Thank You, Pakistan Sylvia Pandit, 2019-12-10

Yes I want to thank Pakistan for being so brutal with us since its birth in 1947 until the birth of Bangladesh in 1971 If Pakistan then West Pakistan hadn't been so brutal and unfair the history of our country Bangladesh then East Pakistan and the world would have been quite different We would not have Bongobondhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman our Father of the Nation The world would not have observed February 21st as International Mother Language Day Liberation War of 1971 would not have occurred no Independence Day Victory Day or a new country Bangladesh We also would not have so many Bengali poets writers and leaders Our music is so sweet we would have lost that too If Pakistan had not attempted to forcefully replace our mother tongue Bangla Bengali with Urdu things might have been very different Their atrocities against our language culture people and freedom made us love our language and country much more It made us loving Nazrul Geeti Rabindra Sangeet Lalon Geeti Hason Rajar Gaan and all other Bengali literal music songs and folklores even more Pakistan did not succeed in making us forget or abandon such beautiful melodies songs and poetries but made us love them even more Pakistan unintentionally helped us love our country Bangladesh more love our language Bangla more love our culture and heritage more and that made me thankful to Pakistan

Becoming Two in Love Roland J. De Vries,2013-07-25 This book draws Soren Kierkegaard and Luce Irigaray into conversation on the nature and ethics of sexual difference While these two initially seem like doubtful dialogue partners the conversation between them yields a rich and compelling account of intersubjectivity between man and woman an account that moves beyond the limited and tired debate over egalitarianism vs complementarianism Through engagement with Irigaray and Kierkegaard this book develops a constructive theological ethics of sexual difference that focuses on an epistemological and subjective gap that sets man and woman at a decisive distance from each other They are a mystery to each other Yet it is also an ethical framework that allows woman and man to encounter one another in ways that respect the independence subjectivity and becoming of each Above all this is a theological ethics of sexual difference that centers on Jesus Christ who is defined as the middle term in every relationship and whose love command defines the encounter between man and woman in difference
