Preschool Screening Identifying Young Children With Developmental And Educational Problems:

Preschool Screening Robert Lichtenstein, William Lichtenstein, Robert Ireton, 1984 The Psychoeducational Assessment of Preschool Children Bruce A. Bracken, 2004-09-15 First published in 2004 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Research Issues in Learning Disabilities Sharon Vaughn, Candace S. Bos, 2012-12-06 In this chapter we described issues in conducting intervention research with students with learning disabilities on the secondary level We maintained that interventions should be well grounded in theories of learning as well as characterizations of learning disabilities Pressley Scruggs that they should first be conducted in a series of highly controlled laboratory like experiments to carefully assess the potential utility of the intervention and that if the intervention is successful in highly controlled settings it should then be evaluated in classroom applications We maintained that research designs should evolve as the research questions become more applied and that the results of laboratory research should be used to support the findings of classroom applications Finally we described several research designs that we have found useful in conducting classroom intervention research There is a great deal more to conducting intervention research of course than experimental or quasi experimental design Intervention strategies likely to be effective must be identified relevant literature must be reviewed experimental materials must be developed and cooperative schools teachers parents and students must be located Nevertheless inadequate research designs can invalidate the best and most successful efforts in all of these areas while effective and practical research designs can do much to document the best practices and advance our knowledge of effective interventions with students with learning disabilities References Brigham F J Scruggs T E Mastropieri M A 1992

Preschool Assessment Marla R. Brassard, Ann E. Boehm, 2011-06-08 Comprehensive and user friendly this ideal professional reference and graduate text provides a developmentally informed framework for assessing 3 to 6 year olds in accordance with current best practices and IDEA 2004 guidelines The authors are leading clinician researchers who take the reader step by step through selecting appropriate measures integrating data from a variety of sources and using the results to plan and evaluate effective interventions and learning experiences Coverage encompasses screening and assessment of cognitive linguistic emotional and behavioral difficulties including mental retardation and autism Case studies illustrate key facets of assessing diverse children and families appendices offer concise reviews of over 100 instruments Preschool Screening Robert Lichtenstein, Harry Ireton, 1984 Testing and evaluating children to see if they are ready for reading and school Developmental Screening in Early Childhood Samuel J. Meisels, 1989 Subtypes of Learning Disabilities Lynne V. Feagans, Elizabeth J. Short, 2012-11-12 Although experts agree that various types of learning disabilities do exist few attempts have been made to classify learning disabled children into subtypes The editors of this collection feel that the lack of subcategorization has frustrated previous research efforts to obtain a generalizable body of knowledge in the field To meet this critical need for definitive information this book presents basic reviews and theoretical approaches used to subtype learning disabled children ranging from a behavior genetics approach to a dimensional approach It also demonstrates actual research methods utilizing theoretical approaches Neurodevelopmental Disabilities Michael Shevell, 2009-08-24

Neurodevelopmental disabilities are a common problem in child health This book takes a comprehensive approach to addressing these often challenging clinical diagnoses In particular it focuses on the two most common of childhood neurodevelopmental disabilities global developmental delay and developmental language impairment It seeks to put forward our present conceptualization of these entities as well as their proper evaluation and assessment and diagnosis from a variety of perspectives It also provides details on our current understanding of the scientific basis of these disorders and their underlying causes Issues related to medical management rehabilitation and eventual outcomes are also addressed in a detailed way The book has wide appeal to those in paediatrics developmental paediatrics child neurology and paediatric rehabilitation Its geographic appeal includes both developed and developing nations as some chapters are devoted to the particular issues faced in underdeveloped countries The book s focus on both clinical and scientific aspects is invaluable in this field It also provides extensive information in a single source relating to often overlooked areas such as medical management rehabilitation public policy and ethics Identifying and Serving Young Children at Risk for Educational

Failure Paula Anne Nania, 1988 Resources in Education, 1997 Early Childhood Assessment Carol S. Lidz, 2002-12-16 A new guide to conducting more comprehensive and meaningful psychological assessments of young children Early Childhood Assessment presents a thorough step by step approach to the comprehensive psychological assessment of young children In addition to covering major psychological tests this invaluable resource includes specific guidelines and formats for interviewing parents and other caregivers observing children and caregiver child interaction conducting dynamic assessments writing reports and evaluating outcomes of recommended interventions Dr Lidz s approach encourages a broad range of observation with an overarching objective of completing a picture of the whole child from family life to social emotional and neuropsychological functioning She leads the reader through each step of a comprehensive assessment touching on the major data sources necessary for a full understanding of the child within different environments Throughout the book Dr Lidz advocates best assessment practices that reflect the interests of children and families Features useful information on Conducting initial interviews and observations for setting the course of the assessment Using standardized and nonstandardized approaches to generate both qualitative and quantitative data Viewing children and families within their cultural contexts Integrating assessment data sources to generate meaningful recommendations and readable reports Plus Includes unique chapters on play observation of parent child and teacher child interactions and dynamic assessment Early Childhood Assessment is a valuable tool for professionals and students who are concerned about the richness and complexity of children s development within their families and communities National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), First multi year cumulation

The Oxford Handbook of Infant, Toddler, and Preschool Mental Health Assessment

Rebecca DelCarmen-Wiggins,Alice S. Carter,2019 The Oxford Handbook of Infant Toddler and Preschool Mental Health Assessment Second Edition brings together leading clinical and developmental researchers to provide empirically based recommendations for assessment of social emotional and behavior problems and disorders in the earliest years The second edition is fully updated and revised according to an upsurge of research in the field of assessment especially with regard to infants and children Early Identification of Children at Risk R.N. Emde,W.K. Frankenburg,J. Sullivan,2013-12-01 This volume contains contributions that are interdisciplinary and inter national The editors believe this is an especially timely and promising enterprise for both sources of diversity are needed for improving our abilities to identify the young child at risk and to prevent disability In terms of diSciplines the volume brings together papers by health care providers such as pediatricians and public health nurses as well as educators and psychologists Each of these groups works in dissimilar settings and faces dissimilar problems Health care providers seek sim ple identification procedures for use in busy primary care settings psy chologists emphasize well constructed research designs and educators reflect the need for early identification and education Each of these spe cialist groups has something to offer the other but too often each tends to limit its publications and readings to its own discipline thus failing to capitalize on a wider scope of knowledge and practice We hope that this selection of papers will allow all readers addressing the early iden tification of children at risk to generate a more integrated interdiscipli nary perspective We also hope this volume reflects the sense of excitement that we feel from a sharing of international perspectives There is no single ap proach to the early identification of children at risk that is universally applicable to all countries In addition approaches within each country vary because of availability of financial and human resources and dif fering expectations of local communities Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, Education, and Related Agencies Appropriations for 2004 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations.
