Notebooks For Crime Punishment:

The Notebooks for Crime and Punishment, 1967 Dostoyevsky's notebook provides a key to understanding one of the world's greatest novels. It offers the reader a glimpse into the heart of the creative process with schematic plans of major portions of the novel, variants of scenes and reflections on philosophical and religious ideas. The Notebooks for "Crime and Punishment" Fedor Mihajlovič Dostoevskij, 1974 The Notebooks for 'Crime and Punishment' ... Edited and translated by Edward Wasiolek. [With facsimiles.] Fyodor Dostoyevsky, 1967 Prison Notebooks Antonio Gramsci, 2011 Based on the authoritative Italian edition of Gramsci's work Quaderni del Carcere this translation presents the intellectual as he ought to be read and understood. The Jail Notebook and Other Writings Bhagat Singh, Bhupendra Hooja, 2007 Bhagat Singh spent the last two years of his life in jail awaiting execution. During this time he and his comrades fought one of the most celebrated Court Battles in the annals of national liberation struggles and used the court as a vehicle for the propagation of their revolutionary message. They also struggled against the inhuman conditions in the Colonial jail and faced torture and pain. Their heroism made them icons and figures of Inspiration for generations to come. All this is well known. What is not so well known is that Bhagat Singh wrote four Books in jail. Although they were smuggled out they were destroyed and are lost forever. What survived was a Notebook that the Young martyr kept in jail full of notes and jottings from what he was reading. In the year of his Birth centenary LeftWord is proud to present his Notebook in an elegant edition. This Edition has been checked against the copy preserved in the National Archives of India. The Notebook is richly annotated by Bhupender Hooja and the annotations have been revised and updated for this edition. Also included are the most important Texts that Bhagat Singh wrote in jail. Chaman Lal's lucid introduction, the New York Daily Worker's reports and Periyar's editorial on the hanging. Provided by publisher. Dostoevsky George Santayana, Louis Breger, 2017-07-05 Andre Gide once said that Feodor Dostoevsky lost himself in the characters of his books and for this reason it is in them that he can be found again. In Dostoevsky The Author as Psychoanalyst Louis Breger approaches Dostoevsky psychoanalytically not as a patient to be analyzed but as a fellow psychoanalyst someone whose life and fiction are intertwined in the process of literary self exploration. Raskolnikov's dream of the suffering horse in Crime and Punishment has become one of the best known in all literature its rich imagery expressing meaning on many levels. Using this as a starting point Breger goes on to offer a detailed analysis of the novel situating it at the pivotal point in Dostoevsky's life between the death of his first wife and his second marriage. Using insights from his psychological training Breger also explores other works by Dostoevsky among them his early novel The Double which Breger relates to the nervous breakdown that Dostoevsky suffered in his twenties as well as Notes from Underground The Possessed The Idiot The Brothers Karamazov and so forth. Additionally details from Dostoevsky's own life his compulsive gambling his epilepsy his philosophical political religious and mystical beliefs and the interpretations of them found in existing biographies are analyzed in detail. Dostoevsky P.H. Brazier, 2018-01-01 As a writer and prophet Dostoevsky was no academic theologian yet his writings are deeply theological his life beliefs even his epilepsy all had a role in generating his theology and eschatology Dostoevsky's novels are riven with paradoxes are deeply dialectical and represent a criticism of religion offered in the service of the gospel In this task he presented a profound understanding and portrait of humanity Dostoevsky's novels chart the movement of the human into death either the movement through paradox and Christlikeness into Christ's cross a soteriology often characterized by the apophatic negation and self denial what we may term the Mark of Abel leading to salvation and resurrection or conversely the movement of those who refuse Christ's invitation to be redeemed and continue to fall into a self-willed death and a self-generated hell the Mark of Cain This eschatology becomes a theological axiom which he unceasingly warned people of in his mature works Startlingly original stripped of all religious pretence some prostitutes and criminals might just have a better understanding of salvation than some of the pietistic wealthy and cultured classes Dostoevsky as a prophet forewarned of the politicized humanistic delusions of the twentieth century a prophet crying out through the wilderness

Dostoevsky as Suicidologist Amy D. Ronner, 2021-01-12 In Dostoevsky as Suicidologist Amy D. Ronner illustrates how self homicide in Fyodor Dostoevsky's fiction prefigures Emile Durkheim's etiology in Suicide as well as theories of other prominent suicidologists This book not only fills a lacuna in Dostoevsky scholarship but provides fresh readings of Dostoevsky's major works including Notes from The House of the Dead Crime and Punishment The Idiot Demons and The Brothers Karamazov Ronner provides an exegesis of how Dostoevsky's implicit awareness of fatalistic altruistic egoistic and anomic modes of self destruction helped shape not only his philosophy but also his craft as a writer In this study Ronner contributes to the field of suicidology by anatomizing both self destructive behavior and suicidal ideation while offering ways to think about prevention But most expansively Ronner tackles the formidable task of forging a ligature between artistic creation and the pluripresent social fact of self annihilation
