Revolutionary Theology In The Making Bar:

James H. Cone and Black Liberation Theology Burrow, 2001-01-01 Since Cone's Black Theology and Black Power was first published in 1969 he has been recognized as one of the most creative contemporary black theologians. Roundly criticized by white theologians, the book and Cone's subsequent writings nevertheless gave voice and viability to the developing black theological movement of the late 1960s. Despite his influence on the African American religious community, scholars have written very little about his works in part because of the sharp rhetoric and polemics of his first two books. Discussed here are some of his major writings from his first essay Christianity and Black Power 1968 through the major work Martin Malcolm America 1991. The systematic development of his themes social and economic analysis black sexism relations between black feminist and so called third world theologies etc is fully explained.

Religion at Ground Zero Christopher Craig Brittain, 2011-07-14 The world will never be the same. How many times have human beings uttered this cry after a tragic event. This book analyzes how such emotive reactions impact on the way religion is understood, exploring theological responses to human tragedy and cultural shock by focusing on reactions to the terrorist attacks of 9/11 and 7/7, the two World Wars and the Holocaust, the 2004 South East Asian tsunami, Hurricane Katrina and the 2010 earthquake in Haiti. It discusses themes such as the theodicy question, the function of religious discourse in the face of tragedy and the relationship between religion and politics. The book explores the tension between religion's capacity to both cause and enhance the suffering and destruction surrounding historical tragedies but also its potential to serve as a powerful resource for responding to such disasters. Analyzing this dialectic, it engages with the work of Slavoj Žižek, Karl Barth, Theodor Adorno, Emil Fackenheim and Rowan Williams, examining the role of belief, difficulties of overcoming the influence of ideology and the significance of trust and humility.

The Silent Revolution and the Making of Victorian England Herbert Schlossberg, 2000 Schlossberg, senior research associate, the Ethics and Public Policy Center, argues that by the time Victoria became queen in 1837 Victorian culture was already in place. Focusing on the period between the 1790s and the 1840s, he shows how the religious revival that took hold of England's culture constituted a silent revolution that formed the basis of Victorian culture. He describes various manifestations of the religious revival, focusing on the main renewal movements in the Church of England and the spread of evangelicalism to dissenting religious groups. Liberation Theology in Chicana/o Literature Alma Rosa Alvarez, 2007-11-21 Liberation Theology in Chicana/o Literature looks at the ways in which Chicana/o authors who have experienced cultural disconnection or marginalization because of their gender, politics and sexual orientation attempt to forge a connection back to Chicana/o culture through their use of liberation theology.

Baby, You are My Religion Marie Cartier, 2014-09-11 Baby You Are My Religion argues that American butch femme bar culture of the mid 20th Century should be interpreted as a sacred space for its community Before

Stonewall when homosexuals were still deemed mentally ill these bars were the only place where many could have any community at all Baby You are My Religion explores this community as a site of a lived corporeal theology and political space It reveals that religious institutions such as the Metropolitan Community Church were founded in such bars that traditional and non traditional religious activities took place there and that religious ceremonies such as marriage were often conducted within the bars by staff Baby You are My Religion examines how these bars became not only ecclesiastical sites but also provided the fertile ground for the birth of the struggle for gay and lesbian civil rights before Stonewall
