The Political Economy of Macroeconomic Policy Reform in Latin America Eduardo Wiesner, 2009-01-01 This book is a must read for anyone interested in policy reforms in Latin America The author combines tremendous experience in the field and deep knowledge of economic theory a rare combination Alberto Alesina Harvard University US One of the key contributions of this book is its insistence on the importance of policy institutional and political accountability for evaluating and enhancing macroeconomic performance and for reducing inequality John B Taylor Stanford University and Hoover Institution US Dr Wiesner combines a command of modern political and economic theories and detailed knowledge of Latin America to clarify why reform of policies and institutions has proved so difficult in that region His general conclusion is that initial conditions of inequality and poverty reduce the demand for reform but he finds that the process manifests itself differently in different countries He identifies several necessary conditions for breaking out of these vicious circles Scholars and practitioners alike can learn from his impressively thorough and detailed analysis Avinash K Dixit Princeton University US This book argues insightfully that underdevelopment is the result of the political economy difficulties some countries have in the effectiveness of public expenditures in general and of social pro poor expenditures in particular The policy implication is that reform strategies should focus on identifying the wrong political incentives in public expenditures Ricardo Hausmann Harvard University US Eduardo Wiesner's book makes an important contribution to the understanding of development by blending together the interdependent issues of i macroeconomic performance and volatility ii equity and distributive justice iii fiscal deficits and the redistributive effectiveness of social public expenditures and iv the demand for the right institutions and for policy reform in Latin America It does this by examining recent macroeconomic crises from a political economy perspective and finds that information is the critical algorithm that links together the demand for macroeconomic stability macroeconomic performance and ultimately distributive justice This volume is geared toward those interested in the political economy of development and policy reform in general and in Latin America including academics policy makers and the general reader

The World Bank Group's Response to the Global Economic Crisis World Bank Staff, 2011 The World Bank Group has responded to the global economic crisis with a strong countercyclical expansion of financing Its disbursements of 80 billion in the past two fiscal years were the largest among the Multilateral Development Banks There was notable variation across the WBG with vastly increased IBRD lending moderately higher IDA financing and overall responses from IFC and MIGA that were not counter cyclical The differences reflected the interplay of financial capacities business models and available instruments While the level of financial flows is one aspect of crisis response Evaluating a Decade of World Bank Gender Policy, 1990-99 ,2005-01-01 Annotation As part of the Bank s poverty reduction mandate the Bank s 1994 Operational Policy on Gender Dimensions of Development aimed to reduce gender disparity and increase the participation of women in the economic development of their countries This evaluation examines the relevance and results of this policy An Impact Evaluation of India's Second and Third Andhra Pradesh Irrigation Projects Howard White,2008 The Independent Evaluation Group IEG of the World Bank has undertaken impact evaluations of the Bank s support to irrigation in Andhra Pradesh India under AP Irrigation II and III and of the U K Department for International Development supported Rural Livelihoods Project RLP This is one of a series of IEG impact evaluations see appendix H IEG s program of impact evaluation is in part carried out under a Department for International Development IEG partnership agreement hence the focus on RLP However survey villages are also covered by the Bank supported DPIP project so that the findings are also relevant to this project Retooling Development Aid in the 21st Century Shahrokh Fardoust,Stefan G. Anne Pitcher,2012-05-07 Argues that the interaction of formal institutions and the quality of democracy explain patterns of private sector development across Africa Strategic Reforms for Agricultural Growth in Pakistan Rashid Faruquee,1999

Future prospects for the agricultural sector in Pakistan depend on its ability to increase output and income of producers. Agriculture remains the backbone of the Pakistani economy employing more than half the labor force and accounting for 70 per cent of export revenues. However, agriculture faces two sets of constraints in Pakistan: resource constraints and policy distortions. This volume deals with the major resource and policy constraints currently facing Pakistani agriculture.

Government involvement in Pakistan's agricultural sector has been excessive and often inappropriate, and agricultural reforms are a key part of the adjustment program underway in Pakistan. Some of the principal goals of the program are to ensure a sound and sustainable macroeconomic framework with sustainable internal and external balances, to liberalize trade, to privatize government-owned enterprises, to deregulate and eliminate public sector monopolies, and to reform the financial sector. The agricultural sector can contribute to the Pakistani economy and to the adjustment program. Agriculture has the potential to make a larger contribution to total revenue and plays an important role in external balances. A favorable climate gives Pakistan a strong comparative advantage in horticulture, as indicated by the rapid growth of the subsector in the absence of policy interventions.

Country Assistance Evaluation Retrospective World Bank, Kyle Peters, 2005-01-01. This report is a self-evaluation of the Operations Evaluation Department's OED Country Assistance Evaluations (CAEs). CAEs examine World Bank performance in a particular country usually over the past four to five years and report on its conformity with the relevant Bank Country Assistance Strategy (CAS) and on the overall effectiveness of the specific CAS. This Retrospective addresses the question 'What Have We Learned' by compiling lessons relevant for developing country assistance strategies from the most recent batch of CAEs. Second, it assesses revisions to the CAE process.

Development Aid George Mavrotas, Mark McGillivray, 2009-01-15. This book addresses several gaps in knowledge of aid allocation and effectiveness and provides new analytical insights. World Bank Assistance to Agriculture in Sub-Saharan Africa, 2007-01-01. Sub-Saharan Africa is a critical development priority; it has some of the world's poorest countries, and during the past two decades the number of poor in the Region has doubled to 300 million, more than 40 percent of the Region's population. Africa remains behind on most of the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) and is unlikely to reach them by 2015. With some of the world's poorest countries, Africa is a development priority for the donor community. A major drag on Africa's development is the underperformance of the critical agriculture sector, which has been neglected both by donors and governments over the past two decades. The sector faces a variety of constraints that are particular to agriculture in Africa and make its development a complex challenge. Poor governance and conflict in several countries further complicate matters. IEG has assessed the development effectiveness of World Bank assistance in addressing constraints to agricultural development in Africa over the period of fiscal 1991-2006.
