CONSUMER ACTIVISM

We have, so far, learnt that there are three different Forums, one each at the National, State and District level and these are classified on the basis of territory and pecuniary value of the complaint.

Alia lives in East Delhi and therefore, she can file a complaint in the Delhi Consumer Court situated in East Delhi. If she is not satisfied with the judgement, she can go to the next higher level i.e., State Commission located in Delhi. The next appeal can go to the National Forum. Most of the small cases are decided at the district level itself and, therefore, preferring an appeal may not be required. All the awareness about consumer goods and services creates a check on the unscrupulous tradesmen and the defective products which we do not want and which we never purchased.

OBJECTIVES

After studying this lesson, you will be able to:

- understand the meaning of the term 'Consumer Activism';
- appreciate the significance of Consumer Movement in India;
- define the Objectives, Goals and Tactics of Consumer Movement in India;
- learn how to file a Complaint Petition for defective goods; and
- know how to file a Complaint Petition for deficient services;

31.1 WHAT IS CONSUMER ACTIVISM?

The 'Consumer Movement' in India as a social force originated with the necessity of protecting and promoting the interests of consumers against unethical and 'unfair trade practices'. Rampant food shortages, hoarding and the like gave birth to the 'Consumer Movement' in an organised form in the year 1960.

Nurturing Consumer Activism Sanjay Kaptan,2003 Advances in Communications and Media Research ,2002

Activism and the Policy Process Anna Yeatman,2020-07-29 Activists protecting rainforests demanding increased childcare developing local community housing campaigning for AIDS funding or protecting consumers are as much part of the political landscape as the media parliament peak industry groups political parties or trade unions This collection explores the idea of policy activism and its relationship to the processes that not only set but implement and deliver the policy agenda Policy activists operate both inside and outside government They include community based organisers activist bureaucrats service providers and professionals Policy activism has been barely explored in existing literature This collection puts the idea on the map It is an innovative contribution to the literature using case studies across a broad range of policy areas This volume opens the window on an aspect of the policy process that rarely receives attention from students of politics or policy anywhere across the globe The framework presented and the cases included in these pages provide a glimpse of the workings of a complex democracy describing a range of actors responding creatively to the dynamics of social political and economic change It is fascinating to see how policy functions and social values appear to be more important to these processes than the formal structures of the government in which they are placed Beryl A Radin Professor of Public Administration and Policy State University of New York at Albany Handbook of Research on Examining Cultural Policies Through Digital Communication Önay Dogan, Betül,Gül Ünlü, Derya,2018-11-09 Culture is one of the most important elements for explaining individuals behaviors within the social structure It meets the various social needs of members of a society by directing how individuals must react to various events and how to act in specific circumstances A planned and systematic process is required for disseminating this cultural accumulation as a policy which is produced collectively by all members within their everyday life practices The Handbook of Research on Examining Cultural Policies Through Digital Communication provides emerging research on this aspect of cultural policy which is formed within the framework of this systematic process in a strategic manner and can be defined as various activities of the state intended for art human sciences and cultural inheritance Creating such cultural policies involves the establishment of measures and organizations required for the development of each individual providing economic and social facilities all of which are actions intended for directing society Featuring coverage on a broad range of topics such as long distance education digital citizenship and public diplomacy this book is ideally designed for academicians researchers advanced level students sociologists international and national organizations and government officials Strategic Planning for Public Relations Ronald D. Smith,2017-05-18 Strategic Planning for Public Relations is in its fifth edition of offering an innovative and clear approach for students looking to learn how to develop public relations campaigns It is a text intended for those serious about entering the rapidly changing professions of public relations and strategic communication Ronald Smith shows how to implement pragmatic research driven strategic campaigns used in public relations practice and draws from his years of experience as a professional in the industry and his years of teaching in the classroom The approach used in this text is a threefold pattern first readers are exposed to new ideas then see them in use before finally being showed how to apply those ideas themselves Complex problem solving and decision making processes in strategic communication and public relations are turned into a series of easy to follow steps flexible enough to be applicable to myriad situations and organizations in the real world This new fifth edition follows the same format as previous editions and includes numerous timely and real world examples of cases and current events along with classic cases that stand the test of time It includes new research on opinions and practices within the discipline and covers several recent award winning public relations campaigns

The Greening of Business in Developing Countries Peter Utting,2002 If sustainable development is to become a reality then transnational corporations must take their environmental responsibilities seriously In the industrialised countries some positive steps have been taken The rhetoric of corporate environmental responsibility is also extending to developing countries but very little is known about the extent of concrete changes there in the environmental performance of big business This book explores what is happening in the developing world Three principal questions are focused upon To what extent is the greening of business a reality in the South If large corporations are pursuing their business interests in an environmentally responsible manner does this contribute significantly to sustainable development What combination of measures is likely to work in scaling up and deepening environmental good practice by companies in developing countries The original research contained in this volume spans a number of major sectors manufacturing oil extraction logging and bioprospecting Particular attention is paid to the experience of Brazil Costa Rica Malaysia Mexico Singapore and South Africa Corporate self regulation environmental reporting and voluntary codes of conduct are examined In addition there are detailed studies of the complementary approaches that are necessary including the regulatory measures and incentives which governments can put in place and the increasingly well publicised role which citizens movements and NGOs are playing in holding business to account for its environmental impact This pioneering set of studies not only provides a rich seam of hard data on the environmental record of big business in the South but even more importantly it examines the strengths and weaknesses of a wide range of environmental policies and contexts including the frequently contradictory pressures of the market place and public campaigns which impact on corporations in this critically important arena

Sisters Or Strangers Franca Iacovetta,Frances Swyripa,Marlene Epp,2004-01-01 Spanning two hundred years of history from the nineteenth century to the 1990s Sisters or Strangers explores the complex lives of immigrant ethnic and racialized women in Canada The volume deals with a cross section of peoples including Japanese Chinese Black Aboriginal Irish Finnish Ukrainian Jewish Mennonite Armenian and South Asian Hindu women and diverse groups of women including white settlers refugees domestic servants consumer activists nurses wives and mothers The central themes of Sisters or Strangers include discourses of race in the context of nation building encounters with the state and public institutions symbolic and media representations of women familial relations domestic violence and racism and analyses of history and memory In different ways the authors question whether the historical experience of women in Canada represents a sisterhood of challenge and opportunity or if the racial class or marginalized identity of the immigrant and minority women made them in fact strangers in a country where privilege and opportunity fall according to criteria of exclusion Using a variety of theoretical approaches this collaborative work reminds us that victimization and agency are never mutually exclusive and encourages us to reflect critically on the categories of race gender and the nation

Stories of House and Home Christine Varga-Harris,2016-02-19 Stories of House and Home is a social and cultural history of the massive construction campaign that Khrushchev instituted in 1957 to resolve the housing crisis in the Soviet Union and to provide each family its own apartment Decent housing was deemed the key to a healthy productive home life which was essential to the realization of socialist collectivism Drawing on archival materials as well as memoirs fiction and the Soviet press Christine Varga Harris shows how the many aspects of this enormous state initiative from neighborhood planning to interior design sought to alleviate crowded undignified living conditions and sculpt residents into ideal Soviet citizens She also details how individual interests intersected with official objectives for Soviet society during the Thaw a period characterized by both liberalization and vigilance in everyday life Set against the backdrop of the widespread transition from communal to one family living Stories of House and Home explores the daily experiences and aspirations of Soviet citizens who were granted new apartments and those who continued to inhabit the old housing stock due to the chronic problems that beset the housing program Varga Harris analyzes the contradictions apparent in heroic advances and seemingly inexplicable delays in construction model apartments boasting modern conveniences and decrepit dwellings happy housewarmings and disappointing moves and new residents and individuals requesting to exchange old apartments She also reveals how Soviet citizens identified with the state and with the broader project of building

socialism Social Innovation in the Service of Social and Ecological Transformation Olivier De Schutter, Tom Dedeurwaerdere, 2021-10-14 This book explores how the State can play a role as an enabler of citizens led social innovations to accelerate the shift to sustainable and socially just lifestyles To meet the twin challenges of environmental degradation and the rise of inequalities societal transformation is urgent Most theories of social change focus either on the role of the State on the magic of the market or on the power of technological innovation This book explores instead how local communities given the freedom to experiment can design solutions that can have a transformative impact Change cannot rely only on central ordering by government nor on corporations suddenly acting as responsible citizens Societal transformation at the speed and scope required also should be based on the reconstitution of social capital and on new forms of democracy emerging from collective action at the local level The State matters of course for the provision of both public services and of social protection and to discipline the market but it should also act as an enabler of citizen led experimentation and it should set up an institutional apparatus to ensure that collective learning spreads across jurisdictions Corporations themselves can ensure that society taps the full potential of citizens led social innovations they can put their know how their access to finance and their control of logistical chains in the service of such innovations rather than focusing on shaping consumers tastes or even adapting to consumers shifting expectations With this aim in mind this book provides empirical evidence of how social innovations typically developed within niches initially at a relatively small scale can have society wide impacts It also examines the nature of the activism deployed by social innovators and the emergence of a do it yourself form of democracy This book will appeal to all those interested in driving societal change and social innovation to ensure a sustainable and socially just future for all Michigan Challenge ,1968 The Christian Science Monitor Index ,2000
