capture assent or compliance to particular world views which have had profound cultural and political consequences Many essays deal with the vocabularies of strategically located elites consciously or unconsciously shaping discourse to enhance their role in the European social hierarchy Others turn to the problem of the dynamics of symbolic reception and reception by popular audiences A third group of thematic essays deals with case studies of world views dominated by political metaphors of group identity and differentiation which became dominant in Western Europe toward the end of the nineteenth century class nation sex age and race The essays in the volume deal with George Mosse and political symbolism the medical model of cultural crisis in fin de siècle France cultural uses of fatigue in the nineteenth century Marburg neo Kantian thought and German popular culture the Ostjude as a cultural symbol in German anti-Semitism the function of myth and symbol in Georges Sorel feminism and eugenics in Edwardian England Darwinism and the working class in Germany science and religion in early modern Europe popular theater and socialism in fin de siècle France political symbolism in the paintings of the German war of liberation generational discourse in pre World War I France and cultural implications of national socialist religion

Including a Symposium on 50 Years of the Union for Radical Political Economics Luca Fiorito, Scott Scheall, Carlos Eduardo Suprinyak, 2019-05-07 Volume 37A of Research in the History of Economic Thought and Methodology features a symposium celebrating 50 years of the Union of Radical Political Economics and includes an archival contribution from the papers of Alvin Hansen reflecting on the influence and contributions of John R Commons Radical Theology and Emerging Christianity Katharine Sarah Moody, 2016-03-03 The theological turn in continental philosophy and the turn to Paul in political philosophy have occasioned a return to radical theology a tradition whose philosophical heritage can be traced to the death of God announced in the work of Nietzsche and Hegel John D Caputo's deconstructive theology and Slavoj Žižek's materialist theology are two radical theologies that explore what it might mean to pass through the death of God and to abandon this experience as specifically Christian Radical Theology and Emerging Christianity demonstrates how these theologies are transforming everyday religious practices through an examination of the work of Peter Rollins and Kester Brewin two figures at the radical margins of a contemporary expression of Western religiosity called emerging Christianity The author uses her analysis of all four figures to argue that deconstructive practices can enable religious communities to become part of a wider materialist collective in which the death of God continues to resonate Pushing the methodological boundaries of philosophy of religion by examining religious practices as the site of philosophical signification the book challenges scholars and practitioners alike to a new and more demanding dialogue between theory and practice

Scholarship has traditionally characterized elegy as a Eurocentric tradition a genealogy spanning from ancient Greek pastoral poems via the English elegy to English and Anglo American Modernist contemporary poets Perry examines how these genealogical constructions operate as a means of framing which guides interpretation This book argues that they reflect a necropoetics a system of principles precepts and techniques which serve to establish and maintain ideas about whose lives are worthy of being mourned publicly and whose losses matter Examining elegies that challenge questions of whose deaths may be grieved elegies which articulate the various ways in which certain lives are made precarious and disposable and elegies which interrogate colonial violence structures of white power militarized forms of policing prison industrial and military industrial complexes Perry explores possibilities for radical new ways of understanding elegy beyond established genealogical frames This study retheorizes some basic terms of analysis of contemporary US poetry and poetics critical race and ethnic studies racial capitalism and contemporary theories of comparative and relational racialization
