Patrick James, James M. Scott

Northern Ireland Crises And Conflict:

The British State and the Northern Ireland Crisis, 1969-73 William Beattie Smith, 2011 Focusing on four case studies author William Beattie Smith traces the evolution of British policy from 1969-73 and depicts how easily a conflict over national identity can turn into bloodshed grief and horror and how difficult it is once a serious fight has started to restore peace In each of the case studies Smith highlights a discrete policy followed by the British government in tackling political disorder in Northern Ireland and examines why the policy was chosen or pursued He outlines three broad strategic options reform coercion and powersharing and identifies factors influencing which of the three will be selected in practice Focusing on policy outcomes rather than the details of the negotiating process the author evaluates the relative importance of rational calculation patterns of understanding party politics diplomatic pressures organizational structure and official doctrine in shaping policies and initiating radical changes While rooted in policy analysis the book ventures into the territory of political history and conflict studies The author addresses issues such as the legitimacy of state authority the vulnerability of democratic institutions to the opposition of disaffected minorities and the tensions that exist between public order and individual rights His conclusion derives strategic lessons from the British experience in Northern Ireland and provides guidance for policymakers confronting challenges arising from comparable cases Northern Ireland John

Magee, 1974-01-01 Northern Ireland and the crisis of anti-racism Chris Gilligan, 2018-09-25 Racism and sectarianism makes an important contribution to the discussion on the crisis of anti racism in the United Kingdom The book looks at two phenomena that are rarely examined together racism and sectarianism The author argues that thinking critically about sectarianism and other racisms in Northern Ireland helps to clear up some confusions regarding race and ethnicity Many of the prominent themes in debates on racism and anti racism in the UK today the role of religion racism and terrorism community cohesion were central to discussions on sectarianism in Northern Ireland during the conflict and peace process The book provides a sustained critique of the Race Relations paradigm that dominates official anti racism and sketches out some elements of an emancipatory anti racism The Catholic Church and the Northern Ireland Crisis, 1968-86

Gerald McElroy, 1991 This study examines the response of institutional Catholicism to the political violence in Northern Ireland since 1968 The book is part contemporary history part study of the attitudes and opinions of Catholic clergy in Northern Ireland and part examination of the Northern Irish Catholic ethos Both in its breadth of reference and attention to detail Dr McElroy's study helps to illuminate a hitherto unexplored but vital aspect of the Northern Ireland Crisis

Continuity, Change and Crisis in Contemporary Ireland Brian Girvin, Gary Murphy, 2013-10-18 The focus of this book is to analyse from a number of perspectives the politics of change in Ireland north and south since 1969 The emergence of the troubles in Northern Ireland the final push to gain entry to the EEC changing social mores and severe economic difficulties all begin to appear on the horizon at this stage While considerable change and indeed moments of extreme crisis have taken place in areas such as Northern Ireland the economy moral politics and Ireland s attitude towards the European Union continuity has also been a significant hallmark of Irish politics since 1969 This volume offers important perspectives and opens up new debates in explaining the phenomena of continuity change and crisis in contemporary Ireland New evidence on the origins of the troubles in Northern Ireland the Arms Crisis Ireland s relationship with Europe the process of social partnership and the politics of morality all offer important fresh insights into how contemporary Ireland has functioned Featuring a number of high profile scholars and uniquely dealing with both Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland this volume argues that the intriguing feature of recent Irish history is not the absence of change but the extent to which change has been mediated by the existing political cultures national traditions and long standing institutions of both north and south This book was based on a special issue of Irish Political Studies

Belfast '69 Andrew Walsh, 2017-05-17 August 1969 Belfast A campaign for civil rights in Northern Ireland that had begun less than two years previously degenerates into inter communal violence The three days of 13 14 and 15 August changed the course of Northern Irish history by radicalising a whole generation of

Catholic youths On the Protestant side the Ulster Volunteer Force UVF revived in 1966 but barely mentioned outside Shankill Road was in full conflict by 1972 How did the events of August 1969 radicalise the emerging youth of both sides of the religious divide How did they drive an otherwise indifferent generation to carry out some of the most heinous crimes in Irish history and become embroiled in the longest period of Irish Troubles to date In Belfast 69 Andrew Walsh uncovers the truth by interviewing many from both sides the young men who joined the numerous armies that sprung up in the wake of that fateful August Illustrations 41 colour photographs A Bibliography of British History, 1914-1989 Keith

Robbins, American Historical Association, Royal Historical Society (Great Britain), 1996 Containing over 25 000 entries this unique volume will be absolutely indispensable for all those with an interest in Britain in the twentieth century Accessibly arranged by theme with helpful introductions to each chapter a huge range of topics is covered There is a comprehensive index From Hope to Hatred Andrew Walsh, 2013-05-01 The Falls Curfew of 3 5 July 1970 is considered by many to be the turning point in Catholic Army relations throughout Northern Ireland and Belfast in particular and ultimately led to Catholic alienation from the state The curfew was intended to dispel the violence it lasted 36 hours during which 4 people were killed at least 75 were wounded including 15 soldiers and 337 people were arrested Allegations of army brutality towards Catholics and destruction of property have also popularised this belief However the seeds of Catholic mistrust were sown decades before The partition of Ireland in 1922 the subsequent Unionist domination of government and the ignorance of the British government towards the province ensured that it was only a matter of time that the initial welcome for the army in 1969 faded This is the story of the Falls Curfew its causes and the subsequent polarisation of a community under siege It is a story many wish could be forgotten but its legacy still lives on National and International Conflicts, 1945-1995 Frank R.

Pfetsch, Christoph Rohloff, 2013-10-11 The information flow about crises and conflicts is highly selective the media only focus on a few major conflicts at a time Many conflicts are neglected others soon forgotten after the fighting ends This book fills the gaps and offers a systematic overview of all crises and conflicts in and among states since 1945 and traces the global trends of conflict development Based on the broad empirical basis of the Conflict Simulation Model KOSIMO Pfetsch and Rohloff use an integrated approach to cover many forms and types of political conflicts both peaceful and violent
