Redeeming Lost:

Redeeming Words David Michael Kleinberg-Levin, 2013-11-01 Probing study of how literature can redeem the revelatory redemptive powers of language In this probing look at Alfred Döblin's 1929 novel Berlin Alexanderplatz and the stories of W G Sebald Redeeming Words offers a philosophical meditation on the power of language in literature David Kleinberg Levin draws on the critical theory of Benjamin and Adorno the idealism and romanticism of Kant Hegel Hölderlin Novalis and Schelling and the nineteenth and twentieth century thought of Nietzsche Heidegger and Derrida He shows how Döblin and Sebald writers with radically different styles working in different historical moments have in common a struggle against forces of negativity and an aim to bring about in response a certain redemption of language Kleinberg Levin considers the fast paced staccato and hard cut sentences of Döblin and the ghostly languorous and melancholy prose fiction of Sebald to articulate how both writers use language in an attempt to recover and convey this utopian promise of happiness for life in a time of mourning

Redeeming the Axe-Head Ifeoma Eze, 2018-02-17 In the family settings when the axe head has lost its position things will no longer work for good Beloved I want to remind you that you are a weapon of warfare God's battle axe The situation in your family is waiting for you to change The calamity in this nation country is only waiting for the axe head to come up and face it squarely

Beyond the Academy David Thang Moe, 2024-10-11 The term public theology was introduced by Martin E Marty in a 1974 article Since then scholarly discussions on public theology have become more popular in academic circles This book however is about the invitation for moving beyond the academy It provides two reasons for doing so First an overtly academic public theology is in crisis today Although public theology may be flourishing in the academy its relevance for real life is limited Second there is the ecclesial flourishing among grassroots Christian communities across Asia who witness to their lived faith in public and hidden life Their voices are largely unheard due to the gaps between the academy and the church This volume argues that we should consider their voices as key sources for developing a relevant lived Asian public theology The author makes the case for reimagining the paradigm shifts in lived Asian public theology of religions and for bridging the unhappy gaps between the academic and grassroots voices

The Constellational Novel Louis Klee, 2025-08-05 A constellational novel is a novel that has an associative essayistic digressive and densely patterned prose form The Constellational Novel aims to shed light on the field of contemporary literature by offering a definitive theory of the constellational novel These novels are recognizable by the presence of a first person narrator committed to drawing affinities and making connections among disparate things Beginning with Marcel Proust Klee's argument focuses on novels published over roughly the last two decades between 2001 and 2020 by writers such as W G Sebald Lisa Robertson Teju Cole Jacqueline Rose and Olga Tokarczuk Strikingly it is often assumed that the attunement of their narrators to an unfolding web of potential interconnections holds an ethical promise of new ways of relating to oneself others and the world Klee considers this implication of ethics and associative form to be peculiar and in some important respects unprecedented in the history of the novel How is recognizing connections between things ethical exactly Could it not simply be the working of a resourceful or possibly even deranged intelligence one that obsessively sees patterns everywhere Why should the value of literature hinge on such an idiosyncratic process And what does finding affinities have to do with the more familiar categories of novelistic form like character and narrative Taking inspiration from the work of Walter Benjamin this book analyzes the distinctive ethics of affinity offered by these novels and thus seeks to clarify one of the most intriguing and consequential developments in the contemporary novel

Reading Confederate Monuments Maria Seger, 2022-08-24 Winner of a 2023 Edited Collection Award from the South Atlantic Modern Language Association Contributions by Danielle Christmas Joanna Davis McElligatt Garrett Bridger Gilmore Spencer R Herrera Cassandra Jackson Stacie McCormick Maria Seger Randi Lynn Tanglen Brook Thomas Michael C Weisenburg and Lisa Woolfork Reading Confederate Monuments addresses the urgent and vital need for scholars educators and the general public to be able to read and interpret the literal and cultural Confederate monuments pervading life in the contemporary United States The literary and cultural studies scholars featured in this collection engage many different archives and methods demonstrating how to read literal Confederate monuments as texts and in the context of the assortment of literatures that produced and celebrated them They further explore how to read the literary texts advancing and contesting Confederate ideology in the US cultural imaginary then and now as monuments in and of themselves On top of that the essays published here lay bare the cultural and pedagogical work of Confederate monuments and counter monuments divulging how and what they teach their readers as communal and yet contested narratives thereby showing why the persistence of Confederate monuments matters greatly to local and national notions of racial justice and belonging In doing so this collection illustrates what critics of US literature and culture can offer to ongoing scholarly and public discussions about Confederate monuments and memory Even as we remove relocate and recontextualize the physical symbols of the Confederacy dotting the US landscape the complicated histories cultural products and pedagogies of Confederate ideology remain embedded in the national consciousness To disrupt and potentially dismantle these enduring narratives alongside the statues themselves we must be able to recognize analyze and resist them in US life The pieces in this collection position us to think deeply about how and why we should continue that work

A Traditionalist History of the Great War, Book II Alexander Wolfheze, 2021-01-27 This book analyzes the world of 1914 by combining the approaches of traditionalist hermeneutics and 20th century geopolitics The juxtaposition of these two frameworks incorporated in the principles of Sacred Geography and Sea Power allows for a Traditionalist perspective on the choices facing the Ten Great Powers on the eve of the Great War The book's multifaceted approach follows the iconoclastic culture critique method of the Traditional School that was developed by Ren Gu non Frithjof Schuon and Julius Evola it shows the pre war world as essentially different from the post war world Thus the Ten Great Power protagonists of the Great War may be understood on their own terms rather than through a backward projection of politically correct values on the existentially different human life world of 1914 Dislodging the historical materialist progress premise that underpins contemporary academic historiography this book reasserts the highest claim of the Art of History meta narrative meaning

The Way to Life Thomas Guthrie, 1876      At Eventide. Discourses Nehemiah Adams, 1878      THE PARABLES OF THE LORD JESUS CHRIST John Sandbek, 2018-06-12 The parables of Jesus should not be studied as individual homilies or proverbs but instead as a series of prophetic installments wherein each parable reveals an aspect of his coming millennial kingdom The focus of all his parables was the kingdom and encompassed four areas of revelation Jesus was sent by his Father to reveal to man eternal truths to redeem the lost sheep of the house of Israel to expound on the prophets and the Law and to preach of the gospel of the Kingdom With these four anointings Jesus assumed the three offices of Prophet Priest and King and used parables to conceal his message from those who would not listen or sought to destroy his ministry As Prophet he foretold of events imminent to his time and the destruction of Jerusalem He became our High Priest to redeem his people and instruct them in righteousness As King his parables reveal to us the grandeur of his coming kingdom heretofore kept secret from man and set the metrics for ruling and reigning with him The Parables of the Lord Jesus Christ Prophet Priest King examines Jesus's parabolic teaching from these three ordinations and how each relates to Christ's future kingdom Each parable is placed in context with surrounding events and the customs of the day and its imagery and symbolism explained using Scripture to deduce and interpret its meaning

The Christian state of life Franz Hunolt, 1886      Persons, Powers, and Pluralities Eric G. Flett, 2011-04-14 Through an intimate conversation with the writings of Thomas F Torrance Flett articulates a Trinitarian theology of culture Torrance's work suggests that Christian assumptions in the areas of God creation and humanity had an important influence upon the development of Western scientific culture This book develops each of these areas of Torrance's thought in order to articulate a theology of culture rooted in a Christian understanding of God as triune creation as contingent and human persons as stewards created in the image of God Drawn together these three areas of Torrance's thought suggest that human culture and cultural plurality ultimately originate in the creative action of a triune God mediated through the creative activity of the human creature as it engages a contingent created order in its attempts to foster human flourishing and to bear embodied witness to its Creator. The result is not only a unique contribution to the emerging secondary material on Torrance's work but also a contribution to the field of theology of culture as a systematic locus in its own right.
