Handley,Nathaniel Lewis,2007-05-01 In no other region of the United States has the notion of authenticity played such an important yet elusive role as it has in the West Though pervasive in literature popular culture and history assumptions about western authenticity have not received adequate critical attention Given the ongoing economic and social transformations in this vast region the persistent nostalgia and desire for the real authentic West suggest regional and national identities at odds with themselves True West explores the concept of authenticity as it is used to invent test advertise and read the West The fifteen essays collected here apply contemporary critical and cultural theory to western literary history Native American literature and identities the visual West and the imagining of place Ranging geographically from the Canadian Prairies to Buena Park s Entertainment Corridor in Southern California and chronologically from early tourist narratives to contemporary environmental writing True West challenges many assumptions we make about western writing and opens the door to an important new chapter in western literary history and cultural criticism Black-Native Autobiographical Acts Sarita Cannon,2021-06-10 In 2012 an exhibition at the National Museum of the American Indian entitled IndiVisible African Native American Lives in the Americas illuminated the experiences and history of a frequently overlooked multiracial group This book redresses that erasure and contributes to the growing body of scholarship about people of mixed African and Indigenous ancestry in the United States Yoking considerations of authenticity in Life Writing with questions of authenticity in relationship to mixed race subjectivity Cannon analyzes how Black Native Americans navigate narratives of racial and ethnic authenticity through a variety of autobiographical forms Through close readings of scrapbooks by Sylvester Long Lance oral histories from Black Americans formerly enslaved by American Indians the music of Jimi Hendrix photographs of contemporary Black Indians and the performances of former Miss Navajo Radmilla Cody Cannon argues that people who straddle Black and Indigenous identities in the United States unsettle biological political and cultural metrics of racial authenticity The creative ways that Afro Native American people have negotiated questions of belonging authenticity and representation in the past 120 years testify to the empowering possibilities of expanding definitions of autobiography

Re-Placing America Ruth Hsu,Cynthia G. autobiographical reflecting the duality of their identities In Literary Impostors Rosmarin Heidenreich tells the intriguing stories both the true and the fabricated versions of six Canadian authors who obliterated their pasts and re invented themselves Grey Owl was in fact an Englishman named Archie Belaney Will James the cowboy writer from the American West was the Quebec born francophone Ernest Dufault the prairie novelist Frederick Philip Grove turned out to be the German writer and translator Felix Paul Greve Chief Buffalo Child Long Lance Onoto Watanna and Sui Sin Far were the chosen identities of three mixed race writers whose given names were respectively Sylvester Long Winnifred Eaton and Edith Eaton Heidenreich argues that their imposture in some cases not discovered until long after their deaths was not fraudulent in the usual sense these writers forged new identities to become who they felt they really were In an age of proliferating cyber identities and controversial claims to ancestry Literary Impostors raises timely questions involving race migrancy and gender to illustrate the porousness of the line that is often drawn between an author s biography and the fiction he or she produces
