Death by Fire and Ice Brian O'Connor, 2022-10-15 Death by Fire and Ice tells the little known story of the sinking of the steamboat Lexington on Long Island Sound in January 1840 Built in 1835 by Cornelius Vanderbilt the Lexington left Manhattan bound for Stonington Connecticut at four o'clock in the afternoon on a bitterly cold day carrying an estimated one hundred forty seven passengers and crew and a cargo of among other things baled cotton After making her way up an ice encrusted East River and into Long Island Sound she caught fire off Eaton's Neck on Long Island's north shore at approximately seven o'clock The fire quickly ignited the cotton stowed on board With the crew unable to extinguish the fire the blaze burned through the ship's wheel and tiller ropes rendering the ship unmanageable Soon after the engine died and the blazing ship drifted aimlessly in the Sound away from shore with the prevailing wind and current As the night wore on the temperature plummeted reaching nineteen degrees below zero With no hope of rescue on the dark horizon the forlorn passengers and crew faced a dreadful decision remain on board and perish in the searing flames or jump overboard and succumb within minutes to the Sound's icy waters By three o'clock in the morning the grisly ordeal was over for all but one passenger and three members of the crew the only ones who survived The tragedy remains the worst maritime disaster in the history of Long Island Sound Within days the New York City Coroner convened an inquest to determine the cause of the disaster After two weeks of testimony reported daily in the New York City press the inquest jury concluded that the Lexington had been permitted to operate on the Sound at the imminent risk of the lives and property of its passengers and that had the crew acted appropriately the fire could have been extinguished and a large portion if not all of the passengers saved The public's reaction to the verdict was scathing the press charged that the members of the board of directors of the Transportation Company which had purchased the Lexington from Commodore Vanderbilt in 1839 were guilty of murder and should be indicted Calls were immediately made for Congress to enact legislation to improve passenger safety on steamboats This book explores the ongoing debate in Congress during the nineteenth century over its power to regulate steamboat safety and it examines the balance Congress struck between the need to insulate the nation's shipping industry from ruinous liability for lost cargo while at the same time greatly enhancing passenger safety on the nation's steamboats

the true significance of the Taurus Reach while simultaneously concealing that mission from his fellow officers and even his closest friends As the Daedalus class U S S Lovell brings some of Starfleet s keenest technical minds to help the U S S Endeavour makes a find that could shed further light on the enigmatic meta genome that has captured the Federation s interest if its crew survives the discovery Deep within the Taurus Reach an ancient and powerful alien mind has awakened prematurely from aeons of hibernation alerted to the upstart civilizations now daring to encroach upon the worlds in her care With the stakes for all sides escalating rapidly the alien lashes out with deadly force against the interlopers propelling the Vanguard crew on a desperate race to understand the nature of the attacker and to prevent the Taurus Reach from becoming a war zone

Compressed Air Magazine ,1909 Think No Evil C. Fred Alford,2018-10-18 In this investigation of the contemporary notion of evil C Fred Alford asks what we can learn about this concept and about ourselves by examining a society where it is unknown where language contains no word that equates to the English term evil Does such a society look upon human nature more benignly Do its members view the world through rose colored glasses Korea offers a fascinating starting point and Alford begins his search for answers there In conversations with hundreds of Koreans from diverse religions and walks of life students politicians teachers Buddhist monks Confucian scholars Catholic priests housewives psychiatrists and farmers Alford found remarkable agreement about the nonexistence of evil Koreans regard evil not as a moral category but as an intellectual one the result of erroneous Western thinking For them evil results from the creation of dualisms oppositions between people and ideas Alford s interviews often led to discussions about imported ways of thinking and the impact of globalization upon society at large In particular he was struck by how Koreans responses to globalization matched Westerners views about evil In much of the world he argues globalization is the ultimate dualism attractive for the enlightenment and freedom it brings terrifying for the great social and personal upheaval it can cause
