Sorensen,2011-06-09 Roy Sorensen here defends the causal theory of perception by treating absences as causes He draws heavily on common sense and psychology to vindicate the assumption that we directly perceive absences Evolution in the Dark Naoyuki Fuse,Tasuku Kitamura,Takashi Haramura,Kentaro Arikawa,Michio Imafuku,2013-09-12 How organisms come to possess adaptive traits is a fundamental question for evolutionary biology Although it is almost impossible to demonstrate evolution in the laboratory this issue can be approached by using an unusual organism Dark fly Drosophila melanogaster kept in complete darkness for 57 years through 1 400 generations which corresponds to 28 000 years in terms of human generations Has Dark fly adapted to an environment of total darkness If so what is the molecular nature of the adaptation In Evolution in the Dark the remarkable findings from the Dark fly project performed at Kyoto University are presented It was found that Dark fly did not have poor eyesight but rather exhibited higher phototaxis ability and displayed lengthened bristles on the head that function as tactile receptors Circadian rhythms were weakened but still retained in Dark fly With recent progress in genome science enabling researchers to perform whole genome sequencing for Dark fly a large number of mutations were identified including genes encoding a light receptor olfactory receptors and enzymes involved in neural development The Dark fly project is a simple but very long term experiment Combined with advanced techniques in genetics and genomics it is a valuable tool for understanding the molecular nature of adaptive evolution Modern painters John Ruskin,1894 Youtopia. a Passion for the Dark Dagmar Reinhardt,2012 Youtopia A Passion for the Dark celebrates architecture at the intersection of Digital Processes and Theatrical Performance Youtopia pursues dreams of other spaces and times of outrageous and fascinating experiences of the glamour and lights of the Sydney Festival The book reviews design conversations between architectural practice architectural theory audio and acoustics digital fabrication interaction and mediation structural engineering theatre and performance studies and cultural research It parallels an exhibition that showcases ephemeral and captivating interactive landscapes theatre installations iconographic architectural objects heterotopias and performative spaces These speculative projects are developed by advanced design processes in 3D modelling and scripting environments and by the production of prototypes through structural analysis and digital fabrication Edited by Dagmar Reinhardt with interviews and essays by Dirk Anderson Eduardo Barata Joseph Buch Densil Cabrera Bill Harris Lindy Hume Alexander Jung Sandra Kaji O Grady William L Martens Luis Miranda Patrick Nolan Harry Partridge Dagmar Reinhardt Chris L Smith Michael Scott Mitchell and Simon Weir Proceedings of the United States National Museum United States National Museum,1909 Dark Feelings, Grim Thoughts Robert C. Solomon,2006-07-27 In the same spirit as his most recent book Living With Nietzsche and his earlier study In the Spirit of Hegel Robert Solomon turns to the existential thinkers Albert Camus and Jean Paul Sartre in an attempt to get past the academic and political debates and focus on what is truly interesting and valuable about their philosophies Solomon makes the case that despite their very different responses to the political questions of their day Camus and Sartre were both fundamentally moralists and their philosophies cannot be understood apart from their deep ethical commitments He focuses on Sartre's early pre 1950 work and on Camus's best known novels The Stranger The Plague and The Fall Throughout Solomon makes the important point that their shared interest in phenomenology was much more important than their supposed affiliation with existentialism Solomon's reappraisal will be of interest to anyone who is still or ever has been fascinated by these eccentric but monumental figures
