Nurtured By Knowledge Learning To Do Participatory Actionresearch:

Nurtured by Knowledge Susan Elizabeth Smith, Dennis George Willms, Nancy Arbuthnot Johnson, 1997 This book describes the struggle to build on a twenty five year approach to democratic social change and personal growth known as participatory action research PAR It based on the principle that people have a universal right to participate the production of knowledge that directly affects their lives The heart of the book is a series of compelling case studies of PAR and attempts to achieve it in such diverse places as Canada India Africa and Latin America The final chapter analyzes lessons from these case studies and explores the principles and evolving processes of the PAR methodology in striving to satisfy the need for liberation and recovery of community Back cover

Doing Ethnography Charlene Elizabeth Miall, Dorothy Pawluch, William Shaffir, 2005 Doing Ethnography is an essential text for courses in ethnography research methods qualitative emphasis applied sociology and related subjects across Canada This unique volume first considers the merits of qualitative research profiles interviewing strategies and discusses the relationships to respondents and how to write about social life The second portion of Doing Ethnography contains three sections constructing perspectives constructing identities as well as doing and relating Case studies and original research are featured throughout The editors Dorothy Pawluch William Shaffir and Charlene Miall emphasize the importance of studying social interaction In truth any question about society big or small is ultimately about people interacting with each other Whether the issue is changing gender relationships corporate deeds and misdeeds class structures or the school performance of children from cultural minorities it all comes down to one thing people doing things together

From Subjects to Subjectivities Deborah L. Tolman, Mary Brydon-Miller, 2001 From Subject to Subjectivities profiles the recent debates about the role of qualitative and participatory methods in psychology a discipline which has traditionally seen itself as a form of positivistic science Contributors explain how fundamentally different views of the nature of reality and of scientific theory have shaped these debates and how psychology is being transformed through the use of these methods At the heart of the book are 10 exemplars of interpretive and participatory action research which describe the rationale for and process of using these methods in actual cases They also articulate some of the challenges psychologists may face in adopting them offering insights into how these complications can be successfully negotiated Relevant beyond psychology the models provided can be used within the context of a wide array of social science disciplines from sociology and anthropology to women s studies and public health The contributors represent a veritable who s who of qualitative scholars including Lyn Mikel Brown Larry Davidson Michelle Fine Louise Kidder M Brinton Lykes Jeanne Marecek Abigail Stewart and Niobe Way No previous book has examined qualitative and participatory methods specifically within the context of psychology From Subjects to Subjectivities provides a unique and badly needed resource for those interested in learning about the practice of these methods in the field

Participatory Action Research Approaches and Methods Sara Kindon, Rachel Pain, Mike Kesby, 2007-12-18 Participatory Action Research

PAR approaches and methods have seen an explosion of recent interest in the social and environmental sciences PAR involves collaborative research education and action which is oriented towards social change representing a major epistemological challenge to mainstream research traditions It has recently been the subject of heated critique and debate and rapid theoretical and methodological development This book captures these developments exploring the justification theorisation practice and implications of PAR It offers a critical introduction to understanding and working with PAR in different social spatial and institutional contexts The authors engage with PAR s radical potential while maintaining a critical awareness of its challenges and dangers The book is divided into three parts The first part explores the intellectual ethical and pragmatic contexts of PAR the development and diversity of approaches to PAR recent poststructuralist perspectives on PAR as a form of power the ethic of participation and issues of safety and well being Part two is a critical exploration of the politics places and practices of PAR Contributors draw on diverse research experiences with differently situated groups and issues including environmentally sustainable practices family livelihoods sexual health gendered experiences of employment and specific communities such as people with disabilities migrant groups and young people The principles dilemmas and strategies associated with participatory approaches and methods including diagramming cartographies art theatre photovoice video and geographical information systems are also discussed Part three reflects on how effective PAR is including the analysis of its products and processes participatory learning representation and dissemination institutional benefits and challenges and working between research action activism and change The authors find that a spatial perspective and an attention to scale offer helpful means of negotiating the potentials and paradoxes of PAR This approach responds to critiques of PAR by highlighting how the spatial politics of practising participation can be mobilised to create more effective and just research processes and outcomes The book adds significant weight to the recent critical reappraisal of PAR suggesting why when where and how we might take forward PAR s commitment to enabling collaborative social transformation It will be particularly useful to researchers and students of Human Geography Development Studies and Sociology

Moving Health Sovereignty in Africa Andrew F. Cooper, Hany Besada, 2016-04-15 Today's era of intense globalization has unleashed dynamic movements of people pathogens and pests that overwhelm the static territorial jurisdictions on which the governance provided by sovereign states and their formal intergovernmental institutions is based This world of movement calls for new ideas and institutions to govern people's health above all in Africa where the movements and health challenges are the most acute This book insightfully explores these challenges in ways that put the perspectives of Africans themselves at centre stage It begins with the long central and still compelling African health challenge of combating the pandemic of HIV AIDS It then examines the global governance responses by the major multilateral organizations of the World Bank and the World Trade Organization and the newer informal flexible democratically oriented ones of the Group of Eight It also addresses the compounding health challenge created by climate change to assess both its intensifying impact on Africa and how all international institutions have largely failed to link climate and health in their governance response It concludes with several recommendations about the innovative ideas and institutions that offer a way to closing the great global governance gaps and thus improving Africans health and that of citizens beyond

Real-life Dilemmas in Moral Education Vishalache Balakrishnan,2011 The purpose of this book is to contribute to contemporary debates about alternative ways of teaching Moral Education in Malaysia by including the voice of students Moral Education in the

Malaysian setting is both complex and compulsory This book explores alternatives to the current somewhat dated approach It seeks to discover what young adolescents describe as moral dilemmas how they approach them and what they find useful in resolving these moral problems Indigenous Screen Cultures in Canada Sigurjon Baldur Hafsteinsson, Marian

Bredin, 2010-09-01 Indigenous media challenges the power of the state erodes communication monopolies and illuminates government threats to Indigenous cultural social economic and political sovereignty Its effectiveness in these areas however is hampered by government control of broadcast frequencies licensing and legal limitations over content and ownership

Indigenous Screen Cultures in Canada explores key questions surrounding the power and suppression of Indigenous narrative and representation in contemporary Indigenous media Focussing primarily on the Aboriginal Peoples Television Network the authors also examine Indigenous language broadcasting in radio television and film Aboriginal journalism practices audience creation within and beyond Indigenous communities the roles of program scheduling and content acquisition policies in the decolonization process the roles of digital video technologies and co production agreements in Indigenous filmmaking and the emergence of Aboriginal cyber communities Qualitative Inquiry in TESOL K.

Richards, 2003-08-19 Graduate and professional TESOL students will welcome this research methods textbook for undertaking qualitative naturalistic and action research projects Uniquely the book offers a three level structured progression suited both to novice and intermediate students with a focus on development as classroom teachers of English and to advanced students engaged in academic research work in applied linguistics Every chapter is structured to develop the important skills for undertaking QI in a rigorous and serious way at whatever level is appropriate for the reader s purpose The book is both scholarly in approach and written in an engagingly direct and clear style Where Music Helps:

Community Music Therapy in Action and Reflection Cochavit Elefant, Mercédès Pavlicevic, Dr Gary Ansdell, Professor Brynjulf Stige, 2013-06-28 This book explores how people may use music in ways that are helpful for them especially in relation to a sense of wellbeing belonging and participation The central premise for the study is that help is not a decontextualized effect that music produces The book contributes to the current discourse on music culture and society and it is developed in dialogue with related areas of study such as music sociology ethnomusicology community psychology and health promotion Where Music Helps describes the emerging movement that has been labelled Community Music Therapy and it presents ethnographically informed case studies of eight music projects localized in England Israel Norway and South Africa The various chapters of the book portray music s help in action within a broad range of contexts with individuals groups and communities all of whom have been challenged by illness or disability social and cultural disadvantage or injustice Music and musicing has helped these people find their voice literally and metaphorically to be welcomed and to welcome to be accepted and to accept to be together in different and better ways to project alternative messages about themselves or their community and to connect with others beyond their immediate environment The overriding theme that is explored is how music comes to afford things in concert with its environments which may suggest a way of accounting for the role of music in music therapy without reducing music to a secondary role in relation to the therapeutic that is being just a symbol of psychological states a stimulus or a text reflecting socio cultural content      Understanding How Young
