Metcalf,2009-09-08 This volume of Princeton Readings in Religions brings together the work of more than thirty scholars of Islam and Muslim societies in South Asia to create a rich anthology of primary texts that contributes to a new appreciation of the lived religious and cultural experiences of the world's largest population of Muslims. The thirty-four selections translated from Arabic, Persian, Urdu, Bengali, Tamil, Gujarati, Hindavi, Dakhani and other languages highlight a wide variety of genres many rarely found in standard accounts of Islamic practice from oral narratives to elite guidance manuals from devotional songs to secular judicial decisions arbitrating Islamic law and from political posters to a discussion among college women affiliated with an Islamist organization. Drawn from premodern texts, modern pamphlets, government and organizational archives, new media and contemporary fieldwork, the selections reflect the rich diversity of Islamic belief and practice in South Asia. Each reading is introduced with a brief contextual note from its scholar translator and Barbara Metcalf introduces the whole volume with a substantial historical overview.

A Story of Perfume Lidia Mihaela Necula, 2025-08-01 Scent is an ephemeral yet deeply evocative presence, an invisible force shaping memory, identity and artistic expression. This is a groundbreaking interdisciplinary volume that redefines the role of olfaction in cultural and intellectual discourse. Moving beyond conventional analyses, this collection explores the historical, poetic and philosophical dimensions of fragrance, tracing its influence on literature, anthropology, psychology and marketing. Structured into five interwoven sections, the volume examines how scent functions as a literary motif, a marker of personal and collective transformation and a dynamic agent in the construction of social and aesthetic meaning. From the metaphorical power of fragrance in classical texts to its contemporary implications in branding and sensory design, the contributors offer a nuanced exploration of olfactory culture across time and space. By bringing together scholars from multiple disciplines, this volume positions scent as a crucial element of human experience, shedding new light on its presence in artistic creation, identity formation and cultural narratives. This volume is an invaluable resource for those interested in sensory studies, literature, cultural history and the ever-evolving dialogue between perception and storytelling.
