Low-salt Cookery Sallie Morris, 1986 The People You Meet Melissa Rodway, 2025-04-03 In 2010 at the age of 35 I had the opportunity to leave my life in Toronto Ontario Canada behind for a few months to travel around Southeast Asia and China with my British boyfriend Thanks to his work in the luxury travel industry the trip was to be part budget backpacker and part luxury with many free nights spent at posh hotels designed for the upper crust As one who grew up with the Holiday Inn setting the bar on accommodations and then being a cheap and cheerful adult backpacker luxury was far from my typical mode of travel

Truthfully it was a foreign concept but I was willing to give it a go After a few weeks my mind became restless and I turned my attention to writing long novella like emails to friends and family about everything I was experiencing In the years since I have revisited these emails numerous times I finally decided to turn them into a book The People You Meet is a story about travel but more importantly it is a story about the people you meet on the road and the impact of these temporary but powerful in the moment relationships There is also a complicated love story happening subtly in the background about two people connected by travel and adventure Take whatever it is you need from this book be it the inspiration for more adventures the comfort of knowing we are all built differently that reinforcement to listen to your gut or just the pleasure of being entertained by someone else s journey Enjoy Overland Caryn Green,2018-05 Winner of the 2018 National Indie Excellence Award in New Adult Non Fiction A passage to another time and place recalling laughter love and life lessons learned traveling solo across Asia in the 1970s The Green Light of Sunset John Bell,2000 In the winter of 1994 John Bell spent four months travelling throughout Southeast Asia exploring the exotic beauty of Thailand Malaysia Singapore and the Indonesian islands of Sumatra Java and Bali Leaving behind him his home his marriage and his work Bell took the journey alone as a time to set a new course for his life The Green Light of Sunset is his record of this journey Heartstrings Across Horizons Sve Publishing,2024-08-14 Heartstrings Across Horizons is a captivating tale of love betrayal and self discovery set against the vibrant backdrop of Southeast Asia After a devastating betrayal by her best friend and boyfriend during what was meant to be a dream vacation in Thailand Samantha s world is turned upside down Determined to heal and find herself she embarks on a solo journey to Vietnam There the bustling streets of Hanoi and the serene beauty of Halong Bay offer her a chance at a fresh start As Samantha travels through Asia she finds herself entangled in a love triangle that challenges her heart and mind She meets Liam an adventurous Australian expat who rekindles her sense of adventure and Minh a soulful local artist who connects her to the rich cultural heritage of Vietnam Torn between these two men Samantha s journey becomes one of self discovery as she navigates the trials and tribulations of love and the quest for her true self Follow Samantha as she experiences the highs and lows of romance friendship and personal growth in this richly drawn story of resilience and the search for true love Heartstrings Across Horizons is perfect for readers who enjoy romance travel and stories of finding oneself in the face of life s challenges Hot Sour Salty Sweet Jeffrey Alford,Naomi Duguid,2000-10-07 Luminous at dawn and dusk the Mekong is a river road a vibrant artery that defines a vast and fascinating region Here along the world s tenth largest river which rises in Tibet and joins the sea in Vietnam traditions mingle and exquisite food prevails Award winning authors Jeffrey Alford and Naomi Duguid followed the river south as it flows through the mountain gorges of southern China to Burma and into Laos and Thailand For a while the right bank of the river is in Thailand but then it becomes solely Lao on its way to Cambodia Only after three thousand miles does it finally enter Vietnam and then the South China Sea It was during their travels that Alford and Duguid who ate traditional foods in villages and small towns and learned techniques and ingredients from cooks and market vendors came to realize that the local cuisines like those of the Mediterranean share a distinctive culinary approach. Each cuisine balances with grace and style the regional flavor quartet of hot, sour, salty, and sweet. This book aptly titled is the result of their journeys. Like Alford and Duguid's two previous works, Flatbreads and Flavors, a certifiable publishing event, Vogue and Seductions of Rice is simply stunning. The New York Times says this book is a glorious combination of travel and taste, presenting enticing recipes in an odyssey rich in travel anecdote. National Geographic Traveler says the book's more than 175 recipes for spicy salsas, welcoming soups, grilled meat, salads, and exotic desserts are accompanied by evocative stories about places and people. The recipes and stories are gorgeously illustrated throughout with more than 150 full-color food and travel photographs. In each chapter, from Salsas to Street Foods, Noodles to Desserts, dishes from different cuisines within the region appear side by side. A hearty Lao chicken soup is next to a Vietnamese ginger chicken soup; a Thai vegetable stir fry comes after spicy stir-fried potatoes from southwest China. The book invites a flexible approach to cooking and eating; for dishes from different places can be happily served and eaten together. Thai Grilled Chicken with Hot and Sweet Dipping Sauce pairs beautifully with Vietnamese Green Papaya Salad, and Lao sticky rice. North Americans have come to love Southeast Asian food for its bright, fresh flavors. But beyond the dishes themselves, one of the most attractive aspects of Southeast Asian food is the life that surrounds it. In Southeast Asia, people eat for joy. The palate is wildly eclectic, proudly unrestrained. In Hot, Sour, Salty, Sweet, at last, this great culinary region is celebrated with all the passion, color, and life that it deserves.
