1800-1910 Sacvan Bercovitch, Cyrus R. K. Patell, 1994 This is the first complete narrative history of nineteenth century American poetry Barbara Packer explores the neoclassical and satiric forms mastered by the early Federalist poets the creative reaches of once celebrated and still compelling poets like Longfellow and Whittier the distinctive lyric forms developed by Emerson and the Transcendentalists Shira Wolosky provides a new perspective on the achievement of female poets of the period as well as a close appreciation of African American poets including the collective folk authors of the Negro spirituals She also illuminates the major works of the period from Poe through Melville and Crane to Whitman and Dickinson The authors of this volume discuss this extraordinary literary achievement both in formal terms and in its sustained engagement with changing social and cultural conditions In doing so they recover and elucidate American poetry of the nineteenth century for our twenty first century pleasure profit and renewed study *The Prose Workd of Mrs. Ellis: The poetry of life. Pictures of private life (first and second series) A voice from the vintage Sarah Stickney Ellis, 1844 Early Romanticism and Religious Dissent Daniel E. White, 2007-01-25 Religious diversity and ferment characterize the period that gave rise to Romanticism in England It is generally known that many individuals who contributed to the new literatures of the late eighteenth century came from Dissenting backgrounds but we nonetheless often underestimate the full significance of nonconformist beliefs and practices during this period Daniel White provides a clear and useful introduction to Dissenting communities focusing on Anna Barbauld and her familial network of heterodox liberal Dissenters whose religious literary educational political and economic activities shaped the public culture of early Romanticism in England He goes on to analyze the roles of nonconformity within the lives and writings of William Godwin Mary Wollstonecraft Samuel Taylor Coleridge and Robert Southey offering a Dissenting genealogy of the Romantic movement The Poetry of Victorian Scientists Daniel Brown, 2013-01-31 A surprising number of Victorian scientists wrote poetry Many came to science as children through such games as the spinning top soap bubbles and mathematical puzzles and this playfulness carried through to both their professional work and writing of lyrical and satirical verse This is the first study of an oddly neglected body of work that offers a unique record of the nature and cultures of Victorian science Such figures as the physicist James Clerk Maxwell toy with ideas of nonsense as through their poetry they strive to delineate the boundaries of the new professional science and discover the nature of scientific creativity Also considering Edward Lear Daniel Brown finds the Victorian renaissances in research science and nonsense literature to be curiously interrelated Whereas science and literature studies have mostly focused upon canonical literary figures this original and important book conversely explores the uses literature was put to by eminent Victorian scientists American Journal of Photography
