Nurse In Conflict:

Nurse in Conflict Jeanne Bowman, 1968 Management and Leadership for Nurse Managers Russell C.

Swansburg, 1996 This edition of the highly acclaimed Management and Leadership for Nurse Managers offers theoretical and practical perspectives on the major management functions as they are practiced in today's organizations. The author introduces current and future nurse managers to the challenges of planning, organizing, leading, and controlling. The most recent research on management theory is incorporated throughout the book in the context of its practical application. New coverage includes total quality management, pay for performance, the rising temporary workforce, and downsizing.

Management and Leadership for Nurse Administrators Linda Roussel, Richard J. Swansburg, Russell C. Swansburg, 2006

Designed for the management and development of professional nurses, this text provides management concepts and theories giving professional administrators theoretical and practical knowledge enabling them to maintain morale, motivation, and productivity. Organized around the four management functions of Planning, Organizing, Leadership, and Evaluation, it includes new chapters on total quality management, the theory of human resource development, and collective bargaining. Additionally, content has been added to include recommendations from the work of the Institute of Medicine and the Magnet Appraisal process.

Role Development in Professional Nursing Practice Kathleen Masters, 2005 Designed for use in sequential professional development courses across the curriculum, Role Development in Professional Nursing Practice covers role development of the professional nurse as it occurs in three developmental stages moving from the simple to the more complex: Nurse as Individual, Nurse-Client Relationships, and Nurse as Member of the Health Care Team.

Conflict Management Training for Nurses! Ann Leary, 2014-10-24 I believe conflicts can be managed by using critical and creative thinking skills. Conflicts in the healthcare workplace are common and can take on a variety of forms: nurse to physician, nurse to nurse, and nurse to patient/family. Both my research and experience suggest that nurses commonly avoid conflict rather than engaging in collaborative problem solving about conflict, which would often lead to better solutions. The Critical and Creative Thinking Program at the University of Massachusetts Boston has given me the confidence and provided the skills to continue my work using multiple approaches, including collaboration in conflict management in the healthcare setting. There is currently no training in conflict management for staff nurses, only for nursing management. However, it is needed at the staff nurse level as well as the leadership level. Consequently, the goal is to design a conflict management workshop for my staff nurses. This workshop would be taught during Annual Competency Day in the PACU.
