Refashioning Nature:

Refashioning Nature David Goodman, Michael R. Redclift (Soziologe), 1991 Sociology on the Menu Alan Beardsworth, Teresa Keil, 2002-09-11 Sociology on the Menu is an accessible introduction to the sociology of food Highlighting the social and cultural dimensions of the human food system from production to consumption it encourages us to consider new ways of thinking about the apparently mundane everyday act of eating The main areas covered include The origins of human subsistence and the development of the modern food system Food the family and eating out Diet health and the body image The meanings of meat and vegetarianism Sociology on the Menu provides a comprehensive overview of the literature particularly helpful in this interdisciplinary field It focuses on key texts and studies to help students identify major concerns and themes for further study It urges us to re appraise the taken for granted and familiar experiences of selecting preparing and sharing food and to see our own habits and choices preferences and aversions in their broader cultural context

Hague Yearbook of International Law/Annuaire De LA Haye De Droit International 1992 Lammers, A. C. Kiss, 1993-12-01 This is the 5th volume of the Hague Yearbook of International Law which succeeds the Yearbook of the Association of Attenders and Alumni of the Hague Academy of International Law The title Hague Yearbook of International Law reflects the close ties which have always existed between the A A A and the City of The Hague with its international law institutions and indicates the editors intention to devote attention to developments taking place in those international law institutions viz the International Court of Justice the Permanent Court of Arbitration the Iran U S Claims Tribunal and the Hague Conference on Private International Law This volume contains in depth articles on these developments and summaries of aspects of decisions rendered by the International Court of Justice the Permanent Court of Arbitration and the Iran U S Claims Tribunal

Schurman, Dennis D. Kelso, 2003-10-06 Talk of genetically engineered organisms GEOs has moved from the hushed corridors of life science corporations to the front pages of major newspapers This book examines these issues from the diverse perspectives of sociology geography law environmental studies and political science Trading the Genome Bronwyn Parry, 2004-09-29 In a groundbreaking work that draws on anthropology history philosophy business and law Parry links firsthand knowledge of the operation of the bioprospecting industry to a sophisticated analysis of broader economic regulatory and technological transformations to reveal the complex economic and political dynamics that underpin the new global trade in bio information

Sustainability: Sustainability indicators Michael Redclift, 2005 Introducing the reader to sustainability as a concept a contested idea and a political goal this book brings together a range of articles and published papers that have influenced the course of thinking in social science It examines the links between the natural and social sciences as well as the public policies

Common Science? Jean Barr, Lynda Birke, 1998-07-22 The roots of the exclusion and alienation of women and minorities from scientific knowledge may well lie in how science itself is taught While academic feminist critiques of science and science education are important the authors believe that more attention has to be paid to what non academics think and feel about science Here is a starting point for developing a feminist pedagogy around science in the larger community

Public Religion and the Urban Environment Richard Bohannon, 2012-04-26 Nature and the city have most often functioned as opposites within Western culture a dichotomy that has been reinforced and sometimes challenged by religious images Bohannon argues here that cities and natural environments however are both connected and continually affected by one another He shows how such connections become overt during natural disasters which disrupt the narratives people use to make sense of the world including especially religious narratives and make them more visible This book offers both a theoretical exploration of the intersection of the city nature and religion as well as a sociological analysis of the 1997 flood in Grand Forks ND USA This case study shows how religious factors have influenced how the relationship between nature and the city is perceived and in particular have helped to justify the urban control of nature The narratives found in Grand Forks also reveal a broader understanding of the nature of Western cities highlighting the potent and ethically rich intersections between religion cities and nature

Political Economy of Eco-sustainable Alternatives Richard Westra, 2025-08-22 Westra recounts how the unceremonious collapse of Soviet style socialism coupled with mounting awareness of unfolding environmental destruction and irreversible climate change opened the door to a new wide ranging social change literature In this exciting book he begins by tracing out the case for the Anthropocene He then provides an unparalleled inclusive critical exploration of the plurality of progressive designs on offer These include the Green New Deal nowtopias of cooperative solidarity and commoning economies ecofeminism Degrowth society as well as ecosocialism and democratic socialism Westra firstly explains why the Green New Deal program to sustainably develop capitalism is unworkable given the boundedness of resources necessary to generalize the advanced economy way of life it seeks to maintain Secondly while he concurs with much that the new social change literature offers his concern is with the way it abandons a major caution that had been leveled at so called utopian socialists in the past To be sure the problem does not reside with bursts of creative future directed thinking in themselves Rather where difficulties arise is over the paucity of attention devoted to questions of economic coordination and principles of economic viability Westra explains how only by combining several economic principles each operating at a determinate scale and devoted to specific elements of human social and material reproduction will the promise of an equitable eco sustainable human future be realized This unique volume will be of interest to academic specialists and students of political economy economics environmental sustainability sociology and political science Progressive policymakers and social activists will also find its arguments refreshing and compelling

Modern Environmentalism David Pepper,1996 An introduction to the history of ideas about nature and environment and how these ideas relate to modern environmental ideologies The Anthropocene and the Global Environmental Crisis Clive Hamilton,François Gemenne,Christophe Bonneuil,2015-05-15 The Anthropocene in which humankind has become a geological force is a major scientific proposal but it also means that the conceptions of the natural and social worlds on which sociology political science history law economics and philosophy rest are called into question The Anthropocene and the Global Environmental Crisis captures some of the radical new thinking prompted by the arrival of the Anthropocene and opens up the social sciences and humanities to the profound meaning of the new geological epoch the Age of Humans Drawing on the expertise of world recognised scholars and thought provoking intellectuals the book explores the challenges and difficult questions posed by the convergence of geological and human history to the foundational ideas of modern social science If in the Anthropocene humans have become a force of nature changing the functioning of the Earth system as volcanism and glacial cycles do then it means the end of the idea of nature as no more than the inert backdrop to the drama of human affairs It means the end of the social only understanding of human history and agency These pillars of modernity are now destabilised The scale and pace of the shifts occurring on Earth are beyond human experience and expose the anachronisms of Holocene thinking The book explores what kinds of narratives are emerging around the scientific idea of the new geological epoch and what it means for the politics of unsustainability The Sustainability of Rural Systems I.R. Bowler,C.R. Bryant,C. Cocklin,2013-06-29 Economy society and environment comprise the three main dimensions of sustainable development but too often they are considered separately This book by comparison examines the interaction of the three dimensions in the context of rural systems embracing a wide range of topics including globalisation and reregulation in sustainable food production conservation and sustainability the development of sustainable rural communities and sustainable rural urban interaction An international team of geographers drawn from the International Geographical Union s Commission on The Sustainability of Rural Systems summarises the basis of unsustainable rural development in these topics the remedial policies being pursued and their own evaluations of the policies Rather than deal just with generalisations their analyses are illustrated by detailed case studies drawn from a variety of rural systems in both developed and developing countries
