Kynaston's acclaimed Tales of a New Jerusalem series brings to vivid life the period between October 1962 and February 1965. Drawing upon an unparalleled array of diaries, newspapers, and first-hand recollections, Kynaston's masterful storytelling refreshes familiar events like the Cuban Missile Crisis, the Big Freeze, the assassination of JFK, the funeral of Winston Churchill, while revealing in all their variety the experiences of the people living through this history. Major themes complement the compelling narrative, an anti-Establishment mood epitomised by the BBC's controversial 'That Was The Week That Was'. A welfare state only slowly becoming more responsive to the individual needs of its users, and the rise of consumer culture as Habitat arrived and shopping centres like Birmingham's Bull Ring proliferated. Multi-voiced, multi-dimensional and immersive, Tales of a New Jerusalem has transformed how we see and understand post-war Britain.

A Northern Wind continues the journey. Religion and Dialogue in the City Julia Ippgrave, Thorsten Knauth, Anna Körs, Dörthe Vieregge, Marie von der Lippe, 2018. Urban spaces throughout Europe are increasingly characterised by a mixture of different religions and worldviews. Being home to a wide range of religious and non-religious groups and individuals does not mean that cities are automatically also spaces of interreligious and interfaith encounters. Whether a city is a venue for interreligious encounter and dialogue or merely a place where various religions and worldviews exist side by side is a central question for the continuing social cohesion of modern societies. This volume presents selected findings of the international research project Religion and Dialogue in Modern Societies ReDi which investigated dialogical practice in the five metropolitan cities Oslo, Stockholm, London, Hamburg and Duisburg. It offers a range of case studies addressing two fields of activity: dialogue and interreligious encounters in the urban space and dialogue in education.

The Uncrowned King Michelle West, 1998-09-01. The second novel of the acclaimed Sun Sword series returns to a war-torn world of noble houses divided and demon lords unleashed. The King's Challenge it was a proving ground for warriors in the Essalieyan Empire, the hallowed contest that made legends of men. And for Valedan, last survivor of the ruling family of the Dominion, it was a declaration of his right to claim the throne stolen from the Leonne clan by treachery and assassination. Failure to earn the title of King's Champion would not deprive Valedan of either his Dominion or Essalieyan allies, but winning would announce to the world that he was no callow boy, no mere pawn in the games of power. And the games of power were indeed being played not only in the Empire and Dominion but in the far more dangerous realm of the Lord of Night. As the time of the Challenge neared, Valedan and all those who guarded him would be hard-pressed to survive long enough for him to enter the competition. For the demon kin had been set to hunt him down and destroy him. They had failed before, though many innocents had paid for the price. They must not fail again for slaying Valedan was but the opening gambit in a war that would free the Lord of Night to reign over all the mortal world.
