creation of a sophisticated insurance industry to redistribute the risks entailed in foreign commerce a privately constructed safety net for international transactions Haufler believes that the network of relationships and institutions established by the insurers constituted a privately led regime for the management of international risk She analyzes political risks insurance during three periods of substantial uncertainty the era from the turn of the century to the beginning of World War I when British global power began to wane the interwar years leading up to the collapse of world trade and a second world war and the debt crisis decade of the 1980s Public and private involvement in supplying insurance against international risks has varied depending on demand the availability of resources and the norms of what can be insured As the scale and complexity of risks have expanded Haufler suggests responsibility has shifted from commercial insurers first to the state and now to multilateral institutions
