Authors Carol Payson and Corinne Haviley were instrumental in creating and implementing a falls reduction and prevention plan that was so successful that it garnered attention from the Wall Street Journal and significantly reduced fall rates. Publisher's description

Preventing Falls in a Medical Surgical Unit Shalini Singh, 2019 The prevention of patient falls continues to remain a challenge in healthcare. Up to 30% of falls often result in injury which includes fractures, soft tissue trauma or even death. Titler 2016 Out of the recorded number of falls in hospitals worldwide between 4% to 7% result in severe injuries to the patients. Falls in the hospital can prolong a hospital stay, increase hospital costs and extend a discharge from home to a long term care facility. With the prolonged stay of patients who fall in hospitals, hospitals' costs are on a rise. Falls can increase the cost for not just hospitals but higher hospital bills for the patient as an outcome. There will be a commitment to meet all patient needs and make improvements to what is not working. Safety is critical to a Medical Surgical unit and to keep our patients safe from falling we have fall prevention tools implemented on the unit such as yellow armband, bed chair alarms and signs outside the door that let everyone know that the patient is at high risk for falls. An ongoing commitment to the patient has been reinforced and daily huddles are performed to remind the staff on safety implementations. In order to decrease the patient fall rate and increase patient's safety, a reinforcement training on the practice and standard work for patient toileting, alarms and hourly rounding is needed for continuous improvement. Keywords: falls, fall education, safety protocols and fall prevention.

Evidence-Based Geriatric Nursing Protocols for Best Practice Deanna Gray-Miceli, 2007-11-16 Designated a Doody's Core Title. As a gerontological clinical educator/research nurse, I will often use this as a reference. The format and the content are good and the explanations of how to best use the evidence simplify the process of sifting through mountains of information to figure the best practice. Score 97.5 stars. Doody's: This third edition holds the promise of bringing yet another level of depth and sophistication to understanding the best practices for assessment, interventions and anticipated outcomes in our care of older adults. Evidence-Based Geriatric Nursing Protocols for Best Practice is intended to bring the most current evidence-based protocols known to experts in geriatric nursing to the audience of students, both graduate and undergraduate practitioners at the staff level, from novice to expert clinicians in specialty roles, educators, care managers and advanced practice nurses and nursing leaders of all levels. We owe a debt of gratitude to the many authors and the editors for bringing this work to us from the preface by Susan Bowar Ferres, PhD, RN, CNAA-BC, Senior Vice President, Clinical Nurse Specialist, Durham Veterans Administration Medical Center, Geriatric Research, Education and Clinical Center. This is the third thoroughly revised and updated edition of the book formerly entitled Geriatric Nursing Protocols for Best Practice. The protocols address key clinical conditions and circumstances likely to be encountered by a hospital nurse caring for older adults. They represent best practices for acute care of the elderly as developed by nursing experts around the country as part of the Hartford Foundation's Nurses Improving Care to the Hospitalized Elderly project NICHE This third edition includes 17 revised and updated chapters and more than 15 new topics including critical care diabetes hydration oral health care palliative care and substance abuse Each chapter includes educational objectives assessment of the problem nursing intervention or care strategies and references most chapters have case studies An Educational Program Using Pictograms in Reducing Patient Falls, 2014 Preventing patient falls in an acute care setting is a significant challenge for healthcare organizations across the nation It is the sixth most reported adverse event in hospitals and has been identified by The Joint Commission TJC as one of the top five sentinel events There is an abundance of nursing literature examining risk factors and interventions implemented to prevent falls However how to communicate patient specific fall prevention plans among healthcare members is lacking specifically the use of pictograms to enhance the communication of a patient's fall risk status and fall prevention plan among the healthcare providers and its effect in reducing patient falls The purpose of this study was to examine the use of pictograms at the patient's bedside to communicate a patient's fall risk status and fall prevention plan and its effect on patient falls A quasi experimental pretest and posttest study design was used for this study Results of this study revealed that there is no statistically significant difference $\chi^2 2 34 p .05$ between patient fall rates pre and post implementation of the pictogram However the study did reveal that there was a statistically significant difference $\chi^2 2 7 43 p .05$ in the staffs perception of the communication of high risk patients and fall prevention interventions pre and post implementation of the pictogram These results indicated that the staffs perception of the communication of high risk for fall patients and fall prevention interventions post implementation of the pictogram did increase The findings of this study are both timely and relevant as nurses move into the next era of healthcare which includes healthcare reform increased scrutiny by regulatory agencies and healthcare payers as well as the expectations of the patients and or family members to provide high quality care and keep the patients safe and free from injury Fall Prevention and Protection Hongwei Hsiao, PhD, 2016-11-03 This book covers a wealth of knowledge from experts and informed stakeholders on the best ways to understand prevent and control fall related risk exposures Featured are subjects on 1 a public health view of fall problems and strategic goals 2 the sciences behind human falls and injury risk 3 research on slips trips and falls 4 practical applications of prevention and protection tools and methods in industrial sectors and home communities 5 fall incident investigation and reconstruction and 6 knowledge gaps emerging issues and recommendations for fall protection research and fall mitigation Best Practices Lippincott Williams & Wilkins, 2007 Now in its Second Edition with a new title Best Practices Evidence Based Nursing Procedures is an excellent compilation of best practices based on current research and expert consensus findings This timely authoritative reference applies research findings directly to every aspect of nursing practice to guide nurses in performing procedures for patients with a full range of conditions and illnesses This edition provides a thorough update and review and includes new procedures and practices Every entry is evidence based identifies the sources of the evidence and now includes manufacturer recommendations Nursing diagnoses expected outcomes and unexpected outcomes complications are now discussed for each procedure Slip, Trip, and Fall Prevention Steven Di Pilla, 2016-04-19 A comprehensive reference for the prevention control and mitigation of slip trip and fall accidents this volume covers standards and best practices relating to facility design effective management control programs test methods and standards relating to pedestrian safety and slip resistance methods Providing information on slip fall accident reporting investigation and mitigation it includes checklists handouts case studies rich online resources and an extensive bibliography

Pathophysiology and Care Protocols for Nursing

Management, An Issue of Nursing Clinics Lynn C. Parsons, 2016-01-07 Nursing is an evolving profession that requires continued knowledge updates in formulating a foundation for practice In order to promote patient safety and satisfaction it is imperative that nurses monitor publications and increase their knowledge base Each patient is different each care management situation requires an individualized plan of care These require the nurse to develop a personal framework for practice that continually develops from this information This mandates an evolving knowledge base which this edition will supply for nurses who work to deliver care that is research based and protocol driven This issue of Nursing Clinics will be both timely and relevant as it will combine two clearly important topics for nurses in care management pathophysiological updates as well as research based protocols that are important to continuity of validated evidence based care delivery This will give nurses across organizations the opportunity to see care from a perspective of patient wholeness and not truncate care in order to address total components With care reimbursement dependent on outcomes it is important for the nurse to see care as a continuum and not finite This issue will give nurses this perspective
