Exodus 18 Noppawat Kumpeeroskul, 2024-07-05 This work argues that Exod 18 1 27 functions literarily and theologically as the key transitional midpoint in the Exodus narrative As such the chapter s function is both retrospective recalling key features of chapters 1 17 and prospective anticipating key features of chapters 19 40 at the midpoint of the book In the Exodus narrative the character of Jethro is rhetorically employed by the narrator as a model to contrast with all the nations and as a model to contrast with all the faithless Israelites Exodus 18 draws to a close a first narrative movement in the first half of the book in which Yahweh is seen and known through his mighty acts of deliverance Through Moses Yahweh delivers Exodus 18 also signals a shift in the second half of the book to a self revelation of Yahweh which will feature Israel s need to heed the word and will of Yahweh as mediated through Moses Through Moses Yahweh will govern

A Sojourner's Wayside William Yager, 2016-03-01 For most of my adult life I have been writing down my thoughts and reflections emerging from life around me especially the beauty and wonder in nature and that miraculous God given creative process that envelops all of us I have always maintained that these were only notes to myself

But now in my sunset years I have been convinced to share these notes with others As our culture has become busier noisier and more intrusive my need and perhaps yours has become more intense to have a wayside a place a state of mind where we can pull over and let the rest of the world go by for a while I hope you find this to be such a place
