Annual Report Virginia. Secretary of the Commonwealth, 1903 Black Labor in Richmond, 1865-1890 Peter J. Rachleff, 1984 The best study yet written about the ex slave as urban wage earner It is essential reading for students of Afro American and working class history Herbert Gutman This book shows that black and white workers could act together and that a working class reform movement at least in one southern city could challenge the existing status quo Rachleff presents an interesting story of social economic and political intrigue in a post Civil War urban environment where class was pitted against class and race against race C K McFarland Journal of Southern History Alabama Insurance Report, 1923

The Emancipation Circuit Thulani Davis, 2022-04-01 In The Emancipation Circuit Thulani Davis provides a sweeping rethinking of Reconstruction by tracing how the four million people newly freed from bondage created political organizations and connections that mobilized communities across the South Drawing on the practices of community they developed while enslaved freedpeople built new settlements and created a network of circuits through which they imagined enacted and defended freedom This interdisciplinary history shows that these circuits linked rural and urban organizations labor struggles and political culture with news strategies education and mutual aid Mapping the emancipation circuits Davis shows the geography of ideas of freedom circulating on shipping routes via army maneuvers and with itinerant activists that became the basis for the first mass Black political movement for equal citizenship in the United States In this work she reconfigures understandings of the evolution of southern Black political agendas while outlining the origins of the enduring Black freedom struggle from the Jim Crow era to the present The Spectator Insurance Year Book, 1925 Annual
