Not One Of The Family Foreign Domestic Workers In Canada:

Not One of the Family Abigail Bess Bakan, Daiva Stasiulis, Daiva K. Stasiulis, 1997-01-01 A collection of original essays by researchers and workers turned activists it documents how citizen and non citizen workers are treated unequally in the Canadian system and demonstrates how workers can resist exploitation Temporary Work, Agencies and Unfree Labour Judy Fudge, Kendra Strauss, 2013-08-29 Unfree labor has not disappeared from advanced capitalist economies In this sense the debates among and between Marxist and orthodox economic historians about the incompatibility of capitalism and unfree labor are moot the International Labour Organisation has identified forced coerced and unfree labor as a contemporary issue of global concern Previously hidden forms of unfree labor have emerged in parallel with several other well documented trends affecting labor conditions rights and modes of regulation These evolving types of unfree labor include the increasing normalization of contingent work and by extension the undermining of the standard contract of employment and an increase in labor intermediation The normative political and numerical rise of temporary employment agencies in many countries in the last three decades is indicative of these trends It is in the context of this rapidly changing landscape that this book consolidates and expands on research designed to understand new institutions for work in the global era This edited collection provides a theoretical and empirical exploration of the links between unfree labor intermediation and modes of regulation with particular focus on the evolving institutional forms and political economic contexts that have been implicated in and shaped by the ascendancy of temp agencies What is distinctive about this collection is this bi focal lens it makes a substantial theoretical contribution by linking disparate literatures on and debates about the co evolution of contingent work and unfree labor new forms of labor intermediation and different regulatory approaches but it further lays the foundation for this theory in a series of empirically rich and geographically diverse case studies This integrative approach is grounded in a cross national comparative framework using this approach as the basis for assessing how and to what extent temporary agency work can be considered unfree wage labor Feminist History in Canada Post-Doctoral Fellow at the Department of History Nancy Janovicek, Catherine Carstairs, 2013-11-25 In the late 1970s feminists urged us to rethink Canada by placing women s experiences at the centre of historical analysis Forty years later women s and gender historians continue to take up the challenge not only to interrogate the idea of nation but also to place their work in a global perspective This volume showcases the work of scholars who draw on critical race theory postcolonial theory and transnational history to re examine familiar topics such as biography and oral history paid and unpaid work marriage and family and women s political action Taken together these exciting new essays demonstrate the continued relevance of history informed by feminist perspectives effectively maintain a sense of familial cohesion through distance Edited by Maria Rosario T de Guzman Jill Brown and Carolyn Pope Edwards Parenting From Afar and the Reconfiguration of Family Across Distance uniquely highlights how families both in times of crisis and within normative cultural practices organize and configure themselves and their parenting through physical separation In this volume readers are given a unique look into the lives of families around the world that are affected by separation due to a wide range of circumstances including economic migration fosterage divorce military deployment education and orphanhood Contributing authors from the fields of psychology anthropology sociology education and geography all delve deep into the daily realities of these families and share insight on why they live apart from one another how families are redefined across long distances and the impact absence has on various members within the unit An especially timely volume Parenting From Afar and the Reconfiguration of Family Across Distance offers readers an important understanding and examination of family life in response to social change and shifts in the caregiving context

When Care Work Goes Global Mary Romero, Valerie Preston, Wenona Giles, 2016-02-11 Women who migrate into domestic labour and care work are the single largest female occupational group migrating globally at present Their participation in global migration systems has been acknowledged but remains under theorized Specifically the impacts of women migrating into care work in the receiving as well as the sending societies are profound altering gendered aspects of both societies We know that migration systems link the women who migrate and the households and organizations that employ domestic and care workers but how do these migration systems work and more importantly what are their impacts on the sending as well as the receiving societies How do sending and receiving societies regulate women's migration for care work and how do these labour market exchanges take place How is reproductive labour changed in the receiving society when it is done by women who are subject to multifaceted othering racializing processes A must buy acquisition When Care Work Goes Global will be an extremely valuable addition for course adoption in migration labour and gender courses taught in Sociology Anthropology Geography Women's Studies Area Studies and International Development Studies

Transnational Migration, Gender and Rights Ragnhild Sollund, 2012-02-03 This book examines the vulnerability caused by migration in particular the vulnerability of women that may cause forced migration and the ways in which this is dealt with by national authorities in affluent European states It explores transnational migration gender and human rights migration regimes and anti trafficking efforts in Norway

Political Worlds of Women Mary Hawkesworth, 2018-04-19 Political Worlds of Women provides a comprehensive overview of women's political activism comparing formal and informal channels of power from official institutions of state to grassroots mobilizations and Internet campaigns Illuminating the politics of identity enmeshed in local national and global gender orders this book explores women's creation of new political spaces and innovative political strategies to secure full citizenship and equal access to political power Incorporating case studies from Africa Asia Europe and the Americas Mary Hawkesworth analyzes critical issues such as immigration and citizenship the politics of representation sexual regulation and gender mainstreaming in order to examine how women mobilize in this era of globalization Political Worlds of Women deepens understandings of national and global citizenship and presents the formidable challenges facing racial and gender justice in the contemporary world It is an essential resource for students and scholars of women s studies and gender politics

Care Activism Ethel Tungohan,2023-08-15 Care activism challenges the stereotype of downtrodden migrant caregivers by showing that care workers have distinct ways of caring for themselves for each other and for the larger transnational community of care workers and their families Ethel Tungohan illuminates how the goals and desires of migrant care worker activists goes beyond political considerations like policy changes and overturning power structures Through practices of subversive friendships and being there for each other care activism acts as an extension of the daily work that caregivers do oftentimes also instilling practices of resistance and critical hope among care workers At the same time the communities created by care activism help migrant caregivers survive and even thrive in the face of arduous working and living conditions and the pains surrounding family separation As Tungohan shows care activism also unifies caregivers to resist society s legal and economic devaluations of care and domestic work by reaffirming a belief that they and what they do are important and necessary

Migration and Domestic Work Helma Lutz,2016-04-22 Domestic work has become highly relevant on a local and global scale Until a decade ago domestic workers were rare in European households today they can be found working for middle class families and single people for double or single parents as well as for the elderly Performing the three C s cleaning caring and cooking domestic workers offer their woman power on a global market which Europe has become part of This global market is now considered the largest labour market for women world wide and it has triggered the feminization of migration This volume brings together contributions by European and US based researchers to look at the connection between migration and domestic work on an empirical and theoretical level The contributors elaborate on the phenomenon of domestic work in late modern societies by discussing different methodological and theoretical approaches in an interdisciplinary setting The volume also looks at the gendered aspects of domestic work it asks why the re introduction of domestic workers in European households has become so popular and will argue that this phenomenon is challenging gender theories This is a timely book and will be of interest to academics and students in the fields of migration gender and European studies

Reading Canadian Women's and Gender History Nancy Janovicek, Carmen Nielson, 2019-05-06 Inspired by the question of what's next in the field of Canadian women's and gender history this broadly historiographical volume represents a conversation among established and emerging scholars who share a commitment to understanding the past from intersectional feminist perspectives It includes original essays on Quebecois Indigenous Black and immigrant women's histories and tackles such diverse topics as colonialism religion labour warfare sexuality and reproductive labour and justice Intended as a regenerative retrospective of a critically important field this collection both engages analytically with the current state of women's and gender historiography in Canada and draws on its rich past to generate new knowledge and areas for inquiry

Unsettled Labors Rachel H. Brown, 2024-06-24 In Unsettled Labors Rachel H Brown explores the overlooked labor of migrant workers in Israel's eldercare industry Brown argues that live in eldercare in Palestine Israel which is primarily done by migrant workers is an often invisible area where settler colonialism is reproduced culturally economically and biologically Situating Israeli labor markets within a longer history of imperialism and dispossession of Palestinian land Brown positions migrant eldercare within the resulting tangle of Israeli laws policies and social discourses She draws from interviews with caretakers public statements court documents and first hand fieldwork to uncover the inherently contradictory nature of elder care work the intimate presence of South and

Southeast Asian workers in the home unsettles the idea of the Israeli home as an exclusively Jewish space By paying close attention to the comparative racialization of migrant workers Palestinians asylum seekers and Mizrahi and Ashkenazi settlers Brown raises important questions of labor social reproduction displacement and citizenship told through the stories of collective care provided by migrant workers in a settler colonial state Citizenship: Pushing the Boundaries The Feminist Review Collective,2005-06-27 Brings together global perspectives and issues of citizenship Covers feminist debates such as citizenship as a status bestowing rights and responsibilities passive and active citizenship and the public and private citizen

Changing Canada Wallace Clement, Leah F. Vosko,2003-03-03 Changing Canada examines political transformations welfare state restructuring international boundaries and contexts the new urban experience and creative resistance A Family Matter Megan Gaucher,2018-05-15 How do we define family In an attempt to police incoming migrants the Harper government adopted a strict definition of family to limit access to citizenship for certain immigrants Even when immigrants had no intention of sponsoring family members their familial networks affected their entry to Canada resulting in differentiated treatment of families living within and beyond Canadian borders Megan Gaucher analyzes the government's assessment of sexual minority refugee claimants relationship history and common law and married spousal sponsorship applications and its crackdown on marriage fraud concluding that this narrative of citizenship reinforces racialized gendered and sexualized assumptions about the Canadian family As many Western governments ponder more restrictive immigration policies A Family Matter offers a timely examination of family formation as a factor in both granting and refusing citizenship This important work proposes a course for re evaluating how family is defined and for implementing more just assessments of immigrants and refugees Rethinking Empowerment Jane L. Parpart, Shirin M. Rai, Kathleen A. Staudt,2003-08-29 Rethinking Empowerment looks at the changing role of women in developing countries and calls for a new approach to empowerment An approach that adopts a more nuanced feminist interpretation of power and empowerment recognises that local empowerment is always embedded in regional national and global contexts pays attention to institutional structures and politics and acknowledges that empowerment is both a process and an outcome Moreover the book warns that an obsession with measurement rather than process can undermine efforts to foster transformative and empowering outcomes It concludes that power must be restored as the centrepiece of empowerment Only then will the term and its advocates provide meaningful ammunition for dealing with the challenges of an increasingly unequal and often sexist global local world
