The Works SYDNEY SMITH,1840

Effacing the Self Marc De Kesel,2023-08-01 In spirituality and mysticism many seek a counterbalance to the strong emphasis on the self that modernity demands of us We desire a fixed self on the one hand and are fascinated by selflessness on the other But is our fascination with selflessness not a ruse to make that self of ours even stronger And is that self-critical question not the kernel of even traditional mysticism Marc De Kesel investigates some dark rooms of the mystical tradition to clarify this This is a book for all who want to free themselves from the conceptual frameworks and rigid dogmas of late modern religiosity The first part of the volume deals directly with early modern Christian mysticism and more specifically with the French spirituality and discussions centered around the problem of what it means to love God in a pure radically unselfish way The second part explores the paradoxical dialectics between self and selflessness in relation to the way Christian religion deals with its own identity If Christian love is selfless why has Christianity in the end not given up its own self its own identity The third and last part of the volume discusses the dialectics between self and selflessness in three other domains popular spirituality politics and modern science It makes clear that selflessness is not limited to mysticism but is both a fascination and a problem paradox for modernity in many fields

The Old French William of Tyre Philip D. Handyside,2015-01-27 William of Tyre's history of the Kingdom of Jerusalem has long been viewed as one of the most useful sources for the Crusades and the Latin East from the beginnings of the First Crusade to William's death shortly before Saladin's conquest of Jerusalem However this text was most popular during the medieval period in an Old French translation In The Old French of William of Tyre Philip Handyside identifies the differences between the Latin and French texts and analyses the translator motives for producing the translation and highlights significant changes that may provide a better understanding of the period in question Handyside also argues for a complex manuscript tradition that developed across the medieval Mediterranean

Girls in French and Francophone Literature and Film

Daniela Di Cecco, 2015-06-24 Girls in French and Francophone Literature and Film is a collection of essays focusing on constructions of girlhood in French and Francophone Literature and Film from the late Nineteenth to the early Twenty First centuries The volume is firmly anchored at the intersection of French and Francophone studies and the burgeoning field of girls studies Collectively the articles demonstrate that girls experience historically viewed as a mere deviation from the normative male model is a product of diverse ideological cultural and economic factors and is deserving of its own field of inquiry

Karel Appel, a gesture of colour

Jean-François Lyotard, 2009 Karel Appel A gesture of colour is the first of a series of five volumes bringing together the most important writings of Jean Fran ois Lyotard 1924 1998 on contemporary art and artists The book he devoted to the art of Karel Appel 1921 2006 is without doubt one of the most complete and inspired texts of all the writing included in the series Neither the original French manuscript nor the English translation has ever been published before and their presentation face to face should constitute a considerable plus In this book Lyotard presents Karel Appel s matterism as an offer of presence presence deferred it is the visual where every predicate is suspended the visual touched gesture of colour more than property of colour appearance at the edge of the abyss Christine Buci Glucksmann s epilogue situates Karel Appel A gesture of colour within the whole of Lyotard s writings on art and his subsequent work P 4 of cover
