Plug&Play Places Robert Nadler, 2014-10-08 In post industrial societies more and more people earn an income in creative knowledge work a highly flexible labour market segment that demands a geographically mobile workforce Creative knowledge work is based on an understanding of language culture and symbolic meanings This can best be obtained through local and national embeddedness Yet this necessity for embeddedness stands in contrast to the demand in geographical mobility How is this contradiction solved by individuals What new forms of place attachment does this bring about This book introduces a showcase of 25 multilocal creative knowledge workers who live in different countries at the same time It investigates how continuous mobility becomes part of their lifeworld and how it changes their feelings of belonging and practices of place attachment Applying an innovative methodological mix of social phenomenology hermeneutics and mental mapping this book takes a detailed look at biographies and the role of places in mobile lifeworlds Plug Play Places brings forth the idea that places have to be understood as individual items which are configured and then plugged into the system of the own lifeworld They can be played without great effort once an individual needs to make use of them This new type of place attachment is a form of subjective standardization of place which complements the well known models of objective standardization of places Plug Play Places is relevant for scientists who deal with mobility and its impact on individual lifeworlds with transnational multilocality and with flexibilized labour markets Furthermore the book provides a detailed qualitative perspective which can enrich the explanations of quantitative research in the same field It is an interesting reading also for practitioners engaged in urban planning housing and real estate development Robert Nadler holds a doctoral degree in Urban and Local European Studies from the University of Milan Bicocca He is a researcher at the Leibniz Institute for Regional Geography and published on creative industries multilocality and labour mobility

Place Tim Cresswell, 2014-08-29 Thoroughly revised and updated this text introduces students of human geography and allied disciplines to the fundamental concept of place combining discussion about everyday uses of the term with the complex theoretical debates that have grown up around it A thoroughly revised and updated edition of this highly successful short introduction to place Features a new chapter on the use of place in non geographical arenas such as in ecological theory art theory and practice philosophy and social theory Combines discussion about everyday uses of the term place with the more complex theoretical debates that have grown up around it Uses familiar stories drawn from the news popular culture and everyday life as a way to explain abstract ideas and debates Traces the development of the concept from the 1950s through its subsequent appropriation by cultural geographers and the linking of place to politics

Rethinking Place in South Asian and Islamic Art, 1500-Present Deborah S. Hutton, Rebecca M. Brown, 2016-10-04 Place plays a fundamental role in the structuring of the discipline of Art History And yet place also limits the questions art historians can ask and impairs analysis of objects and locations in the interstices of established ossified categories The chapters in this interdisciplinary volume investigate place in all of its dynamism and complexity several call into question traditional constructions regarding place in Art History while others explore the fundamental role that place plays in lived experience The particular nexus for this collection lies at the intersection and overlap of two major subfields in the history of art South Asia and the Islamic world both of which are seemingly geographically determined yet at the same time uncategorizable as place with their ever shifting and contested borders The eleven chapters brought together here move from the early modern through to the contemporary and span particular monuments and locations ranging from Asia and Europe to Africa and the Americas The chapters take on the question of place as it operates in more obvious settings such as architectural monuments and exhibitionary contexts while also probing the way place operates when objects move or when the very place they exist in transforms dramatically This volume engages place through the movement of objects the evocation of senses desires and memories and the on going project of articulating the parameters of place and location

architecture's understandings of place this book offers an illuminating clarification that allows the idea's centrality in all aspects of everyday design thinking to be rediscovered or considered for the first time Rigorous but not dense practical but not trivialising the book unfolds on three fronts First it clearly frames the pertinent aspects of topology the philosophy of place importantly differentiating two concepts that architecture regularly conflates place and space Second it rejects the ubiquitous notion that architecture makes place and instead reasons that place is what makes architecture and the built environment possible that place calls for and to architecture and that architecture is thus invited to listen and respond Finally it turns to the matter of designing responses that result not just in more places of architecture demanding little of design nor merely in architecture with some sense of place demanding little more but rising above those responses that constitute an architecture of place demanding the greatest vigilance but offering the utmost freedom Opening up a term regarded as so common that its meaning is seldom considered the author reveals the actual depth and richness of place its innateness to architecture and its essentiality to practitioners clients educators and students including those in all spatial disciplines

Politics of Identity in Post-Conflict States Éamonn Ó Ciardha, Gabriela Vojvoda, 2015-12-14 Ireland and the Balkans have come to represent divided and re-united communities They both provide effective microcosms of national ethnic political military religious ideological and cultural conflicts in their respective regions and as a result they demonstrate real and imaginary divisions This book will specifically focus on the history politics and literature of Bosnia Herzegovina and Northern Ireland while making comparative reference to some of Europe's other disputed and divided regions Using case studies such as Kosovo and Serbia Lithuania Germany Poland Russia and Belarus Greece and Macedonia it examines space place and border discourse the topography of war and violence post-war settlement and reconciliation and the location and negotiation of national ethnic religious political and cultural identities The book will be of particular interest to scholars and students of cultural studies history politics Irish studies Slavonic studies area studies and literary studies

Tree Cultures Paul Cloke, Owain Jones, 2020-07-12 The relationship between nature and culture has become a popular focus in social science but there have been few grounded accounts of trees Providing shelter fuel food and tools trees have played a vital role in human life from the earliest times but their role in symbolic expression has been largely overlooked For example trees are often used to express nationalistic feelings Germans drew heavily on tree and forest imagery in nation building and the idea of hearts of oak has been central to concepts of English identity Classic scenes of ghoulish trees coming to life and forests closing in on unsuspecting passers by commonly feature in the media In other instances trees are used to represent paradisaical landscapes and symbolize the ideologies of conservation and concern for nature Offering new theoretical ideas this book looks at trees as agents that co-constitute places and cultures in relationship with human agency What happens when trees connect with human labour technology retail and consumption systems What are the ethical dimensions of these connections The authors discuss how trees can affect and even define notions of place and the ways that particular places are recognized culturally Working trees companion trees wild trees and collected or conserved trees are considered in relation to the dynamic politics of conservation and development that affect the values given to trees in the contemporary world Building on the growing field of landscape study this book offers rich insights into the symbolic and practical roles of trees It will be vital reading for anyone interested in the anthropology of landscape forestry conservation and development and for those concerned with the social science of nature Israel Yearbook on Human Rights, Volume 5 (1975) Yoram Dinstein,1989-05-01 Israel Yearbook on Human Rights 1975 Yoram Dinstein,1989-05-01 The Israel Yearbook on Human Rights an annual published under the auspices of the Faculty of Law of Tel Aviv University since 1971 is devoted to publishing studies by distinguished scholars in Israel and other countries on human rights in peace and war with particular emphasis on problems relevant to the State of Israel and the Jewish people The Yearbook also incorporates documentary materials relating to Israel and the Administered Areas which are not otherwise available in English including summaries of judicial decisions compilations of legislative enactments and military proclamations The Articles section of Volume 33 contains articles on Legal Aspects of Emergency Regimes Aristotle's Physics and Its Medieval Varieties Helen S. Lang,1992-08-17 This book considers the concepts that lay at the heart of natural philosophy and physics from the time of Aristotle until the fourteenth century The first part presents Aristotelian ideas and the second part presents the interpretation of these ideas by Philoponus Albertus Magnus Thomas Aquinas John Buridan and Duns Scotus Across the eight chapters the problems and texts from Aristotle that set the stage for European natural philosophy as it was practiced from the thirteenth to the seventeenth centuries are considered first as they appear in Aristotle and then as they are reconsidered in the context of later interests The study concludes with an anticipation of Newton and the sense in which Aristotle's physics had been transformed Mobile Technology and Place Rowan Wilken, Gerard Goggin,2013-05-07 An international roster of contributors come together in this comprehensive volume to examine the complex interactions between mobile media technologies and issues of place Balancing philosophical reflection with empirical analysis this book examines the specific contexts in which place and mobile technologies come into focus intersect and interact Given the far reaching impact of contemporary mobile technology use and given the lasting importance of the concept and experiences of place this book will appeal to a wide range of scholars in media and cultural studies sociology and philosophy of technology Ecopolitical Homelessness Gerard Kuperus,2016-05-26 While our world is characterized by mobility global interactions and increasing knowledge we are facing serious challenges regarding the knowledge of the places around us We understand and navigate our surroundings by relying on advanced technologies Yet a truly knowledgeable relationship to the places where we live and visit is lacking This book proposes that we are utterly lost and that the loss of a sense of place has contributed to different crises such as the environmental crisis the immigration crisis and poverty With a rising number of environmental political and economic displacements the topic of place becomes more and more relevant and philosophy has to take up this topic in more serious ways than it has done so far To counteract this problem the book provides suggestions for how to think differently both about ourselves our relationship to other people and to the places around us It ends with a suggestion of how to understand ourselves in an eco political community one of humans and other living beings as well as inanimate objects This book will be of great interest to researchers and students of environmental ethics and philosophy as well as those interested in the environmental humanities more generally The Ecology of Place Ian Billick, Mary V. Price, 2012-08-01 Ecologists can spend a lifetime researching a small patch of the earth studying the interactions between organisms and the environment and exploring the roles those interactions play in determining distribution abundance and evolutionary change With so few ecologists and so many systems to study generalizations are essential But how do you extrapolate knowledge about a well studied area and apply it elsewhere Through a range of original essays written by eminent ecologists and naturalists The Ecology of Place explores how place focused research yields exportable general knowledge as well as practical local knowledge and how society can facilitate ecological understanding by investing in field sites place centered databases interdisciplinary collaborations and field oriented education programs that emphasize natural history This unique patchwork of case study narratives philosophical musings and historical analyses is tied together with commentaries from editors Ian Billick and Mary Price that develop and synthesize common threads The result is a unique volume rich with all too rare insights into how science is actually done as told by scientists themselves Literacy, Place, and Pedagogies of Possibility Barbara Comber, 2015-07-30 How can teachers ensure a pedagogy of possibility underpinned by social justice and what has literacy got to do with this This book explores the positive synergies between critical literacy and place conscious pedagogy Through rich classroom research it introduces and demonstrates how a synthesis of insights from theories of space and place and literacy studies can underpin the design and enactment of culturally inclusive curriculum for diverse student communities and illustrates how making place and space the objects of study provide productive resources for teachers to design enabling pedagogical practices that extend students literate repertoires The argument is that systematic study of and engagement with specific elements of place can enable students academic learning and literacy Literacy Place and Pedagogies of Possibility is informed by critical literacy place conscious pedagogy and spatial theory is richly illustrated with examples from classroom research including teacher and student artifacts provides new directions for classroom practice in critical literacy This novel combination of multidisciplinary theory and classroom research extends previous work in critical literacy pedagogy drawing on two decades of ethnographic and collaborative inquiry in classrooms situated in culturally and linguistically diverse classrooms Agencies of the Frame Michael Tawa, 2020-06-12 Agencies of the Frame Tectonic Strategies in Cinema and Architecture aims to explore parallel approaches to the conceptualisation and composition of place space time materiality and narrative in cinematographic and architectural practices Beyond drawing useful implications for design the book investigates a range of themes to mobilise a reconsideration of cinema and architecture as non representational practices It suggests that films and buildings can be read and designed as assemblages not directed to the formal expression of meaning but to the framing of strategic and enabling conditions of emergent sense realised within the tectonic and material conditions of the cinematic and the architectural as such Succinct analyses of precedents in film music painting and architecture are used to foreground tectonic and compositional characteristics related to spatiality temporality and narrative that are transferable across disciplines and practices The thematic framework of the book engages theoretical material by Heidegger Simondon Deleuze Nancy Agamben and Stiegler Classical modernist and postmodernist films by Dreyer Antonioni Hitchcock Godard Paradjanov Tarkovski Herzog Lynch and Heneke are analysed side by side with important traditional modernist and contemporary buildings including works by Corbusier Scarpa Lewerentz Zumthor and Markli Illustrated with drawings and photographs by the author the book should be of interest to practitioners and students of art design cinema and the built environment who wish to expand the creative scope and resonance of their work

Intercultural Communication Kathryn Sorrells, 2015-08-19 Intercultural Communication Globalization and Social Justice Second Edition introduces students to the study of communication among cultures within the broader context of globalization Kathryn Sorrells highlights history power and global institutions as central to understanding the relationships and contexts that shape intercultural communication Based on a framework that promotes critical thinking reflection and action this text takes a social justice approach that provides students with the skills and knowledge to create a more equitable world through communication Loaded with new case studies and contemporary topics the Second Edition has been fully revised and updated to reflect the current global context emerging local and global issues and more diverse experiences An Introduction to the Geography of Health Helen Hazen, Peter Anthamatten, 2012-05-23 Health issues such as the emergence of infectious diseases the potential influence of global warming on human health and the escalating strain of increasing longevity and chronic conditions on healthcare systems are of growing importance in an increasingly peopled and interconnected world A geographic approach to the study of health offers a critical perspective to these issues considering how changing relationships between people and their environments influence human health An Introduction to the Geography of Health provides an accessible introduction to this rapidly growing field covering theoretical and methodological background The text is divided into three sections which consider distinct approaches and techniques related to health geographies Section one introduces ecological approaches with a focus on how natural and built environments affect human health For instance how have irrigation projects influenced the spread of water borne diseases How can modern healthcare settings such as hospitals affect the spread and evolution of pathogens Section two discusses social aspects of health and healthcare considering health as not merely a biological interaction between a pathogen and human host but as a process that is situated among social factors which ultimately drive who suffers from what and where disease occurs Section three then considers spatial techniques and approaches to exploring health giving special focus to the growing role of cartography and geographic information systems GIS in the study of health This clearly written text contains a range of pedagogical features including a wealth of global case studies discussion questions and suggestions for further reading at the end of each chapter a colour plate section and over eighty diagrams and figures The accompanying website also provides presentations exercises further resources and tables and figures This book is an essential introductory text for undergraduate students studying Geography Health and Social Studies AP Human Geography Premium Meredith Marsh, Peter S. Brierley, Georgia A. Byrne, 2018-01-01 Much has been written on the centenary of the First World War however no book has yet explored the tragedy of the conflict from a theological perspective This book fills that gap Taking their cue from the famous British army chaplain Geoffrey Studdert Kennedy seven central essays all by authors associated with the cathedral where Studdert Kennedy first preached to troops examine aspects of faith that featured in the war such as the notion of home poetry theological doctrine preaching social reform humanitarianism and remembrance Each essay applies its reflections to the life of faith today The essays thus represent a highly original contribution to the history of the First World War in general and the work of Studdert Kennedy in particular and they provide wider theological insight into how in the contemporary world life and tragedy God and suffering can be integrated The book will accordingly be of considerable interest to historians both of the war and of the church to communities commemorating the war and to all those who wrestle with current challenges to faith A foreword by Studdert Kennedy's grandson and an afterword by the bishop of Magdeburg in Germany render this a volume of remarkable depth and worth
