Prestige, Authority, and Power in Late Medieval Manuscripts and Texts Felicity Riddy, 2000 A range of manuscripts and texts from various social contexts studied for what they reveal of that social background Design and Distribution of Late Medieval Manuscripts in England Margaret Connolly, Linne R. Mooney, 2008 New essays on late medieval manuscripts highlight the complicated network of their production and dissemination One of the most important developments in medieval English literary studies since the 1980s has been the growth of manuscript studies Long regarded as mere textual repositories and treated superficially by editors manuscripts are now acknowledged as centrally important in the study of later medieval texts The essays collected here discuss aspects of the design and distribution of manuscripts in late medieval England with a particular focus on vernacular manuscripts of the late fourteenth fifteenth and early sixteenth centuries Those in the first half consider material evidence for scribal decisions about design these range from analysis of individual codices to broader discussions of particular types of manuscripts both religious and secular Later essays look at the evidence for the production and distribution of manuscripts of specific English texts or types of text These include the major Middle English poems The Canterbury Tales and Piers Plowman as well as key religious works such as Love's Mirror Hilton's Scale of Perfection the Speculum Vitae and The Pricke of Conscience all of which survive in significant numbers of manuscripts The comparison of secular and devotional texts illuminates shared networks of production and dissemination and increases our knowledge of regional and metropolitan book production in the period before printing Contributors DANIEL W. KEISER Guilds and the Parish Community in Late Medieval East Anglia, C. 1470-1550 Ken Farnhill, 2001 The parish and the guild were the two poles round which social and religious life revolved in late medieval England This study drawing freely on East Anglian records shows how influential they were in the lives of their communities in the years before the break with Rome and provides an implicit commentary on the impact of the Henrician Reformation at parish level The records of many of the guilds or fraternities of East Anglia in the years 1470-1550 are examined for evidence of their form function and popularity the spread of fraternities across East Anglia the size of individual guilds types of member and the benefits of guild membership are all studied in detail The social and religious functions of the fraternities are then compared with the parish through a study of the records of two Norfolk market towns Wymondham and Swaffham and two Suffolk villages Bardwell and Cratfield A final chapter studies the fortunes of the guilds during the early years of the Reformation up to their dissolution in 1548 KEN FARNHILL is research associate at the Centre for Medieval Studies University of York Authority, Gender and Emotions in Late Medieval and Early Modern England Susan Broomhall, 2015-07-21 This collection explores how situations of authority governance and influence were practised through both gender ideologies and affective performances in medieval and early modern England Authority is inherently relational it must be asserted over someone who allows or is forced to accept this dominance The capacity to exercise authority is therefore a social and cultural act one that is shaped by social identities such as gender and by social practices that include emotions The contributions in this volume exploring case studies of women and men s letter writing political and ecclesiastical governance household rule exercise of law and order and creative agency investigate how gender and emotions shaped the ways different individuals could assert or maintain authority or indeed disrupt or provide alternatives to conventional practices of authority

Authority in European Book Culture 1400-1600 Pollie Bromilow, 2016-04-08 Through its many and varied manifestations authority has frequently played a role in the communication process in both manuscript and print This volume explores how authority whether religious intellectual political or social has enforced the circulation of certain texts and text versions or acted to prevent the distribution of books pamphlets and other print matter It also analyzes how readers writers and printers have sometimes rebelled against the constraints and restrictions of authority publishing controversial works anonymously or counterfeiting authoritative texts and how the written or printed word itself has sometimes been perceived to have a kind of authority which might have had ramifications in social political or religious spheres Contributors look at the experience of various European cultures English French German and Italian to allow for comparative study of a number of questions pertinent to the period Among the issues explored are local and regional factors influencing book production the interplay between manuscript and print culture the slippage between authorship and authority and the role of civic and religious authority in cultural production Deliberately conceived to foster interdisciplinary dialogue between the history of the book and literary and cultural history this volume takes a pan European perspective to explore the ways in which authority infiltrates and is in turn propagated or undermined by book culture

Imagining Jesus Christ in Middle English Literature, 1275-1475 Theresa Tinkle, 2024-09-16 This book interprets Jesus Christ as a complicated disunified literary character in Middle English literature where he appears variously as king traitor victorious conqueror sacrificial lamb heroic knight lover and spouse often as several contradictory figures in a single work These tropes derive from Scripture doctrines about Christ s two natures and theories of redemption This book examines the full range of representations in Southern Passion Northern Passion Pepysian Gospel Harmony Stanzaic Life of Christ Cursor Mundi Nicholas Love s Mirror of the Blessed Life of Jesus Christ Sir John Mandeville s Book the York Play and Julian of Norwich s Revelation of Love Although Christ s two natures are well represented in existing scholarship many traditions have been overlooked including commonplace treatments of Christ as both a traitor and king conqueror and sacrificial lamb hero and lover As writers call upon audiences to feel compassion for Jesus s suffering they almost universally express antipathy toward his Jewish torturers complicating our ideas about affective piety In these works the Virgin Mary is less exemplary for her compassion than for her understanding of doctrine In short this book offers new perspectives on vernacular Christology between about 1275 and 1475 Theresa Tinkle is a Professor within the Department of English Language and Literature at the University of Michigan USA as well as Director of the Gayle Morris Sweetland Center for Writing Previous publications include Medieval Venuses and Cupids Sexuality and Hermeneutics in English Poetry 1996 and Gender and Power in Medieval Exegesis Palgrave 2010 Theresa s academic training and publications include the study of medieval English and Latin literature the medieval reception of the Bible gender and sexuality studies paleography and manuscript studies composition and pedagogy and disability studies
