Clandestine Marriage in England, 1500-1850 R. B. Outhwaite,1995-01-01 While marriages were supposed to be celebrated publicly by priests in churches where the parties were known many couples had reasons among them parental disapproval religious nonconformity property considerations and previous entanglements to marry in other ways Clandestine marriage had represented a problem to the church and state and to the rights of property since the middle ages eluding a variety of attempts to control it By the eighteenth century it had become a scandal with Fleet parsons marrying thousands of couples a year In 1753 Lord Hardwicke s Marriage Act nullified such irregular marriages only to drive couples to seek other forms of privacy down to and beyond the introduction of civil marriage in 1836 In this intriguing book Brian Outhwaite explores the nature and scale of clandestine marriage He describes why it attracted so many customers and why it was so hard to suppress Scribner's Monthly Josiah Gilbert Holland,Richard Watson Gilder,1878 A Cultural History of Climate Change Tom Bristow,Thomas H. Ford,2016-04-20 Charting innovative directions in the environmental humanities this book examines the cultural history of climate change under three broad headings history writing and politics Climate change compels us to rethink many of our traditional means of historical understanding and demands new ways of relating human knowledge action and representations to the dimensions of geological and evolutionary time To address these challenges this book positions our present moment of climatic knowledge within much longer histories of climatic experience Only in light of these histories it argues can we properly understand what climate means today across an array of discursive domains from politics literature and law to neighbourly conversation Its chapters identify turning points and experiments in the construction of climates and of atmospheres of sensation They examine how contemporary ecological thought has repoliticised the representation of nature and detail vital aspects of the history and prehistory of our climatic modernity This ground breaking text will be of great interest to researchers and postgraduate students in environmental history environmental governance history of ideas and science literature and eco criticism political theory cultural theory as well as all general readers interested in climate change Statutory Rules and Orders Other Than Those of a Local, Personal, Or Temporary Character Great Britain,1904 Henry James's Psychology of Experience Granville H. Jones,2019-01-29 No detailed description available for Henry James s Psychology of Experience The Ladies of Llangollen Fiona Brideoake,2017-04-06 The Ladies of Llangollen is the first book length critical study of Lady Eleanor Butler and Miss Sarah Ponsonby whose 1778 elopement and five decades of retirement turned them into eighteenth century celebrities and pivotal figures in the historiography of female same sex desire Debates within the history of sexuality have long foundered over questions of what constitutes proof of past sexual desires and practices and the nature of Butler and Ponsonby s intimacy has been deemed inimical to productive critical consideration In this ground breaking study Fiona Brideoake attends to the archive of their shared life written performed and enacted in the vernacular of the everyday to argue that they embodied an early iteration of female celebrity in which their queerness registered less as the mark of some specified non normativity than as the effect of their very public very visible resistance to sexual legibility Throughout their lives and afterlives Butler and Ponsonby have been figured as chaste romantic friends prototypical lesbians Bluestockings Romantic domestic archetypes and proleptically feminist modernists The Ladies of Langollen demonstrates that this heterogeneous legacy discloses the queerness of their performatively instantiated identities
