Lloyd Evans, Brynja Þorgeirsdóttir, Carolyne Larrington, 2025-06-10 Focusing particularly on historically oriented sagas Saga emotions identifies and examines a range of emotions from across Old Norse Icelandic saga literature Each chapter begins with a discrete emotion term such as rei i anger gle i joy or the peculiarly Old Norse v ghugr killing mood exploring its usages within the broad saga corpus and focusing on its contextual meanings and narrative purposes The contributions explore the specifics of the lexical terms used for different emotion states and offer in depth case studies that consider how various emotions manifest within particular examples of saga literature The book offers the emotional granularity lacking in current studies of Norse emotion and serves as an essential foundation for future research and study into emotional depiction in Old Norse Icelandic saga literature

The Cross Goes North Martin Carver, 2005 37 studies of the adoption of Christianity across northern Europe over 1000 years and the diverse reasons that drove the process In Europe the cross went north and east as the centuries unrolled from the Dingle Peninsula to Estonia and from the Alps to Lapland ranging in time from Roman Britain and Gaul in the third and fourth centuries to the conversion of peoples in the Baltic area a thousand years later These episodes of conversion form the basic narrative here History encourages the belief that the adoption of Christianity was somehow irresistible but specialists show the underside of the process by turning the spotlight from the missionaries who recorded their triumphs to the converted exploring their local situations and motives What were the reactions of the northern peoples to the Christian message Why would they wish to adopt it for the sake of its alliances In what way did they adapt the Christian ethos and infrastructure to suit their own community How did conversion affect the status of farmers of smiths of princes and of women Was society wholly changed or only in marginal matters of devotion and superstition These are the issues discussed here by thirty eight experts from across northern Europe some answers come from astute re readings of the texts alone but most are owed to a combination of history art history and archaeology working
