The Buried Mirror Carlos Fuentes, 1999 An exploration of Spanish culture in Spain and the Americas traces the social political and economic forces that created that culture A Silver Web Christopher Eden, 2008 Spain in America Richard L. Kagan, 2002 Setting aside the pastiche of bullfighters and flamenco dancers that has dominated the U S image of Spain for more than a century this innovative volume uncovers the roots of Spanish studies to explain why the diversity vitality and complexity of Spanish history and culture have been reduced in U S accounts to the equivalent of a tourist brochure Spurred by the complex colonial relations between the United States and Spain the new field of Spanish studies offered a way for the young country to reflect a positive image of itself as a democracy in contrast with perceived Spanish intolerance and closure Spain in America investigates the political and historical forces behind this duality surveying the work of the major nineteenth century U S Hispanists in the fields of history art history literature and music A distinguished panel of contributors offers fresh examinations of the role of U S writers especially Washington Irving and Henry Wadsworth Longfellow in crafting a wildly romantic vision of Spain They examine the views of such scholars as William H Prescott and George Ticknor who contrasted the failure of Spanish history with U S exceptionalism Other essays explore how U S interests in Latin America consistently colored its vision of Spain and how musicology in the United States dominated by German migr s relegated Spanish music to little more than a footnote Also included are profiles of the philanthropist Archer Mitchell Huntington and the pioneering art historians Georgiana Goddard King and Arthur Kingsley Porter who spearheaded U S interest in the architecture and sculpture of medieval Spain Providing a much needed look at the development and history of Hispanism Spain in America opens the way toward confronting and modifying reductive views of Spain that are frozen in another time The Hamburg Lectures on Maritime Affairs 2011-2013 Jürgen Basedow, Ulrich Magnus, Rüdiger Wolfrum, 2014-09-29 In 2007 the International Max Planck Research School for Maritime Affairs together with the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea ITLOS both based in Hamburg decided to establish an annual lecture series the Hamburg Lectures on Maritime Affairs giving distinguished scholars and practitioners the opportunity to present and discuss recent developments in this field The present volume the third in the series collects the lectures held between 2011 and 2013 inter alia by Andrew Dickinson Yvonne Marie Dutton Bevan Marten Andreas Maurer Irini Papanicolopulu aslav Pejovic Juan L Pulido Andr s Recalde Castells Thomas J Schoenbaum and R diger Wolfrum Emma Goldman Kathy E. Ferguson, 2011-04-16 Emma Goldman has often been read for her colorful life story her lively if troubled sex life and her wide ranging political activism Few have taken her seriously as a political thinker even though in her lifetime she was a vigorous public intellectual within a global network of progressive politics Engaging Goldman as a political thinker allows us to rethink the common dualism between theory and practice scrutinize stereotypes of anarchism by placing Goldman within a fuller historical context recognize the remarkable contributions of anarchism in creating public life and open up contemporary

Reflections of Spain Robert L. Shalkop, 1968 Empire of Liberty Robert W. Tucker, David C. Hendrickson, 1992-04-30 Empire of Liberty takes a new look at the public life thought and ambiguous legacy of one of America's most revered statesmen offering new insight into the meaning of Jefferson in the American experience. This work examines Jefferson's legacy for American foreign policy in the light of several critical themes which continue to be highly significant today: the struggle between isolationists and interventionists; the historic ambivalence over the nation's role as a crusader for liberty and the relationship between democracy and peace. Written by two distinguished scholars, this book provides invaluable insight into the classic ideas of American diplomacy.

Reflections: 50 Years of Medieval Archaeology, 1957-2007: No. 30 Roberta Gilchrist, Andrew Reynolds, 2018-12-13. This volume celebrates the 50th anniversary of the Society for Medieval Archaeology established in 1957, presenting reflections on the history, development and future prospects of the discipline. The papers are drawn from a series of conferences and workshops that took place in 2007-08, in addition to a number of contributions that were commissioned especially for the volume. They range from personal commentaries on the history of the Society and the growth of the subject (see papers by David Wilson and Rosemary Cramp) to historiographical, regional and thematic overviews of major trends in the evolution and current practice of medieval archaeology. All the publications are fully refereed with the aim of publishing at the highest academic level reports on sites of national and international importance and of encouraging the widest debate. The series objectives are to cover the broadest chronological and geographical range and to assemble a series of volumes which reflect the changing intellectual and technical scope of the discipline.

The Alternative Nick Romeo, 2024-01-16. Winners Take All meets Nickel and Dimed in this provocative debunking of accepted wisdom providing the pathway to a sustainable, survivable economy. Confronted by the terrifying trends of the early twenty-first century: widening inequality, environmental destruction and the immiseration of millions of workers around the world, many economists and business leaders still preach dogmas that lack evidence and create political catastrophe. Private markets are always more efficient than public ones; investment capital flows efficiently to necessary projects; massive inequality is the unavoidable side effect of economic growth; people are selfish and will only behave well with the right incentives. But a growing number of people—academic economists, business owners, policy entrepreneurs and ordinary people—are rejecting these myths and reshaping economies around the world to reflect ethical and social values. Though they differ in approach, all share a vision of the economy as a place of moral action and accountability. Journalist Nick Romeo has spent years covering the world's most innovative economic and policy ideas. For The New Yorker, Romeo takes us on an extraordinary journey through the unforgettable stories and successes of people working to build economies that are more equal, just and livable. Combining original, in-depth reporting with expert analysis, Romeo explores the successful business owners organizing their companies as purpose trusts, as Patagonia recently did to fulfill a higher mission, such as sharing profits with workers or protecting the environment. The growing deployment of new models by venture capital funds to promote wealth creation for the poorest Americans and address climate change. How Oslo's climate budgeting program is achieving the emission reduction targets the rest of the world continues to miss creating a model that will soon be emulated by governments around the world How Portugal strengths democratic culture by letting citizens make crucial budget decisions The way worker ownership and cooperatives foster innovation share wealth and improve the quality of jobs offering an increasingly popular model superior to the traditional corporation The public sector marketplace that offers decent work and real protections to gig workers in California The job guarantee program in southern Austria that offers high quality meaningful jobs to every citizen Many books have exposed what s not working in our current system Romeo reveals something even more essential the structure of a system that could actually work for everyone Margaret Thatcher was wrong there is an alternative This is what it looks like

Cuban Blindness Gustavo C.
