Everyone wishes to live a life that is satisfying and fulfilling in which there is achievement and pleasure and which has the respect of people one in turn respects. And one of the fundamentals to living such a life is to reflect on the choices we make. In this new collection A.C. Grayling invites the reader into a conversation with ideas. From personal questions about happiness and quality of life to wider public concerns such as war and democracy, these essays provide a springboard to thought and to exploring what is best about the human heart and mind.

The Small Heart of Things Julian Hoffman, 2013 In The Small Heart of Things Julian Hoffman intimately examines the myriad ways in which connections to the natural world can be deepened through an equality of perception whether it's a caterpillar carrying its house of leaves, transhumant shepherds ranging high mountain pastures, a quail taking cover on an empty steppe, or a Turkmen family emigrating from Afghanistan to Istanbul. The narrative spans the common and often contested ground that supports human and natural communities alike seeking the unsung stories that sustain us. Guided by the belief of Rainer Maria Rilke that everything beckons us to perceive it, Hoffman explores the area around the Prespa Lakes, the first transboundary park in the Balkans shared by Greece, Albania, and the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia. From there he travels widely to regions rarely written about, exploring the idea that home is wherever we happen to be if we accord that place our close and patient attention. The Small Heart of Things is a book about looking and listening. It incorporates travel and natural history writing that interweaves human stories with those of wild creatures. Distinguished by Hoffman's belief that through awareness, curiosity, and openness we have the potential to forge abiding relationships with a range of places, it illuminates how these many connections can teach us to be at home in the world.

The Heart of What Matters Anthony Cunningham,2001-09-11 The Heart of What Matters shows that literature has a powerful and unique role to play in understanding life s deepest ethical problems Anthony Cunningham provides a rigorous critique of Kantian ethics which has enjoyed a preeminent place in moral philosophy in the United States arguing that it does not do justice to the reality of our lives He demonstrates how fine literature can play an important role in honing our capacity to see clearly and choose wisely as he develops a moral philosophy that engages with our intimate emotional concerns Written in an accessible style and drawing from a provocative body of contemporary literature this book shows how moral philosophy can reach a far wider audience than it has In part one of this book Cunningham sketches out the theoretical basis for a redefined conception of moral philosophy In part two he engages in extended analyses of novels that address significant life and character issues specifically Kazuo Ishiguro s The Remains of the Day Toni Morrison s Beloved and Zora Neale Hurston s Their Eyes Were Watching God and Seraph on the Suwanee Cunningham shows exactly how works like these can inform moral philosophy Drawing from film history psychology and other social sciences in addition to literature this book adds to the growing number of works that use literature for ethical analysis and to the growing controversy over Kantian ethics
