The Cult of Saint Katherine of Alexandria in Late-Medieval Nuremberg Anne Simon, 2016-03-16 Katherine of Alexandria was a major object of devotion within medieval Europe ranking second only to the Virgin Mary in the canon of female saints Yet despite her undoubted importance relatively little is known about the significance and function of her cult within the German speaking territories that stood at the heart of Europe Anne Simon's study adds a welcome new interdisciplinary perspective to the study of Saint Katherine and the wider ecclesiastical landscape of a medieval Europe poised on the edge of religious change Taking as a case study the wealthy and politically influential merchant city of Nuremberg this book draws on a wide variety of textual and visual sources to explore interrelated themes the shaping of urban space through the cult of Saint Katherine her role in the moulding and advertising patrician identity and alliances through cultural patronage and patrician use of the saint to showcase the city's political economic cultural and religious importance at the heart of the Holy Roman Empire Further the book reveals the construction of exemplarity in Saint Katherine's legend and miracles and their resonance within the context of the city and the Dominican Convent of Saint Katherine whose nuns came from the same status aware confident patrician elite that so loyally supported successive Emperors Filling a significant gap in current research the work has much to offer scholars of medieval history hagiography art history German studies cultural and urban studies Hence it not only expands our understanding of Saint Katherine's importance in German speaking territories but also adds to the picture of her cult in its European perspective
