Rimbaud's Theatre of the Self James R. Lawler, 1992 In a new interpretation of a poet who has swayed the course of modern poetry in France and elsewhere James Lawler focuses on what he demonstrates is the crux of Rimbaud's imagination the masks and adopted personas with which he regularly tested his identity and his art A drama emerges in Lawler's urbane and resourceful reading The thinking feeling acting Drunken Boat is an early theatrical projection of the poet's self the Inventor the Memorialist and the Ing nu assume distinct roles in his later verse It is however in Illuminations and Une Saison en enfer that Rimbaud enacts most powerfully his grandiose dreams Here the poet becomes Self Creator Self Critic Self Ironist he takes the parts of Floodmaker Oriental Storyteller Dreamer Lover and he recounts his descent into Hell in the guise of a Confessor In delineating and exploring the poet's theatre of the self Lawler shows us the tragic lucidity and the dramatic coherence of Rimbaud's work Bulletin Western Reserve University, 1900 The Hebrew University Studies in Literature, 1976 Intolerance Lise Noël, 1994-04-21 Since the sixteenth century intolerance has been defined primarily as the undue condemnation of an opinion or behaviour Liberation movements of the 1960s extended the notion of intolerance to the dimension of identity the oppression of another human being on the basis of what that person is No 1 argues that comparative analysis of the relationships of domination must therefore focus on all six parameters She analyses these parameters from the perspective of discourse the social production of meaning and finds that the discourse of intolerance validates the most brutal forms of oppression intolerance is the theory and domination and oppression are the practice She finds common patterns from one parameter to another and also from one country to another including Canada the United States Great Britain and France No 1 attempts to demystify the dominant discourse and to pick apart the logic of the dynamics which intolerance engenders She reveals the shared and distinguishing features of dominated groups examines the nature of relations between dominated groups and the Left and challenges the validity of using concepts such as difference to defend the rights of the oppressed Awarded the Governor General's Award for Non Fiction French in 1989 Intolerance serves as both a practical guide and a theoretical work for activists and those who help define the discourse Rimbaud's
