L. Haas, György Buzsáki, 2012-12-06 This is the second time that I have had the honor of opening an international symposium dedicated to the functions of the hippocampus here in Pécs. It was a pleasure to greet the participants in the hope that their valuable contributions will make this meeting a tradition in this town. As one of the hosts of the symposium I had the sorrowful duty to remind you of the absence of a dear colleague Professor Graham Goddard. His tragic and untimely death represents the irreparable loss of both a friend and an excellent researcher. This symposium is dedicated to his memory. If I compare the topics of the lectures of this symposium with those of the previous one a striking difference becomes apparent. A dominating tendency of the previous symposium was to attempt to define hippocampal function or to offer data relevant to supporting or rejecting existing theoretical positions. No such tendency is reflected in the titles of the present symposium in which most of the contributions deal with hippocampal phenomena at the most elementary level. Electrical, biochemical, biophysical and pharmacological events at the synaptic membrane or intracellular level are analyzed without raising the question of what kind of integral functions these elementary phenomena are a part of. Monthly Bulletin, 1913. *New York Court of Appeals.
