Reform Through Community:

Community-based Water Law and Water Resource Management Reform in Developing Countries Mark Giordano, John Butterworth, 2007-01-01 The fifteen chapters of this book analyse the living community based water laws in Africa Latin America and Asia and critically examine the interface between community based water laws formal water laws and a variety of other key institutional ingredients of on going water resources management reform Building Commitment to Reform through Strategic Communication Cecilia Caba ero-Verzosa, Helen R. Garcia, 2009-10-06 Strategic communication is a powerful tool for creating broad based support for reform and change initiatives Much has been written about why communication matters in reform efforts but there is scant material available to help those who manage reforms apply communication concepts and approaches to their own programs and policy reform initiatives Building Commitment to Reform through Strategic Communication attempts to bridge that gap The authors present a pragmatic and systematic approach for reformers ready to use communication strategically to achieve their reform goals The Five Communication Management Decision Tool helps reformers and their teams develop a framework for their communication strategies This decision tool helps managers see change initiatives through the eyes of those who will be affected by the reforms When the decision tool is used in the early stages of the development of change programs reformers gain an even deeper understanding of the stakeholders perspectives on the reforms which influence stakeholder opposition or support for them Such understanding will not only be instructive but possibly transformative for both change agents and those stakeholders whose support is critical to the success of reform Reform agents may recognize the source of stakeholder resistance and be able to revise reform goals and redesign change interventions Stakeholders who have a shared understanding of why the status quo is not acceptable and change is necessary are more likely to create coalitions of committed allies and supporters who will work together to achieve reform goals This workbook illustrates how the decision tool can be used for various types of change and reform initiatives from policy reform to country and donor partnership agreements to sectoral reforms Tested and used in learning interventions across cultures regions and sectors the tool has been used successfully by teams in government nongovernmental organizations the business sector and donor agencies The book will be of great interest to readers working in all of these areas Countering Extremism: Building Social Resilience Through Community Engagement Rohan Gunaratna, Jolene Anne R Jerard, Salim Mohamed Nasir, 2013-03-25 This unique work is the first to address the subject of community engagement strategies in countering extremism and explores the development and research of these strategies In so doing it demystifies the process of community engagement while simultaneously extolling the virtues of the ground breaking strategies to have been effectively employed in Asia the Middle East and the West The book then proceeds to examine the efforts of community engagement made by several countries against their unique operational and geopolitical environments Finally detailed reference is made to the role and work of the media and non government organizations to have conducted effective community engagement efforts With contributions from authors of diverse backgrounds including media the social services security and academia this book will be of interest to both the general public and to researchers Tenure reform and perceived food security in Indonesia: An exploratory study

Non-Territorial Autonomy and Decentralization Tove H. Malloy, Levente Salat, 2020-10-15 This volume describes and analyzes alternative and emerging models of non territorial autonomy NTA particularly in relation to decentralization The authors push the NTA debate in new directions by offering a re conceptualization based on ethno cultural bottom up decentralized action that redefines autonomy into its true sense of autonomous action Through description critical analysis and evaluation of several case studies this book assesses the potential for new paradigms within decentralized systems The authors explore two approaches to political decentralization which add to the theoretical debate on NTA network governance which focuses on new dynamics in policy processes and normative pluralism which focuses on accommodating the distinctness of the groups through the subsidiarity principle with regard to their own affairs The book explores the potential ramifications of ethno cultural NTA institutions acting within the wider framework of state institutions and assesses the functions of these institutions as another dimension of decentralization and thus another layer of democracy With contemporary examples from Europe the Middle East Asia and South Africa as well as theoretical aspects of the conceptualization of autonomy this book offers a truly global perspective It will be of great interest to policy makers in countries experiencing adverse developments due to the pressure on public management as well as advanced students and scholars questioning the ability of the Westphalian system to address cultural diversity House of Commons - Communities and Local Government Committee: Community Budgets - HC 163 Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Communities and Local Government Committee, 2013-10-23 Community Budgets are demonstrating their potential to deliver cheaper more integrated and more effective public services They are at risk however of being replaced after a few years if key issues are not resolved If this opportunity is missed the Committee warns that local services could come under unsustainable pressure in the face of increased demand and reduced budgets This in turn may result in more spending later on judicial and emergency health and welfare interventions The Government should send a clear message that it will assist every local authority wishing to introduce Community Budgets and to set out the specific assistance it will provide them with Furthermore the programme of pilots must not be allowed to slow progress towards wider implementation If they are to succeed public service providers and local authorities must realise investment in Community Budgets will bring them benefits Local authorities their partners and central government should therefore develop a framework for agreements on how the benefits of investment are to be shared On the Troubled Families Programme the Committee is supportive of the work being done but highlights the need for greater focus on how work with these families will continue after the programme ends in 2016 Noting that the resources available have not increased in proportion to the number of families added to the programme in June DCLG needs to monitor carefully progress and provide more resources to local authorities if necessary

Hamas and Civil Society in Gaza Sara Roy, 2013-11-10 A revealing look at Islamic social institutions in Gaza and the West Bank Many in the United States and Israel believe that Hamas is nothing but a terrorist organization and that its social sector serves merely to recruit new supporters for its violent agenda Based on Sara Roy's extensive fieldwork in the Gaza Strip and West Bank during the critical period of the Oslo peace process Hamas and Civil Society in Gaza shows how the social service activities sponsored by the Islamist group emphasized not political violence but rather community development and civic restoration Roy demonstrates how Islamic social institutions in Gaza and the West Bank advocated a moderate approach to change that valued order and stability not disorder and instability were less dogmatically Islamic than is often assumed and served people who had a range of political outlooks and no history of acting collectively in support of radical Islam These institutions attempted to create civic communities not religious congregations They reflected a deep commitment to stimulate a social cultural and moral renewal of the Muslim community one couched not only or even primarily in religious terms Vividly illustrating Hamas's unrecognized potential for moderation accommodation and change Hamas and Civil Society in Gaza also traces critical developments in Hamas's social and political sectors through the Second Intifada to today and offers an assessment of the current more adverse situation in the occupied territories The Oslo period held great promise that has since been squandered This book argues for more enlightened policies by the United States and Israel ones that reflect Hamas's proven record of nonviolent community building
