

Problems and Prospects of Millennium Development Goals in Ghana

OLASUPO, O. | PLAADIE, S.R.

Abstract

Ghana, like other developing nations, was not left behind in embracing the eight time-bound Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) in September 2000. The millennium development goals aimed towards peace and good standards of living have been faced with series of problems in its attainment in Ghana. These problems have undermined the extent to which Ghana could achieve the MDGs. The study adopting qualitative research method shows that Ghana is faced with difficulty in achieving these eight millennium development goals in certain portions of the nation most especially in the rural communities due to lack of infrastructure. The study therefore recommends that Ghana should focus more on improving the standard of living of the rural dwellers by increasing the public services in the area. The need for Ghana to focus more on solving these problems is strategic for a better result in this new era of Sustainable Development Goals.

Traditional Institutions and Public Administration in Democratic Africa Kwame Badu Antwi-Boasiako; Okyere B, 2009-04-14 Traditional Institutions and Public Administration in Democratic Africa tackles the most pressing contemporary administrative issues of Africa The first chapter opens with a thorough discussion on neo colonialism in Africa It questions the authenticity of African democracy as it points out the presence of groups and individuals who exploit African resources to their advantage The chains of colonialism have perpetually defeated democracy in Africa and the former oppressors continue to financially and politically control their former colonies The authors probe into the traditional institutions as well as the functions of the government to explain the political status quo of Africa. It emphasizes the negative impact of adhering to democratic structures that impair the positive practices and values of the traditional African administrative culture. An eye opener. Traditional Institutions and Public Administration in Democratic Africa boldly exposes revolutionary views that challenge and defy democracy in Africa.

Issues in Ghana's Electoral Politics Ninsin, Kwame A., 2017-05-05 Ghana attained independence in 1957. From 1992 when a new constitution came into force and established a new democratic framework for governing the country elections have been organized every four years to choose the governing elites. The essays in this volume are about those elections because elections give meaning to the role of citizens in democratic governance. The chapters depart from the study of formal structures by which the electorate choose their representatives. They evaluate the institutional forms that representation take in the Ghanaian context and study elections outside the specific institutional forms that according to democratic theory are necessary for arriving at the nature of the relationships that are formed between the voters and their representatives and the nature and quality of their contribution to the democratic process.

West Africa's Security Challenges Adekeye Adebajo, Ismail O. D. Rashid, 2004 Provides a context for understanding West Africa's security dilemmas highlighting the link between failures of economic development governance and democratization on the one hand and military insecurity and violent conflicts on the other.

Africa Toyin Falola, Daniel Jean-Jacques, 2015-12-14 These volumes offer a one stop resource for researching the lives customs and cultures of Africa's nations and peoples. Unparalleled in its coverage of contemporary customs in all of Africa this multivolume set is perfect for both high school and public library shelves. The three volume encyclopedia will provide readers with an overview of contemporary customs and life in North Africa and sub Saharan Africa through discussions of key concepts and topics that touch everyday life among the nations peoples. While this encyclopedia places emphasis on the customs and cultural practices of each state history politics and economics are also addressed. Because entries average 14 000 to 15 000 words each contributors are able to expound more extensively on each country than in similar encyclopedic works with shorter entries. As a result readers will gain a more complete understanding of what life is like in Africa's 54 nations and territories and will be better able to draw cross cultural comparisons based on their reading Closing the Circle Richard Sandbrook, 2000 It is a truism that many African countries face a three pronged tribulation political tyranny failed capitalist development and violent domestic conflict The relationship between effective democratic institutions successful development and civil peace is less clear This book analyzes the experience with democratization of a carefully selected sample of countries Ghana Mali and Niger in West Africa Zambia Tanzania and Madagascar in East Africa and Sudan

Public Sentinel Pippa Norris, 2009-11-19 What are the ideal roles the mass media should play as an institution to strengthen democratic governance and thus bolster human development Under what conditions do media systems succeed or fail to meet these objectives And what strategic reforms would close the gap between the democratic promise and performance of media systems Working within the notion of the democratic public sphere Public Sentinel News Media and Governance Reform emphasizes the institutional or collective roles of the news media as watchdogs over the powerful as agenda setters calling attention to social needs in natural and human caused disasters and humanitarian crises and as gatekeepers incorporating a diverse and balanced range of political perspectives and social actors Each is vital to making democratic governance work in an effective transparent inclusive and accountable manner The capacity of media systems and thus individual reporters embedded within those institutions to fulfill these roles is constrained by the broader context of the journalistic profession the market and ultimately the state Successive chapters apply these arguments to countries and regions worldwide This study brought together a wide range of international experts under the auspices of the Communication for Governance and Accountability Program CommGAP at the World Bank and the Joan Shorenstein Center on the Press Politics and Public Policy at Harvard University The book is designed for policy makers and media professionals working within the international development community national governments and grassroots organizations and for journalists democratic activists and scholars engaged in understanding mass communications democratic governance and development
