Writing History with Lightning Matthew Christopher Hulbert, John C. Inscoe, 2019-02-05 Films possess virtually unlimited power for crafting broad interpretations of American history. Nineteenth century America has proven especially conducive to Hollywood imaginations producing indelible images like the plight of Davy Crockett and the defenders of the Alamo, Pickett's doomed charge at Gettysburg, the proliferation and destruction of plantation slavery in the American South, Custer's fateful decision to divide his forces at Little Big Horn, and the onset of immigration and industrialization that saw Old World lifestyles and customs dissolve amid rapidly changing environments. Balancing historical nuance with passion for cinematic narratives, Writing History with Lightning confronts how movies about nineteenth century America influence the ways in which mass audiences remember, understand, and envision the nation's past. In these twenty-six essays, divided by the editors into sections on topics like frontiers, slavery, the Civil War, the Lost Cause, and the West, notable historians engage with films and the historical events they ostensibly depict. Instead of just separating fact from fiction, the essays contemplate the extent to which movies generate and promulgate collective memories of American history. Along with new takes on familiar classics like Young Mr. Lincoln and They Died with Their Boots On, the volume covers several films released in recent years, including The Revenant, 12 Years a Slave, The Birth of a Nation, Free State of Jones, and The Hateful Eight. The authors address Hollywood epics like The Alamo and Amistad, arguing that these movies flatten the historical record to promote nationalist visions. The contributors also examine overlooked films like Hester Street and Daughters of the Dust, considering their portraits of marginalized communities as transformative perspectives on American culture. By surveying films about nineteenth century America, Writing History with Lightning analyzes how movies create popular understandings of American history and why those interpretations change over time.

Hollywood Goes to Washington Michael Coyne, 2008-09-30 Fantasy and politics are familiar dancing partners that rarely separate, even in the face of post-Election Day realities. But Hollywood has a tradition of punching holes in the fairy tales of electoral promises with films that meditate on what could have been and should have been. With Hollywood Goes to Washington, Michael Coyne investigates how the American political film unravels the labyrinthine entanglements of politics and the psyche of the American electorate in order to reveal brutal truths about the state of our democracy. From conspiracy dramas such as The Manchurian Candidate to satires like Wag the Dog, Hollywood Goes to Washington argues that political films in American cinema have long reflected the issues and tensions roiling within American society. Coyne elucidates the mythology, iconography, and ideology embedded in both classic and lesser-known films, including Gabriel Over the White House, Silver City, Advise and Consent, and The Siege, and examines the cinematic portrayals of presidents in the White House, the everyman American citizen, and the nebulous enemies who threaten American democracy. The author provocatively contends that whether addressing the threat of domestic fascism in Citizen Kane or the disillusionment of Vietnam and paranoia of the post-Watergate era in Executive Action, the American political film stands as an important cultural bellwether and democratic force one that is more vital than ever in the face of decreasing civil liberties in the present day United States Compelling and wholly original Hollywood Goes to Washington exposes the political power of the silver screen and its ramifications for contemporary American culture

The Mutual Interdependence of Things (Fantasy and Horror Classics) E. T. A. Hoffmann, 2015-10-21 This early work by E T A Hoffmann was originally published in 1820 Born in K nigsberg East Prussia in 1776 Hoffmann s family were all jurists and during his youth he was initially encouraged to pursue a career in law However in his late teens Hoffman became increasingly interested in literature and philosophy and spent much of his time reading German classicists and attending lectures by amongst others Immanuel Kant Hoffman went on to produce a great range of both literary and musical works Probably Hoffman s most well known story produced in 1816 is The Nutcracker and the Mouse King due to the fact that some seventy six years later it inspired Tchaikovsky s ballet The Nutcracker In the same vein his story The Sandman provided both the inspiration for L o Delibes s ballet Copp lia and the basis for a highly influential essay by Sigmund Freud called The Uncanny Indeed Freud referred to Hoffman as the unrivalled master of the uncanny in literature Many of the earliest books particularly those dating back to the 1900 s and before are now extremely scarce and increasingly expensive We are republishing these classic works in

The Politics of National Capitalism James P. Brennan, Marcelo Rougier, 2009-01-01

In mid twentieth century Latin America there was a strong consensus between Left and Right Communists working under the directives of the Third International nationalists within the military interested in fostering industrialization and populists about the need to break away from the colonial legacies of the past and to escape from the constraints of the international capitalist system Even though they disagreed about the desired end state Argentines of all political stripes could agree on the need for economic independence and national sovereignty which would be brought about through the efforts of a national bourgeoisie James Brennan and Marcelo Rougier aim to provide a political history of this national bourgeoisie in this book

Deploying an eclectic methodology combining aspects of the new institutionalism the new economic history Marxist political economy and deep research in numerous rarely consulted archives into what they dub the new business history the authors offer the first thorough empirically based history of the national bourgeoisie's peak association the Confederación General Económica CGE and of the Argentine bourgeoisie's relationship with the state They also investigate the relationship of the bourgeoisie to Perón and the Peronist movement by studying the history of one industrial sector the metalworking industry and two regional economies one primarily industrial Córdoba and another mostly agrarian Chaco with some attention to a third Tucumán a cane cultivating and sugar refining region sharing some features of both While spanning three decades the book concentrates most on the years of Peronist government 1946–55 and 1973–76
