Redefining Linguistics:

Redefining Linguistics (RLE Linguistics A: General Linguistics) Hayley G. Davis, Talbot J. Taylor, 2014-02-03 The academic discipline of linguistics is at a critical stage of development Whatever consensus there may have been fifteen or even ten years ago is fast disappearing A process of redefinition is underway and it is the aim of this volume to contribute to that process explain why a redefinition is needed and how it should proceed In the case of linguistics the subject is also the subject matter Many linguists have ignored the problem of definition simply regarding linguistics as the science of language itself What though is language itself Is it a language ie English Swahili Or language in a more general sense The primary goal of a redefinition of linguistics should be to demonstrate that language is not an objective matter Linguistics is and should be the study of whatever is linguistically pertinent A linguistics redefined would look at how we interpret and construct our day to day communication acts what views of language are shared by and opposed by societies and the source and roles that these views play in our living and learning experience These papers argue the case for such a redefinition more explicitly than has ever been done before in modern linguistic theory Such a redefined perspective precisely because it is a perspective subject to outside influence and in constant dialogue with the perspective of the other human sciences must be endlessly redefined

Rethinking Linguistics Hayley G. Davis, Talbot J. Taylor, 2003-09-02 Rethinks the aims and methods of contemporary linguistics Uses integrationist theory to exemplify how language users become language makers

The Reflexivity of Language and Linguistic Inquiry Dorte Duncker, 2018-11-09 This book explores the reflexivity of language both from the perspective of the lay speaker and the linguistic analyst Linguistic inquiry is conditional upon linguistic reflexivity but so is language Without linguistic reflexivity

we would not be able to make sense of everyday linguistic communication and the idea of a language would not be conceivable Not even fundamental notions such as words or meaning would exist Linguistic reflexivity is a feature of the communication process and it essentially depends on situated participants and time It is a defining characteristic of the human language but despite its obvious importance it is not very well understood theoretically and it is strangely under researched empirically Throughout history and in modern linguistics it has mostly either been taken for granted misconstrued or ignored Only integrational linguistics fully recognizes its specifically linguistic implications However integrational linguistics does not provide the necessary methodological basis for investigating linguistic phenomena empirically This catch 22 situation means that the goal of the book is twofold one part is to explore the reflexivity of language theoretically and the other part is to propose an applied integrational linguistics and to implement this proposal in practice
