Nostalgia Milton L. Miller,1969      Nostalgia Milton L. Miller,1969      Nostalgia, a Psychoanalytic Study of Marcel Proust, by Milton L. Miller, ... Dr. Milton L. Miller,1956      NOSTALGIA. A PSYCHOANALYTIC STUDY OF MARCEL PROUST. VON MILTON L. MILLER. Milton L. Miller,1969      Nostalgia Milton Leonard Miller,1957      Mourning and Creativity in Proust Anna Magdalena Elsner,2017-03-09 This study explores Proust s answers to some of the fundamental challenges of the inevitable human experience of mourning Thinking mourning and creativity together allows for a fresh approach to the modernist novel at large but also calls for a reassessment of the particular historical and social challenges faced by mourners at the beginning of the twentieth century The book enables the reader to acknowledge loss and forgetting as an essential part of memory and it proposes that this literary topos has seminal implications for an understanding of the ethics aesthetics and erotic in Proust s A la recherche du temps perdu Drawing on the works of Sigmund Freud and Jacques Derrida Anna Magdalena Elsner develops an original theory of how mourning and creativity are linked by emphasizing that ethical dilemmas are central to an understanding of the novel s final aesthetic apotheosis This sheds new light on the enigmatic and versatile nature of mourning but also pays tribute to those fertile tensions and paradoxes that have made Proust s novel captivating for readers since its publication      Freud, Proust and Lacan Malcolm Bowie,1987 The views of Freud Proust and Lacan are depicted through this staging of a series of provocative dialogues between psychological science and imaginative literature of the twentieth century      Nostalgia in Jewish-American Theatre and Film, 1979-2004 Ben Furnish,2005 Nostalgia a bittersweet yearning for the past is an important element in Jewish American performances of the late twentieth century Numerous plays and films of this time use nostalgia to engage Jewish including Yiddish cultural themes and images Nostalgia offers audiences a window through which to examine past and current social changes These include American Jews departure from Europe to America the city for the suburbs Yiddish for English as well as the civil rights women s peace and gay and lesbian movements and other transformations These performances illustrate how theatre and film transmit culture from generation to generation and between one ethnic community and the wider American scene

A Psychoanalytic Approach to Visual Artists James W. Hamilton,2018-03-22 James Hamilton s engaging book offers us his own unique insight into the unconscious factors involved in the creative processes associated with painting filmmaking and photography by studying the lives and works of a number of artists each one having a unique personal style In separate chapters he looks at the lives and works of Mark Rothko Joseph Cornell Piet Mondrian Pablo Picasso Clement Greenberg Edward Weston Ingmar Bergman Francois Truffaut Quentin Tarantino and Florian von Donnersmarck from a psychoanalytic perspective with emphasis on unconscious motivation and the quest for mastery of intrapsychic conflict The book is bound to encourage further questions and hypotheses about the nature of these complex phenomena      The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 17 Jerome A. Winer,2013-05-13 Volume 17 the first volume of The Annual published by The Analytic Press includes John Gedo's examination of the epistemology of transference and Edwin Wallace's outline of a phenomenological and minimally theoretical psychoanalysis. Studies in applied psychoanalysis focus on the art of Edvard Munch, Mavis and Harold Wylie, George Eliot's Romola, Jerome Winer and psychoanalysis and music, Martin Nass. Marcel Proust, Harold Bloom, 2009. A guide to three novels by Marcel Proust containing selections of critical essays, plot summaries for each work and a biography of Proust. Marcel Proust, Leo Bersani, 2013-07-18. Oxford University Press published eminent literary critic Leo Bersani's first book on Proust in 1965 but the work has long been out of print. This new edition comes in response to a recent renewal of interest among philosophers of literature among others and features a new preface from the author.

In Looking Back One Learns to See: Marcel Proust and Photography, Mary Bergstein, 2014-03-01. Marcel Proust offered the twentieth century a new psychology of memory and seeing. His novel In Search of Lost Time was written in the modern age of photography and art history. In Looking Back One Learns to See: Marcel Proust and Photography is an intellectual adventure that brings to light Proust's visual imagination, his visual metaphors and his photographic resources and imaginings. The book features over 90 illustrations. Mary Bergstein highlights various kinds of photography: daguerreotypes, stereoscopic cards, cartes de visite, postcards, book illustrations and other photographic mediums. Portraiture, medical photography, spirit photography, architectural photography, Orientalism, ethnographic photography and fin de siècle studies of Botticelli, Leonardo and Vermeer are considered in terms of Proust's life and work. The net is cast wide and each image under discussion has been researched with subtle attention to art literature and cultural history. This scholarly study in literature and visual culture will be a delight too for general readers who love photography or Proust. Mary Bergstein is professor of History of Art and Visual Culture at the Rhode Island School of Design. She won the 2012 Courage to Dream book prize from the American Psychoanalytic Association for Mirrors of Memory: Freud, Photography and the History of Art (Cornell, 2010). She has published numerous books and articles on art and visual culture from Italian Renaissance sculpture to contemporary photography. Hardy's Influence on the Modern Novel, Peter J. Casagrande, 1987-05-27. Proust's Snobs, Inverts, and Jews, Adeline Soldin, 2025-03-06. An intersectional investigation of identity formation in Marcel Proust's magnum opus. As metonyms for broader categories such as class, sexuality and ethnicity, the three most discussed identity groups in Proust's La Recherche du Temps Perdu—snobs, invertes and Jews—prove to be deeply intertwined and perplexing representations. Attentive to these interwoven complexities, Proust's Snobs, Inverts, and Jews examines the novelist's exploitation of classification systems as a means to subvert the notion of a fixed identity. To illustrate Proust's challenges to a social order that restricts our perceptions of identity, Adeline Soldin addresses the inconsistencies and friction surrounding the portrayal of these key figures in his seven-volume novel. Many scholars have recognized that the narrator's formative journey in La Recherche leads to disillusionment and increased mockery of his fellow characters. Soldin contends, however, that Proust does not merely deride characters' behavior but rather interrogates their diverse motivations and tendencies, thereby exposing the performative nature of identity Proust's Snobs, Inverts and Jews draws on Judith Butler's theories of performativity to illustrate Proust's precocious portrayal of identity in La Recherche as an elusive unattainable idea that characters pursue yet consistently fail to establish. Ultimately the enigmatic and anonymous narrator models fluidity and promotes fantasy and imagination to compensate for the limitations imposed on individuals by social and linguistic conventions.

Screening Nostalgia Christine Sprengler, 2009-01-01 In this fascinating in depth study of the impact of nostalgia on contemporary American cinema Christine Sprengler unpicks the history of the concept and explores its significance in theory and practice. She offers a lucid analysis of the development of nostalgia in American society and culture navigating a path through the key debates and aligning herself with recent attempts to recuperate its critical potential. This journey opens up the myriad permutations of nostalgia across visual and material culture and their interface with cinema with the 1950s emerging as a privileged moment. Four case studies Sin City, Far From Heaven, The Aviator and The Good German analyse the ways in which aspects of visual design such as props, costume and colour contribute to the nostalgic aesthetic allowing for both critical distance and emotion. Written with verve, style and impressive attention to detail, Screening Nostalgia is an invaluable addition to existing scholarship. It is also essential reading for anyone interested in the ways in which we access the past through cinema. Pam Cook, Professor Emerita in Film, University of Southampton.

The Course of Life: Adulthood and the aging process, 1981

The Proustian Mind Anna Elsner, Thomas Stern, 2022-12-30 When Marcel Proust started to work on In Search of Lost Time in 1908 he wrote this question in his notebook: Should I make it a novel, a philosophical study, am I a novelist? Throughout his famous multi-volume work Proust directly engages several philosophers and few novels are as thoroughly saturated with philosophical themes and concepts as In Search of Lost Time. The Proustian Mind is an outstanding reference source to the rich philosophical range of Proust's work and the first major volume of its kind. Including 31 chapters by an international team of contributors, the volume is divided into seven clear parts: Proust's life and works, metaphysics and epistemology, mind and language, aesthetics, ethics, gender and sexuality, predecessors, contemporaries and successors. Within these sections key Proustian themes are explored from a philosophical standpoint including time, the self, memory, imagination, jealousy, beauty, love, subjectivity and desire. The final section considers Proust in relation to important philosophers such as Schopenhauer, Nietzsche, Bergson, Merleau-Ponty, Sartre, de Beauvoir and Deleuze. The Proustian Mind is essential reading for those studying aesthetics, philosophy of literature, phenomenology and ethics and will also be of interest to those in literature studying modernism, French literature and the relationship between literature and philosophy.

Around Proust Richard E. Goodkin, 1991-06-05 A study in obsession Marcel Proust's A la recherche du temps perdu is seemingly a self-sufficient universe of remarkable internal consistency and yet is full of complex gargantuan digressions. Richard Goodkin follows the dual spirit of the novel through highly suggestive readings of the work in its interactions with music, psychoanalysis, philosophy and cinema and such literary genres as epic, lyric poetry and tragedy. In exploring this fascinating intertextual network Goodkin reveals some of Proust's less obvious creative sources and considers his influence on later art forms. The artistic and intellectual entities examined in relation to Proust's novel are extremely diverse, coming from periods ranging from antiquity (Homer, Zeno of Elea) to the 1950s (Hitchcock) and belonging to the cultures of the Greek, French, German, and English-speaking worlds. In spite of this variety of form and perspective, all of these analyses share a common methodology: that of digressive reading. They explore Proust's novel not only in light of such famous passages as those of the madeleine and the good night kiss, but also on the basis of seemingly small details that ultimately take us, like the novel itself, in unexpected directions.

Modernism and Perversion A. Schaffner, 2015-12-11. Charting the construction of sexual perversions in nineteenth and early twentieth century medical, psychiatric, and psychological discourse, Schaffner argues that sexologists' preoccupation with these perversions was a response to specifically modern concerns and illuminates the role of literary texts in the formation of sexological knowledge.
