The Jews of Modern France Paula E. Hyman, 2023-04-28 The Jews of Modern France explores the endlessly complex encounter of France and its Jews from just before the Revolution to the eve of the twenty first century In the late eighteenth century some forty thousand Jews lived in scattered communities on the peripheries of the French state not considered French by others or by themselves Two hundred years later in 1989 France celebrated the anniversary of the Revolution with the largest most vital Jewish population in western and central Europe Paula Hyman looks closely at the period that began when France's Jews were offered citizenship during the Revolution She shows how they and succeeding generations embraced the opportunities of integration and acculturation redefined their identities adapted their Judaism to the pragmatic and ideological demands of the time and participated fully in French culture and politics Within this same period Jews in France fell victim to a secular political antisemitism that mocked the gains of emancipation culminating first in the Dreyfus Affair and later in the murder of one fourth of them in the Holocaust Yet up to the present day through successive waves of immigration Jews have asserted the compatibility of their French identity with various versions of Jewish particularity including Zionism This remarkable view in microcosm of the modern Jewish experience will interest general readers and scholars alike The Jews of Modern France explores the endlessly complex encounter of France and its Jews from just before the Revolution to the eve of the twenty first century In the late eighteenth century some forty thousand Jews lived in scattered communities

Tony Judt, New York Review of Books, Western and Northern Europe June 1942-1945, Katja Happe, Barbara Lambauer, Clemens Maier-Wolthausen, 2022-08-01. Executive editors Katja Happe, Barbara Lambauer and Clemens Maier-Wolthausen with Maja Peers. English language edition prepared by Elizabeth Harvey, Johannes Gamm, Georg Felix Harsch, Dorothy Mas and Caroline Pearce. In summer 1942 the Germans escalated the systematic deportations of Jews from Western and Northern Europe to the extermination camps. In most of the countries under German control the occupying forces initially focused on arresting foreign and stateless Jews, thereby securing the cooperation of local authorities. However, before long the entire Jewish population was targeted for deportation. This volume documents the parallels and differences in the persecution of Jews in occupied Norway, Denmark, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg and France in the period from summer 1942 to liberation; it records the implementation of the systematic deportation and murder of Jews from Western and Northern Europe and it also records the rescue of more than 5,000 Danish Jews. In letters and diary entries the persecuted Jews describe their attempts to flee, life in hiding, the transit camps and deportation transports that often took several days. In Westerbork camp in the occupied Netherlands, Bob Cahen himself, an inmate, recorded in his diary the arrival in the camp of 17,000 Jews from across the Netherlands in October 1942. People arrived here herded like livestock. Some were buried beneath their luggage, others without any possessions at all, not even properly dressed. Women in poor health who had been hauled out of bed in thin nightgowns, children in undergarments and barefoot, the elderly, the ill, the infirm, more and more new people came to the camp. The sources in the volume show how the perpetrators attempted to dupe their victims regarding the destination of the transports and how Jewish organizations attempted to alleviate the suffering of the deportees. The documents additionally illustrate how the resistance movement gained momentum during this period. Learn more about the PMJ on <https://pmjdocuments.org>.

Letters to Madame Hanska, born Countess Rzewuska, afterwards Madame Honoré de Balzac, 1833-1846, Honoré de Balzac, 2022-09-16. In Letters to Madame Hanska, born Countess Rzewuska, afterwards Madame Honoré de Balzac, 1833-1846, Honoré de Balzac offers an intimate glimpse into his emotional landscape through a series of heartfelt correspondences with his lifelong love, Madame Hanska. These letters are not merely romantic missives; they serve as a testament to Balzac's literary style, marked by meticulous observation and philosophical reflection. They reveal the inner workings of a master chronicler of society navigating the complexities of love, ambition and artistic aspiration, while also reflecting broader historical and cultural trends of 19th-century France. Balzac, a pivotal figure in literary realism, wrote extensively about the social dynamics of his time, drawing on his personal experiences to inform his characters and themes. His passionate devotion to Madame Hanska, whom he met through their shared literary circles, was a significant influence in his life and work, melding the personal and the artistic in a unique way. This correspondence provides crucial insight into the motivations behind some of Balzac's seminal works highlighting his struggle between his literary commitments and personal aspirations I highly recommend Letters to Madame Hanska not only for those interested in Balzac's oeuvre but also for anyone intrigued by the intersections of love and literature. This collection not only exposes the vulnerabilities of a literary giant but also illustrates the timeless nature of human relationships making it a valuable read for scholars and romantics alike. La Comédie

Schatteles, 2014-03-31 Offering a testimony to his love of reading and the goal of sharing it with others author Tibor Schatteles presents a collection of twelve essays that study a wide range of works of literature including works of Philostratos of Lemnos Sophocles Cervantes Don Quixote Gogol Chekhov Balzac Gobseck Hermann Broch Robert Musil James Joyce Franz Kafka Marcel Proust and Aristotles Poetics. In these essays he presents the simple exercises of a reader reaching out to communicate with other readers building on notes he made during first readings and gathered following his retirement from the Canadian Federal Civil Service. Taking a cue from Montaignes essay on reading books he asks nothing of his books but the pleasure of an honest entertainment and yet he also seeks to share his ideas with others and engage in discussion and analysis. In The Mirror of Socrates Schatteles examines the seminal works of literature in scholarly details sharing his thoughts, ideas and interpretations of each authors writing and purpose. Discourse/counter-discourse Richard Terdiman, 1989 Discourse Counter Discourse is situated on the challenging border between cultural history and literary criticism combining the insights of Marxism and semiotics it attempts to delineate the cultural function of texts. Focusing on France during a period of remarkable cultural social and political transformation Richard Terdiman examines both the dominant bourgeois discourse novels newspapers and other mass forms of expression and the effort of intellectuals to devise counter discourses to combat it. He views the counter discourses created by such principal figures as Flaubert Balzac Daumier Baudelaire Mallarmé and Marx not as isolated elements of nineteenth century culture but paradoxically as a vital part of the everyday life of the period. Terdiman maintains that an intricate and continuous interplay of the opposing dynamics of stability and destabilization was at the center of and gave direction to historical and cultural change. Incorporating the work of such cultural theoreticians as Bakhtin Gramsci Bourdieu Foucault and Derrida Terdiman explores discursive conflict in relations between literature and the visual arts the novel and political philosophy and elite literature and popular culture. He asserts that to understand the complex engagement between the texts of a cultural canon and those of its subversion we must broaden traditional notions of the sign to include not just linguistic but also social difference. The forms of society's work family structure gender roles and educational and political organization he says all live and struggle within the signs of which every text is made Richard Terdiman's model discourse against counter discourse reveals the forces and tensions that shape cultural life His book will interest not only students and scholars of French literature but literary theorists cultural and intellectual historians and Marxist scholars in a number of disciplines Falling Short Aleksandar Stevic, 2020-04-09 A paradox haunts the bildungsroman few protagonists successfully complete the process of maturation and socialization that ostensibly defines the form From the despondent endings of Dickens's Great Expectations and Meredith's The Ordeal of Richard Feverel to the suicide of Balzac's Lucien de Rubempré and the demise of Eliot's Maggie and Tom Tulliver the nineteenth century bildungsroman offers narratives of failure paralysis and destruction goals cannot be achieved identities are impossible to forge and the narrative of socialization routinely crumbles Examining the novels of Stendhal Honoré de Balzac Charles Dickens Charlotte Brontë Henry James Samuel Butler James Joyce and Marcel Proust Falling Short reveals not only a crisis of character development but also a crisis of plotting and narrative structure From the inception of literary realism in the 1830s to the height of modernism a century later the bildungsroman presents itself as a key symptom of modern Europe's inability to envision either coherent subjectivity or successful socialization Rather than articulating an arc of personal development Stevi argues the bildungsroman tends to condemn its heroes to failure because our modern understanding of both individual subjectivity and social success remains riddled with contradictions Placing primary texts in conversation with the central historical debates of their time Falling Short offers a revisionist history of the realist and modernist bildungsroman unearthing the neglected role of defeat in the history of the genre Revue Des Français.
