Not For Rent Conversations With Creative:

Not for Rent Stacy Wakefield, Stacy Wakefield-Forte, Grrrt, 2003 Resistance is more important than ever Living in a country with a president we did not elect who is waging a war without popular support vast numbers of Americans are feeling disempowered alienated from our government leaders and frightened What can we do The British activists from the 1990s documented in Not For Rent have some ideas to share with us In 1995 the British Parliament passed a draconian new law which curtailed civil liberties to a shocking extent The Criminal Justice Act essentially turned squatting underground parties and raves a nomadic lifestyle and protesting into criminal acts Travelling through England and Scotland the summer after this law went into effect Stacy and Grrrt discovered that not only were squatting protesting and parties still happening the law had politicized an entire generation More and more young people felt compelled to resist both to show their disregard for a government which did not represent them and to create exciting creative alternatives to the mainstream culture The activist underground was thriving The way Bush s government has used the events of September 11th to pick away at our civil liberties is reminiscent of this time The numbers of frustrated people who have taken to the streets to protest his war show how widespread the disillusionment with his government is But Not for Rent is not a book about unjust laws It is a vibrant celebration of creative resistance political alternatives and social engagement It is about what is possible when smart socially conscious people get together and create communities on their own terms Use it for inspiration

Non-Plan: Essays on Freedom, Participation and Change in Modern Architecture and Urbanism Jonathan Hughes, Simon Sadler, 2013-01-11 Non Plan explores ways of involving people in the design of their environments a goal which transgresses political categories of right and left Attempts to circumvent planning bureaucracy and architectural inertia have ranged from free market enterprise zones to self build housing and from squatting to sophisticated technologies of prefabrication Yet all have shared in a desire to let people shape the built environment they want to live and work in How can buildings better reflect the needs of their inhabitants How can cities better facilitate the work and recreation of their many populations Modernism had promised a functionalist approach to resolving the architectural needs of the twentieth century yet the design of cities and buildings often appears to confound the needs of those who use them their design and layout being highly regulated by restrictive legislation planning controls and bureaucracy Non Plan considers the theoretical and conceptual frameworks within which architecture and urbanism have sought to challenge entrenched boundaries of control focusing on the architectural history of the post war period to the present day This provocative book will be of interest to architects planners and students of architecture design town planning and architectural history Its contributors include architects critics and historians including many whose work helped shape the Non Plan debate during the period List of contributors Cedric Price Benjamin Franks Elizabeth Lebas Eleonore Kofman Ben Highmore Yona Friedman Paul Barker Clara Greed Barry Curtis Colin Ward Ian Horton John Beck Chinedu Umenyilora and Malcolm Miles DiY Culture George
